Fine Imposed In Oak Hill Dog Case

Henry S. Larkin of Dedham st., Oak Hill was fined $10 by Judge Murray of Milford in the Newton court last Saturday for disobeying a written order from Chief of Police Hughes regarding the restraining of vicious St. Bernard dogs which Larkin had at his property. Recently the dogs had attacked and bitten several persons, including Mrs. Henry S. Cummings, an employee of the Edison company and children of Dr. Palmer Roberts. Patrolmen Taffe and Hoyt had verbally warned Larkin several times to restrain the dogs and when he ignored their orders, then Chief Hughes sent Larkin a written order which was also ignored. Larkin was summoned into the Newton court a couple of weeks ago, but raised a technical objection to being tried at that time because a mistake had been made in his middle initial on the complaint. He demanded a hearing on the issuance of another complaint.

The hearing was held before Judge Murray last Saturday. After hearing the evidence Judge Murray stated there was no doubt but that Larkin's dogs were vicious and that he had disobeyed the restraining orders. He then ordered the complaint issued. Larkin, acting as his own attorney, raised the peculiar point that anything which happened before November 22nd should not be permitted as evidence, and the judge ruled against this contention. Larkin said he needed the dogs to protect his property because it is isolated. He said one of the dogs is owned by a relative of his, and he informed the court that the dog most complained about had been killed a few days before by an automobile. He said he intends to move to New York. Judge Murray suggested that Larkin send the dogs to New York now. Judge Murray first imposed a suspended sentence of 30 days upon Larkin, and when Larkin appealed, the judge said he would impose the sentence and ordered Larkin held in $200 bail. The judge then changed the sentence to a $10 fine. Larkin also took an appeal from the fine.

Catch Auto Thieves At Nonantum

Two Brighton youths were captured at Nonantum about 1 o'clock Thanksgiving day morning by Motorcycle Officer Dwyer. Word was sent to police headquarters that a car was parked near the Rohmer Wool Scouring Company plant on California st., and Patrolman Dwyer was sent to the place. He observed a car with one light and chased it to the bridge at Benis where he stopped it. In the car were two youths and two girls. Upon examining the number plates on the automobile, Dwyer found another set underneath which showed that the car had been stolen the preceding Tuesday from Sara Egan of Benson st., Brighton. Dwyer placed the two youths under arrest. They were identified as Thomas Tuohy, 21, and John J. Nolan, Jr., 16, both of Brighton. Questioned at police headquarters, they told of having stolen another car, which the police found parked in the yard of Nolan at Brighton. This car had been stolen from Dr. William Breed of 321 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill. The two youths will be tried in the Newton court on December 3.

Another Oak Hill Improvement

Another improvement is being added to the many which the city has made in the Oak Hill district the past few years. Brookline and Dedham sts. are being widened for about 800 feet from the junction of these two streets. The Gray Realty Company which is developing land for home sites in that section has donated the necessary land and the street department is doing the work. The cost to the city will be about $6200.

Mather Replies to Weeks on Forum

Kirtley F. Mather, chairman of the Newton Community Forum has sent a letter to Sinclair Weeks in reply to the letter which Mr. Weeks wrote in criticism of the Forum. The letter had the approval of the Executive Committee of the Community Forum. It is as follows:

Dear Mr. Weeks: I have in hand a copy of your letter dated November 20 addressed to Mr. Kenneth Eldredge in which you explain your reasons for withdrawing your support from the Newton Community Forum, and I want to tell you how much I regret this action on your part. Forums such as ours need the support of citizens such as you. In its attempts to give the citizens of Newton an opportunity to gain insight concerning the many perplexing problems of modern life, the Newton Community Forum consistently upholds the fundamental principles of Americanism. The Forum is a meeting place for debate and discussion. Frequently the management of the Forum presents speakers with whose ideas it is not necessarily in agreement. The speakers are chosen by a representative Program Committee and its choices approved by the large Steering Committee before commitments are made. We would be delighted if you would become an active member of that committee.

The program of the Newton Community Forum is intended to be a well-rounded series of meetings, not a succession of unco-ordinated and unrelated sessions. It is physically impossible to present all sides of a controversial issue at each meeting of the Forum. On the other hand, the series of eight meetings during any one year makes it possible for us to attempt to realize that highly desirable objective. Most of the people in our audience attend the sessions regularly and are not likely to be unduly swayed by what they hear at any one meeting.

If you will glance at our entire program with that thought in mind, I am sure you will agree that we have given an opportunity for the representatives of the several conflicting philosophies concerning our economic and political structures to present their arguments. We have not invited a speaker to "give the other side of the picture" at the meeting to be addressed by Mr. Arthur Garfield Hays for precisely the same reason and in exactly the spirit as we have not invited anyone to "give the other side of the picture" when Mr. George Sokolsky speaks "In Defense of Capitalism."

This letter is going forward to you with the approval of the Executive Committee of the Newton Community Forum. The members of that committee would be much pleased if, at your convenience, you would meet with them for further consideration of the issue which you have raised.

Cordially yours,
(Signed) KIRTLLEY F. MATHER.

Lochiatto Can't Use Noise Truck

Frederick Lochiatto of Adams st., who has filed nomination papers as a candidate for Mayor thought on Monday that he could use a truck with a loud speaker to boost his campaign. On that day he was given a verbal permit to use the noise truck by Street Commissioner Mahoney, with the proviso that the truck be kept in motion and not be operated after 10 p. m. On Tuesday the Street Commissioner received protests against the use of the sound truck. On Wednesday Lochiatto called at the Street Commissioner's office to ask that the truck be permitted to stop on streets for 3 minute periods. He was told by Mr. Mahoney that because of the protests, the use of the noise truck would not be permitted. A further obstacle to Lochiatto's plan was met when City Solicitor Bartlett on Wednesday ruled that the Street Commissioner has no authority to grant any permit for a noise truck on Newton sts. Such a permit must be granted by the Board of Aldermen and the Mayor.

Charity "Preview" To Benefit Mothers' Rest

Benefit Show At New West Newton Theatre

A holiday event of unusual interest to all residents of Newton is the benefit "Preview" on Wednesday night, December 22, at the new M & P Theatre on Washington st., West Newton. The Mothers' Rest Club of Newton Centre has taken over this new picture house the night before it is opened to the public for a society benefit performance of selected films. The theatre, most modernly equipped and decorated, will be open throughout to inspection and if we desire to keep this country thus, we must assert our rights as individuals and prevent the power from going to the hands of the government. He defined capitalism as "the right of an individual to invest his earnings in any enterprise for the purpose of making more earnings which in turn will go toward augmenting that enterprise and so on."

The committee in charge of tickets includes Mrs. W. Dana Follett, Mrs. Hoyt Weston, Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. Grosvener Calkins, Mrs. George Crossie, Mrs. Joel Barnes. Other committee members are: Mrs. George Willard Smith, Mrs. John Perry, Mrs. Kurt Thoma, Mrs. Benjamin Badenoch, Mrs. Chester Churchill, Mrs. Everett Winslow, Mrs. Stanley Lovell.

Sponsors of this charity event are Mrs. Sinclair Weeks, Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. Donald Rust, Mrs. Melville Liming, Mrs. Winchester Denio, Mrs. Ernest Ally, Mrs. Roy Angerslager, Mrs. Thomas Booth, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Mrs. Donald D. McKay, Mrs. Charles Floyd, Mrs. Kirtley Mather, Mrs. Harry Forte, Mrs. George Pratt.

Colby Opens Hdqts. At Nonantum

Clarence C. Colby, candidate for Mayor, opened headquarters for Nonantum at 302 Watertown st. on Monday. In charge of the office are John J. Timmons and Louis DeRubeis. Timmons was one of Mayor Childs' most ardent workers two years ago and personally visited nearly every residence in Nonantum at that time in Childs' interest.

New Theatre To Open Dec. 23rd

Mr. Martin Mullin of the M. & P. Theatres announced the opening date of December 23rd, for the New Newton Theatre, located in West Newton sq. This latest addition to the vast M. & P. chain of theatres, seating 1300, is ultra modern in design and equipment, air conditioned, and contains every safety feature used in the modern theatre of today. Theatre goers of the Newtons and surrounding territory will be delighted with this new theatre and are asked to watch this paper for future announcements in regard to the theatre policy and bookings. Remember Thursday, December 23rd is the gala opening date at West Newton.

Sold Air Rifle To Boy, Fined $100

Charles Cashman of Lexington st., West Newton, proprietor of a store on Moody st., Waltham, was fined $100 in the Waltham court on Saturday by Judge Crafts for selling an air-rifle to a boy under 16 years of age. The Newtonville boy who bought the rifle was firing it several days later at Cabot Park playground, Newton and a bullet from it entered the left eye of Robert Bell of Waltham st., Newtonville, causing a serious injury to the Bell boy's eye. Cashman appealed. He said that three boys came into his store on the day the air-rifle was sold, and the boy who purchased the rifle stated he was over 16 years of age.

Sokolsky At Newton Forum

George Sokolsky, noted editor, author, and lecturer, spoke before a large audience last Sunday at the Newton High School. Dr. Kirtley Mather, in introducing Mr. Sokolsky pointed out that although no speaker appears with Arthur Garfield Hays to uphold the opposite viewpoint, neither does anyone appear to oppose Mr. Sokolsky. He further stated that the program for each year is carefully filled so that the eight speakers may present over the course of the season, all sides of these economic and political problems.

Mr. Sokolsky, in opening his lecture entitled "In Defense of Capitalism," stated that freedom of speech and true democracy can exist only in a capitalistic regime and if we desire to keep this country thus, we must assert our rights as individuals and prevent the power from going to the hands of the government. He defined capitalism as "the right of an individual to invest his earnings in any enterprise for the purpose of making more earnings which in turn will go toward augmenting that enterprise and so on."

Mr. Sokolsky made the announcement that monopoly cannot exist where there is competition, therefore monopoly is not a characteristic of capitalism and what is more, should monopoly creep in, capitalism would give place to fascism. The competition provoked between the production of two or more commodities tends to raise the standard of living of the whole country. It produces better foods and textiles, and the fact that capitalism does not guarantee protection to individuals has made possible the development of a free political system.

The speaker said that there has been greater progress in the western world in the past 150 years than in any preceding period of a thousand or more years. In 1800 England and the United States were the only countries recognizing human rights, and it was not until 1848 that this freedom extended into central Europe. In 1865 serfdom disappeared entirely from Europe and the emancipation of the slave took place in America. In 1905 and 1911, respectively, Russia and China became democracies. Mr. Sokolsky does not fear that communists will show itself to any extent whatever for he said that as far as he knows "there are only three communists left in Russia: Litvinov, who may be dead, Trotsky who is in Mexico, and Stalin who is running the whole works."

Overexpansion, Mr. Sokolsky said, is an indication of well-being, but between the fat years, there must come lean years. For this reason we must store up a reserve spring the fat years to tide us over the lean. When there is a reserve, if a depression comes, it is sooner over than if there is no reserve. When there is no reserve a protracted period of economic disturbance may be expected.

In a case where the government has control of the means of production and distribution it also controls the citizens and they have no right to interfere. As in Germany today, the state controls the individual and must protect itself against criticism and the protection itself against criticism and the discovery by any individual of any mistakes it may make. If the individual is unfortunate enough to see through the dictator's blunder, he is carefully placed where no one else will hear of it. Mr. Sokolsky believes that France and Czechoslovakia are rapidly verging toward fascism.

In conclusion the speaker said that we may think of the peasant as a more or less free man, working next to the sky and the earth, but as a matter of fact he has as little freedom as any class of workman. It is the factory worker who has the freest life of those among the laboring classes. Capitalism has many problems to overcome among which are the exploitation of the laboring classes and the uneducated as well as the inequality of the classes and the varying degrees of living to which we are subject, but the only way to overcome these things is to pursue our ideals without government restriction.

On December 12 Dr. David Seabury, noted psychologist, author and lecturer, will speak on "How To Worry Successfully."

The meetings of the Newton Community Forum are held at 3:30 on the Sunday afternoon schedule. The doors are opened at 3 o'clock. Some persons have been mistaken in the belief that the meetings commence at 3.

Noted Violinist Guest Artist Of Glee Club

Highland Singers To Give Annual Fall Concert

Vladimir B. Resnikoff, distinguished violin soloist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will appear with the Highland Glee Club of Newton in their Fall Concert, on Tuesday, December 14th, held in the Auditorium of the Newton High School.

Mr. Resnikoff, an artist pupil of the great violinist, Ysaye, before coming to America, toured Europe as soloist with the important orchestras of the Continent.

The Glee Club itself has prepared a most interesting program with songs for all; for those who like their music straight . . . and songs to please the ear of the less musically inclined.

Among the numbers planned for this December 14th concert are Pilgrims' Chorus; Flight (A student song of Finland); River-River (A Chilean Folk Song); Serenade in the Snow; the lovely unison chorus, Jerusalem; and the Song of Silence, whose composer, Moritz Emery will be guest of the Club. By special request, the Club will sing its 1934 Prize Song, Media Vita, or the Battle Hymn of the Monks.

$4000 Fire at Newton Centre

A fire which started in the cellar of the First National Stores at 761 Beacon st., Newton Centre last Sunday caused damage estimated at several thousands of dollars to the building and contents. The fire was discovered at 3:22 by Joseph Solomon, proprietor of the Beacon Drug Company at 765 Beacon st., when smoke commenced to sift into his store. He pulled Box 7 and Chief Randlett summoned Engines 1 and 2 in addition to Engines 3, 4, 7 and 9 which answered the box alarm. The fire was burning extensively in the cellar when the firemen arrived and much smoke damage was caused to stock in adjoining stores. Several lines of hose were laid across Beacon and Summer sts., causing traffic to be detoured for a couple of hours. The fire apparently started in a rubbish barrel in the cellar.

Changes In Newton Fire Department

Lieut. Thomas W. Enegess of Engine 1, Newton was promoted to the rank of Captain by Chief Randlett on Tuesday to succeed Captain Eugene Whiting of Engine 9, Chestnut Hill. Enegess will go to Engine 9 next Sunday. Captain Enegess was born in Newton 54 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Enegess. He joined the department as a call man in 1907, was made a permanent fireman in 1908 and appointed a lieutenant in 1934. Captain Whiting, whom he succeeded, joined the department as a call fireman in 1897, was appointed to the permanent force in 1898, and made a captain in 1905.

Hugh McDonald, hoseman at Engine 1 for 35 years, was retired on November 30 because of physical disability. He had about a year to serve before reaching the age limit of 65. McDonald joined the department as a call man in 1902 and was appointed a permanent fireman in 1917. Joseph P. Walton of Carleton st., Newton was appointed on December 1 a member of the fire department and assigned to Engine 2. He had been serving temporarily since October 25. Walton was elected to the eligible list. Lawrence Clark of 29 Richardson st., Newton has been appointed temporarily to serve at Engine 1. Clark is third on the eligible list.

Finelli Demands Ballot Privilege

John Finelli of Ashmont ave., Newtonville, a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, has taken an appeal from a decision of Chairman Young of the Board of Registrars of Voters of Newton relative to a designation he wished to have placed after his name on ballots at the city election on December 14. A candidate is permitted to have eight words alongside his name on the ballots, telling of any public offices he may hold or has held. Finelli demands that he be allowed to state that he is a member of the Republican Ward Committee of Ward 2, contending that inasmuch as such committee members are voted for at elections, he has a right to give this information. Chairman Harold Young made a ruling that since city elections in Newton are non-partisan, Finelli's contention is wrong.

Finelli asked for a ruling from the full Board and states that if the Board sustains Chairman Young's ruling, he will ask for a writ of mandamus from the Supreme Court of Massachusetts.

Charged With Theft of Auto

Robert Robb of Kendall lane, Natick, was arraigned in the Newton court on last Friday charged with the larceny of an automobile from the Washington Motors of Newton, by salesman Robb. Robb pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until September 10.

Many Candidates For Aldermen at Coming Election

Last Friday was the final day for the filing of nomination papers by candidates who will seek election to the Newton City Government at the election which will be held on Tuesday, December 14. Several filed papers during the last few days preceding the closing date. Some of the candidates are ambitious young men who have never held public office. Others are men who have been unsuccessful candidates in previous elections. One of the interesting fights will be in Ward 3 where former Alderman Guzzi is endeavoring to stage a comeback.

Of the present Board of Aldermen whose terms expire this year, nine are candidates for reelection and five will not seek another term. The Aldermen-at-Large who are candidates for another term include McCabe of Ward 1, Temperley of Ward 5, Goddard of Ward 6, and Rawson of Ward 7. Aldermen Hill of Ward 2, Bowen of Ward 3, and Cronin of Ward 4 are retiring. In Ward 3 Maxwell Gaddis who was elected Ward Alderman last year is a candidate for Alderman-at-Large to succeed Bowen.

There will be contests for twelve of the fourteen aldermanic offices to be filled. Ward Alderman Walker in Ward 5 and Jamieson in Ward 6 have no opponents. In Ward 1 Frank T. McCabe, Alderman-at-Large has an opponent Umberto Colarusso of 15 Centre ave. For Ward Alderman in Ward 1, the present incumbent, Edward A. Fahey of 60 Allison st., has one opponent, Thomas F. Waters of 41 Summit st. In Ward 2 both Alderman-at-Large Hill and Ward Alderman Lyon are retiring from the Board. To succeed Hill are candidates—Albert P. Everts of 114 Kirk stall rd., and John Finelli of 45 Ashmont ave. To succeed Lyon, there are three candidates—Herbert A. Allen of 278 Cabot st., Richard C. Ashenden of 95 Fair Oaks ave., and Daniel Lombard of 424 Newtonville ave.

In Ward 3 Edward J. Martorana of 400 Cherry st. is opposing Maxwell Gaddis for Alderman-at-Large. For Ward Alderman in Ward 3 there are six candidates—Frank S. Dewey, Jr. of 46 Wedgewood rd.; John J. Glynn, 171 Cherry st.; Alfred R. Guzzi, 169 River st.; James M. Manning, 832 Watertown st.; Oliver K. Smith, 371 Waltham st.; Kenneth C. Tiffin, 110 Prospect st. In Ward 4 three candidates will contest for Alderman-at-Large. They are John A. Duane, 216 River st.; Charles E. Hughes, 244 Grove st.; Leonard W. Ricketson, 15 Normandy rd. Opposing Alderman Bacon for Ward Alderman in Ward 4 is Melbourne Hemen, Jr. of 100 Concord st. In Ward 5 John Temperley, candidate for a sixth term as Alderman-at-Large, is being opposed by George W. Cashman of 204 Elliot st. Cashman also opposed Temperley two years ago.

In Ward 6 Gilbert C. Burns of 28 Daniel st. is opposing Paul M. Goddard for Alderman-at-Large. In Ward 7 Paul H. Drake is opposing George E. Rawson for Alderman-at-Large. Mr. Drake has been a candidate several times for various offices, including

SOME DANGER CAN BE ELIMINATED

Another accident in Newtonville square again calls our attention to the need and desirability of the installation of a green arrow for motorists turning left from Washington street onto Walnut street. The through green light now flashes following the pedestrian light and with automobiles turning left across oncoming traffic a pedestrian who is part way across the street is frequently caught between approaching cars. At night the situation is made doubly dangerous by the reflection of headlights making it almost impossible for a motorist to catch sight of an elderly or slow-moving person on foot. Fortunately the accident the other night was not serious, but the time will come when it may perhaps be fatal unless steps are taken to eliminate as far as possible the dangers prevalent at this intersection.

ONLY TEN DAYS OF CAMPAIGNING

With the election coming a week from next Tuesday the time for political campaigning is growing relatively short. There still seems to be but little interest on the part of Newton voters. Contests in practically every ward of the city indicate that the vote may be larger than anticipated. In every election it is the local contests which bring out the vote. A large vote is the only method of obtaining the will of the majority and we trust that Newton citizens will exercise their right of franchise and go to the polls on December 14th.

BY NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

Use Hand Signals

Making a hand signal in traffic requires little brain power and still less physical energy. Yet some drivers don't signal at all. Too preoccupied perhaps, or just too lazy, both physically and mentally—to go to the trouble of signaling. Know the signals practiced in your community and use them when stopping, pulling away from the curb, or turning. After all, the man behind can't read your mind. Signal when necessary—and always give the right signals.

Sunbeam Chats

This was my first Thanksgiving. Why do they call just one day Thanksgiving? Why do folks have to eat so much that day? I was real happy to see so many people (all my relatives mother said). Some of them got real peevish 'cause mother wouldn't let them pick me up. I felt fine all day but after dinner Daddy got a headache, mother was all in, Mary had a toothache and Johnny had a stomach-ache.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Rotary Club

Paul E. Ellicker, principal of the Newton High School and a member of the club was the speaker at the Newton Rotary Club meeting on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. Mr. Ellicker last year was one of a group of educators chosen to make a survey of secondary schools in New England and the eastern United States as part of a national survey by the American Council on Education. Two hundred selected schools in twenty-one states from Maine to Florida were visited in a trip which covered some 15,000 miles of travel.

Part of the work was illustrated by motion pictures which Mr. Ellicker had taken and great differences were noted in the schools. The smallest was attended by thirty-seven pupils and the largest, the DeWitt Clinton High School in New York City by over thirteen thousand boys. Below the Mason and Dixon lines there are schools for both white and negro pupils. In some of the mountain and country districts of the South pupils within a twenty-five to thirty mile radius attend consolidated schools. The moving pictures included interesting scenes of West Point, Vassar, St. Paul Military Academy and closed with views of Newton High School.

Tiffin Is Ward Three Candidate

Urged by a host of friends who know his fitness and ability, Kenneth C. Tiffin of 110 Prospect st., West Newton, has agreed to run for election as Alderman of Ward Three in Newton to succeed Maxwell Goldis who seeks election as Alderman-at-Large.

Young, popular, capable, Kenneth Tiffin is well known in his Ward. From a small New England town Mr. Tiffin came to Boston and made good. Self-supporting since he was 18 years old, he worked his way through college, studied law and at 22 was admitted to the Bar. Now, at 38, he is head of a successful business law firm.

Mr. Tiffin has been a resident of Newton for more than eleven years. During that time he has been active in city and community affairs. He is a charter member of the Newton Taxpayers Association, former Vice-President of the Newton Citizens Association, assistant Club Master of Pack 7-C and in a host of other ways put his shoulder to the wheel in community affairs, along with his fellow neighbors. His intelligence, ability and capacity for accomplishment are widely respected.

O. K. Smith Runs For Alderman

Oliver K. Smith of 371 Waltham st., West Newton, announces his candidacy for Ward Alderman in Ward 3. He states that he has resided in West Newton for 23 years, owns his own home, that his three children were educated in the public schools of Newton, that he has been a member of the Ward 3 Republican committee for 16 years, and has assisted in civic affairs in Newton.

Serious Fire At Newton Centre

A fire at the home of Charles W. Barker, 24 Hazelton rd., Newton Centre, on Wednesday evening caused damage estimated at $8000 and necessitated the detouring of traffic from Commonwealth ave. for nearly two hours. Painters had been working in the house during the day and the fire probably started in oily rags in the cellar. Neighbors had smelled smoke for about an hour and a half before Mrs. Barker returned to her home and discovered the house afire. The blaze had worked up between partitions and under the roof, and the house was filled with dense smoke when the firemen arrived.

Concert At West Newton To Aid Chinese Relief

Under the auspices of the New England Relief for China of which Mr. Karl Compton, president of M. I. T., is chairman, there will be a concert at the Unitarian Church in West Newton on Dec. 12 at 4:30. Mr. Weston, the organist, will have as soloist Miss Alice Mary Anderson of New York.

Miss Anderson has a rare beautiful voice and is leaving in January for a concert tour in Europe. She is the wife of Robert Hufstader, organist and choirmaster at Princeton University and sings under her maiden name.

At this recital a collection will be taken for the cause. Immediately following the concert by the Chinese legation, in the parish house of the church, Mrs. Paul S. Phalen is in charge of arrangements.

Distinguished Service Citation to Roy S. Edwards

One of the only two Citizen's Citations for Distinguished Service in existence in Newton was recently awarded to Roy S. Edwards, by the Newton Post of the American Legion in recognition of the untiring and unselfish service he has rendered to the Post.

ROY S. EDWARDS

At the outset of the World War Mr. Edwards enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, serving in France from August 1914 to September 1919. He was decorated three times and was made Commanding Officer of a German Prisoner's Camp.

Mr. Edwards is a native of New Brunswick, coming to Newton from the war zone in 1919 and became a salesman for the Basley Lumber Co. of Newtonville.

Shortly afterwards he became active in the organization of Canadian Veterans here and served as Commander of the State Organization from 1922 to 1927. He was President of the Canadian Club, of Boston, in 1931 and 1932. He is active as director and treasurer of Canadian Welfare and Charities in Greater Boston. Mr. Edwards is Senior Vice-Commander of the Chaplain William J. Farrell, Chapter No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

Aside from his deep concern for Veterans' Welfare, Mr. Edwards divides his time between the affairs of the Basley Lumber Company as President and Treasurer.

He is an officer in the Lumber Trade Club, of Boston, and the Massachusetts Lumbermen's Association. He served as a member of the Retail Lumber Code Committee during the existence of the N. R. A.

Carley Offers Reward For Naming Oldest Newtonian

Who is the person entitled to be called "one who has known Newton longest?" There is a reward of $5.00 to the discoverer of this person and a Christmas gift of another $5.00 to the person entitled to this title.

The prizes are offered by Doris Carley who is making a study of Newton's history in an effort to get in touch with people who "knew Newton When." To date a mere "child of 61 years is the oldest person now living in Newton who was born in Newton that has been reported. Undoubtedly there are older native Newtonians living within the city. Send the name of such a person with the date and place of birth, the present address and your own name and address to Doris Carley, c/o Carley Realty, 1171 Washington st., West Newton. All nominations must be received at the Carley office not later than Tuesday, Dec. 21st. Winners of the two prizes will be announced in the NEWTON GRAPHIC of Dec. 24th.

The municipal reform convention met at City Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday night and the hall was crowded with spectators. Edwin O. Childs called the convention to order and said we have come together not as Democrats or Republicans, but as citizens who desire economy in the city government. We come here to bring about reform and to place in nomination men pledged to an honest effort to bring about economy. Mr. Childs then called for permanent nominations and Hon. J. F. C. Hyde was elected with applause. Mr. Hyde said the convention reminded him of town meeting days as they did not meet as members of a party but as citizens. No better convention had met in the city for a long time, said Mr. Hyde, as it represented the big taxpayers and all who desire the best interests of the city. No man present had any candidate to favor, but all wanted the best men.

Radio Stars At Central Club Musical Festival

The Central Club of the Central Congregational Church at Newtonville is sponsoring a musical festival to be held in the auditorium of the church on Monday night, December 6, at 8:15. This concert follows the regular monthly supper of the club.

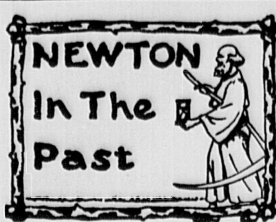

The artists engaged for this entertainment include the well known radio stars: Adrian O'Brien, tenor and leading male singer of the Yankee Network; Donald VanWart, accompanist and soloist of distinction; Mary Barr Snyder, celebrated pianist, and the Puccini Trio composed of Mary Scipione, violinist; Ruth Masters, cellist, and Mary Barr Snyder, pianist and leader.

PARISH PLAYERS

The Parish Players of Newton Highlands will present the second of its series of plays for 1937 and 1938 on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, December 7th and 8th, in St. Paul's Parish House. Those appearing in "Twenty Years Later" by Essex Dane, are Mrs. Henry Skelton, Miss Sheila Skelton, Mrs. Herbert Odell, Mrs. Lloyd Yeager, Mrs. Emery N. Leonard, Mrs. Harlan Riker, Mrs. Roy Booth, Mrs. Clendon Smith, Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. C. S. Perkins. Those taking part in "Not What They Seem," by John Synvaline, are Miss Laura Hathaway, Mr. Edwin Droune Jr., Mr. John L. Allen and Mr. Robert Allingham.

Hit-Run Driver At Chestnut Hill

John McManus, 29, employed at Boston College was hit shortly before 2 o'clock Sunday morning while crossing Commonwealth ave. near Lake st. by an automobile. The driver of the car instead of stopping, stepped on the gas and sped away. McManus was knocked unconscious. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in a police car and treated for injuries to his head and right leg.

Newton Republican, Dec. 4, 1875

The first social meeting of the winter of the Newton Horticultural Society was held in Cole's Hall, Newton, on Wednesday evening. John S. Farlow opened the discussion on "The best method of beautifying and improving the city." The matter of public parks he thought it not advisable to enter into this expense at the present time. He advocated the beautiful arrangement and adornment of the grounds about school houses, churches and private residences, and thought it would be an improvement to throw aside all fences or hedges between estates. Fine lawns are much better. E. D. Winslow thought that poor architectural taste in the location and arrangement of buildings should be corrected and improved. There should be a proper grouping of objects on a place. Public buildings should be of brick. Mr. Ross wants plants around school houses and trees along our streets. There should be a small skating rink and park along the road between Newtonville and Newton Highlands. Gorman Gilman said the taste of the ladies should be taken advantage of in the adornment of our places.

W. P. Tyler speaking on treatment of diseased lawns, said he got fertilizer at Brighton, spread it on his lawn and rolled it down just after a rain. This heads off cut worms. He agreed with Mr. Farlow in doing away with fences between lawns. J. S. Farlow said he prepared his lawns by deep trenching for two years and planting hoed crops. He then seeded with Rhode Island bent, red top and white clover, and his lawn has lasted in good condition for 11 years. W. P. Tyler said that after his lawn had been put in good condition, he used no fertilizer on it, he just cut it every week and left the cuttings on the ground.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Committee was held on Wednesday evening with Mayor Hyde in the chair. Mr. Haddon for the committee from Ward 1 reported that the discipline in the schools in that Ward is excellent, deportment refined, there is a better classification of scholars with increasing numbers. Truancy was nearly eradicated. Scholars in the Ward 1 schools were not prompted unless qualified, neither were they kept back if competent to advance. There was no report from Ward 2. Mr. Wood of Ward 3 reported that the general average of schools there has been higher than usual the past year. The three conditions of success, good accommodations, regular attendance and co-operation between teachers and parents, have been attained. The Franklin School was somewhat demoralized at the beginning of the year because of the attendance by boys older than the law requires, but this has been regulated. Wards 4 and 5 were not prepared to report. Mr. Newell of Ward 6 reported the schools there in good condition and the teachers doing faithful work.

No man present had any candidate to favor, but all wanted the best men.

The convention proceeded to ballot for an alderman from each Ward. Henry E. Cobb nominated Edwin O. Childs from Ward 1, a former city official whose knowledge of city affairs would make him a useful member. Mr. Childs was nominated by a hand vote. Councilman N. H. Chadwick was unanimously chosen from Ward 2. Hon. Charles Robinson nominated Councilman George Dix as alderman from Ward 3. He was chosen unanimously. E. L. Pickard nominated Fred Johnson, the present alderman from Ward 4. He was chosen unanimously. Hon. Willard Marcy nominated Alderman Otis Pettie from Ward 5 and he was chosen unanimously. Chairman Hyde nominated Alderman Ward from Ward 6 and the choice was unanimous. I. T. Burr of Ward 7 said that his delegation could not agree on a candidate; the minority had selected Councilman Tyler, the majority Councilman Kennedy. He favored Councilman Tyler. Thomas Weston said he represented the majority who favored Councilman Kennedy. J. W. Stover said that as the convention could not agree, he would present the name of a third man, Jesse C. Ivy, who is a Democrat and who would be the only Democrat on the Board if elected. This brought shouts of laughter and all pointed at E. O. Childs, the nominee from Ward 1. Mr. Stover apologized to Mr. Childs and said that even two Democrats on the Board would not be a fair proportion. Mr. Tyler received the majority of votes on the ballot. E. B. Haskell nominated John S. Farlow for Mayor and Mr. Farlow was nominated with applause.

Powers' Paragraphs

When Sinclair Weeks was elected for a third term in December 1933 it was the general belief in the city that he would not run for the office again in 1935. It was also generally believed throughout Newton that Edwin O. Childs would once more seek the office of Mayor in 1935. He had developed an intense liking for the office. Obviously, Mr. Childs thought it was the niche in which he fitted. Because of his desire to continue as Mayor over a long period of years, he had turned down offers of public positions, some with life tenure, which would have given him much larger salaries than the $3000 salary he received as Mayor of Newton. During 1934 Mr. Childs at various times gave evidence that he would be a candidate for Mayor at the 1935 election. On Oct. 18, 1934, at a banquet given to Charles A. Mahoney, who had shortly before been appointed Superintendent of Streets by Mayor Weeks, Mr. Childs publicly gave notice that he had expectations of again being Mayor. Speaking at the banquet, the former Mayor lauded Mr. Mahoney, told of having served with him in the service of the city, and commented that he might again be associated with Mr. Mahoney in the city's service.

On January 11, 1935 Mayor Weeks announced he would not be a candidate for Mayor, and at the same time General Daniel Needham announced that he would be a candidate to succeed Mr. Weeks. General Needham stated he had decided to become a candidate because he had been urged to do so by a large number of his fellow citizens. The names of many of these citizens, listed by Wards and precincts, were printed in the newspapers, including the GRAPHIC of January 11, 1935.

As soon as General Needham's candidacy was announced, the writer urged Mr. Childs to announce his candidacy. We knew it had been his practice during the many times he ran for re-election in former years not to announce his candidacy until shortly before the election date, but times had changed. In 1929 Sinclair Weeks had announced his candidacy in May, in 1933 he was equally early in declaring he would run for Mayor, and in both those years carefully organized campaigns for Weeks had been conducted over a period of months. Tom White greatly lessened his chances for victory in 1933 by not starting his campaign until nearly five months after the Weeks forces had organized. And here in the second week in January of 1935 a well organized campaign was being started for General Needham. Mr. Childs agreed with us and in the NEWTON GRAPHIC of January 18, 1935, the following announcement appeared—"In reply to an inquiry made by Edward H. Powers, as Associate Editor of the GRAPHIC relative to whether or not Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs would be a candidate for Mayor at the next city election, Mr. Childs makes the following reply:

January 17, 1935.

Dear Ed:

If the statement that I shall be a candidate for Mayor at the next city election will relieve the suspense of many inquiring friends, I am glad to make it, even at this early date.

Sincerely yours,
EDWIN O. CHILDS."

In the same issue of the GRAPHIC we praised the service of General Needham as a soldier and as Commissioner of Public Safety, but we stated that in our opinion he had not been sufficiently active in Newton affairs to be as well qualified to serve as Mayor as were some other citizens of Newton.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Good Form or Nothing

Never has politeness been carried to so high a point in Newton, a city noted for courteousness, than by a special committee of the Aldermen which has for a long time been studying winter st. conditions. We are respectfully invited to shovel our sidewalks. Of course if otherwise engaged or the subject of fallen snow has no interest for us we may dismiss it. No doubt the Aldermen would apologize for mentioning it. I believe, however, that there will be a wide and enthusiastic, not to say cordial response that will attain an even loftier degree of refinement and good manners. In every village I look for thousands of additional orders for snow shovels, scrapers, picks, etc. Furthermore, if there should be a scarcity of snow householders will doubtless arrange to have quantities imported from colder regions in order to have plenty to clear away.

The Way to Vote

Last week in this column I was critical of the citizen who spurns his civic duty and fails to attend the polls at a municipal election. I meant to add a mild wallop at those who are not cheerful when they cast their ballots but who appear to accept it as a terrible burden. It is a responsibility, of course and should be accepted in an earnest but not necessarily a grouchy spirit. We have in this country, State, county and city the representative form of government and it has been proved by far the best. Let's go through with it, chin up and smiling.

They Can't Help It

It is not difficult to understand why the Federal Postal authorities would like us to mail all Christmas matter early. Anybody with a great task to be performed wants to have it com-

On March 20, 1935, the Needham campaign was actively started, campaign workers were organized and many house rallies were held during succeeding months. On June 7, Alderman Sidney Holden announced that he would be a candidate for Mayor. On October 15 a big, public rally for Needham was held at the Newton Centre Women's Club at which the principal speakers included Mayor Weeks, Abraham Wehber, William F. Garcelon and William J. Doherty. On October 24 the names of the Childs Political Committee were filed at Newton City Hall. The committee included ten men whom Mr. Childs had asked to serve. The writer was one of the ten. Eight of these ten men again comprise Mr. Childs' committee this year. One of these eight, however, seems inconsistent. He has frequently criticized the Mayor for the past 20 months, and within a few weeks told the writer he is opposed to the Mayor politically.

In the GRAPHIC of October 25, 1935, was a letter signed by Mayor Childs in which he said that he wished to dispose of a rumor that Thomas W. White would receive a paid city position provided Childs would be elected. The letter quoted Mr. White as having made the condition when he tendered Mr. Childs his support that "Under no conditions will I accept any position in city service."

In our column "Paragraphs" in the GRAPHIC of November 1, 1935, we advocated the election of Mr. Childs and we wrote "The coming election in Newton will determine whether or not personal popularity or a strong political machine will dominate this city. For some years a political clique named the mayors of Newton and the old Newton Club was a dominant influence. Twenty-two years ago Edwin O. Childs ended the rule of this clique when he was elected. The members of the old Newton Club and the other gentlemen of Newton who selected our mayors a generation ago did not have a political machine. They comprised a large group of citizens, most of whom had no political ambitions, and they were genuinely interested in the welfare of this city. Nevertheless many citizens of Newton at that time resented domination by a comparative few."

Also in our "Paragraphs" in the GRAPHIC in that same issue was the following—"Edwin O. Childs was elected on his personal popularity. He was frequently alluded to during the many years he was Mayor as a practical and expert politician. We used to think there was some truth to this contention. But, we realized that it was and is not so. Mr. Childs never had a real political machine. He never built up fences by creating municipal positions, and he did not even to a reasonable degree reward some of his most loyal supporters by appointing them to city jobs. A practical politician would have done this."

On November 20, 1935, General Needham appeared at the City Clerk's office in City Hall and filed nomination papers which contained 9257 signatures. It was announced that Mr. Needham expected to obtain 15,000 signatures before the closing date for the filing of papers. Many thought Mr. Childs' chances of victory were dubious. The Needham campaign had been organized months before that of Childs, and the General had many more campaign workers than the former Mayor. But Tom White, his associates on the Childs committee, and other friends of Mr. Childs had put in some intensive work during the last few weeks of the campaign. One important factor was pleted as soon as possible, providing they are convinced they cannot dodge it. But people who themselves have plenty to do during December are apt to get a trifle provoked at the "wrap, address and mail early" propaganda. And I don't think anybody should be allowed to become other than good-natured these days. Certainly the Government ought to go slow about stirring public wrath. Now I haven't had opportunity to work out the details but I believe it possible for the P. O. Department, if they must have cards addressed and parcels wrapped the first days of December, to have WPA workers or somebody to do it for us. The idea might be carried further and the same workers do our shopping, too. Maybe the proposal seems grotesque and radical, even for these advancing times, but on the other hand there are a lot of people who just won't hurry for Uncle Sam or anybody else.

You Can't Discourage 'Em

One of those community practices that appears to have survived all change of fashions and to have been handed along from one generation to the next has been the holding of raffles. Betting addicts find them a partial substitute for pari-mutuel racing, that local horse and dog racing have been suspended, but a lot of folks "take a ticket to a raffle" who would scorn all other forms of gambling. I have tried myself to become the owner for 10 or 25 cents, of a camera, sailboat, live turkey, pair of live rabbits, piano, radio (10 times anyway), all sorts of electrical appliances, etc. The nearest I ever came was running on a machine for restoring hair to bald heads, which I couldn't have used (he's boasting now) and half-winner of a sewing machine. But I expect that I shall continue to purchase chances and to get nothing.

Finelli To Run For Alderman

John Finelli of 45 Ashmont ave., Newtonville, will be a candidate for alderman-at-large from Ward 2 at the coming election. He has issued an announcement in which he says—
"Influenced by the large vote that I received four years ago when I ran for the Newton School Committee for Ward 2, I have accepted the challenge to run for election of Alderman-At-Large for Ward 2."
"It is the privilege and duty of every American Citizen to offer his service for a public office, and feeling that I have the qualifications, in that spirit I offer my service to preserve the splendid traditions of our City Government."

Powers' Paragraphs

given attention. Plenty of automobiles were secured for use at the polls on election day, and a sufficiency of volunteer workers obtained for work at the various voting places. At the election in 1933 Mr. White had been handicapped by having far fewer automobiles at his disposal than had Mr.
Weeks, and a much smaller number of workers at the polls.
The election was held on December
10. Personally we expected Mr. Childs to win by a small plurality over Mr.
Needham. He won by a majority which was an agreeable surprise to his supporters. The total vote cast was 26,435, or 80% of the number of registered voters. Mr. Childs received 14, 830 votes and Mr. Needham 10,686.
Jubilant prevailed at Childs' headquarters at Newton Corner and at an impromptu victory meeting in Elks' Hall. A long parade of automobiles started at Nonantum and proceeded through the streets of the city. Noticeable among the hundreds who came to congratulate the Mayor-Elect were some who had strongly opposed him.
A significant feature of the election was the fact that all of the Aldermanic candidates who had supported General Needham, and they comprised a large majority of the Board, were elected to office, with the exception of George Bacon, who was defeated as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4 by Dennis Cronin. The writer was one of the most enthusiastic over the Childs victory.
Next week we shall tell why our enthusiasm waned.

Many Candidates

Mayor and Alderman. For Ward Alderman in Ward 7 the contestants are Theodore R. Lockwood of 74 Elm-hurst rd., and Thomas Sutcliffe of 113 Charlesbank rd.
Three School Committee members are to be elected. To succeed George H. Fernald, Jr. from Ward 3, the candidates are former Alderman Bernard
D. Farrell of 11 Cherry pl., and Ralph
F. Taber of 377 Waltham st. Clark
B. Bristol of 65 Allerton rd. is opposed to succeed Kirtley Mather as committee member from Ward 6.

Joseph F. Wogan of 394 Kenrick st. has no opponent for the office of School Committee member from Ward
7. Mr. Wogan was selected by the School Committee and the Aldermen several months ago to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Marsena Butts.

There will be three candidates for Mayor—Edwin O. Childs, 340 California st.; Clarence C. Colby, 31 Far-low rd.; Frederick Lochiatto, 180 Adams st.

There are 2234 fewer names on the lists of eligible voters than there were a year ago. In 1936 the total was 37,128; this year it is 34,893. Since last December 2775 names were taken off the voting lists, and 540 added.

Open Rally At Citizens Club

The Newton Citizens Club will hold an open rally at Columbus Hall, Watertown, and Adams sts., Nonantum on Friday night, December 10. All candidates for Mayor, Aldermen-at-Large, School Committee and Ward Aldermen in Wards 1 and 2 have been invited to speak and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Oppose Petition For 2-Family House

A petition by Helen W. Hinckley for a permit to convert the single dwelling at 177 Park st., Newton, into a two-family house encountered the opposition of neighbors at a hearing held by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen last night.

Howard L. Rich of 269 Franklin st. submitted a petition signed by seven neighbors, objecting to the application of Mrs. Hinckley. William I. Fearing of 261 Franklin st. also asked that he be recorded as opposing the application.

Rich told the committee that there are other large houses in addition to that of Mrs. Hinckley in the neighborhood and contended that if her application is granted, owners of similar property would ask for the same privilege.

Local Concern Sponsors Duplicate Bridge Tourney

An interesting development in tournament bridge has been inaugurated by the C. G. Howes Company, cleaners and laundresses, in the form of regular Thursday evening Bridge Nights at the Hotel Brunswick under the direction of Frank K. Perkins, a recognized authority on the game. Unlike the ordinary bridge tournament which is open only to members of clubs or limited to players of championship caliber, this unusual tournament is open to the public and is designed particularly to interest and entertain the "average" player. It is a duplicate bridge series and play is started as early as six-thirty o'clock and as late as nine o'clock. Tickets may be obtained free by C. G. Howes customers, while others can play for a nominal sum, which is much less than the cost of the usual tournament participation. Prizes are given each week for the winners of six stable groups and those winning these later play in a winners' section for a larger prize.

Mrs. Mary A. Hunter of 11 Putnam st., West Newton, widow of Frank E. Hunter, died on November 28. She was born in Boston 55 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Burnett. She had resided in this city for 78 years. Mrs. Hunter is survived by four daughters, Mrs. George P. Hatch, Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, Miss Susan B. Hunter and Miss Mary L. Hunter, all of West Newton; and by three grandchildren. Her funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George P. Hatch, 39 Putnam st.; Rev. Boynton Merrill officiated.

DR. HARRY HUNTINGTON POWERS

December 8, 1936

A TRIBUTE

No one who knew Doctor Powers will ever forget that creative and ready personality. He was a born teacher. He knew it, and rejoiced in the gift. He sought knowledge not to possess it, but to impart it. This purpose dominated his life.

Standing with him under the Sistine ceiling or before the fragments of the Parthenon, one listened, then saw. Old civilizations came to life and men again; and always in the background there those currents of life and thought that have made history through the ages. Doors were opened, never to close. The Old World became one's own New World.

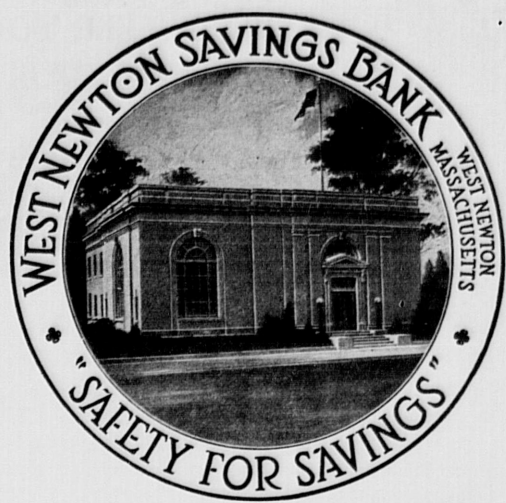

His unique contribution in the field of education remains, no memorial but an embodiment. The Bureau of University Travel is more than the realization of a dream. It is the logical product of a mind acutely sensitive to beauty and truth, rigidly honest, consistently constructive. It grew with its creator's growth.

Notable books came from his pen, some concerning world affairs, more interpreting the art treasures of the past he knew so well. Through them all run the same clear insights, the same vibrant enthusiasms, that characterized his speaking.

In freer hours of intimate companionship, as at no other time, the man revealed himself, the ideals that he sought, the affections that he held, the loyalties to which he clung.

Others painted the picture, carved the statue, erected the temple. He lifted the curtain, and made the blind to see.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Girl Dancers In Ballet Russe

On Tuesday, December 7th, Edmund
Bradley, a former member of Mikhail
Mordkin's Ballet, will bring his Petit Ballet Russe to the Newtonville Woman's Club. He will be assisted by Philip Duden, a concert singer, and by Reginald Boardman, accompanist. Together they present a Ballet of unusual beauty and charm.

Dessert-coffee in the Social Hall will precede the meeting. Mr. Mathew Ruane, well-known florist, will be the speaker of the American Home committee at the December meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Warren K. Brimblecom, 1 Fairfield st., December 8th. His subject will be "Get Ready for Christmas with Evergreens." An attractive feature, Mr. Ruane will illustrate his talk by decorating the home of the hostess, with evergreens.

Pageant of Madonnas

"Famous Paintings of Madonnas," posed by Club members in a gold frame, brilliantly lighted, will be the interesting program of the Newton Community Club to be presented in the Underwood School Hall, on Thursday, December 9th, at 2 p. m.

The program is sponsored by the Community Service committee, and arranged, posed, and costumed by Mrs.
William H. Inman; the story of the paintings will be read by Mrs. George Pratt Maxim. The soloist will be Mrs.
James W. Hopkins, Soprano, and a group of girls from the Vested Choir of Elliot Church, under the direction of Miss Bessie Stratton and Mrs. Wallace Wales. Mrs. Ray A. Eusden will be the accompanist.

The paintings will be posed by Mrs.
Alfred H. Handley, Mrs. George E.
Rawson, Miss Vyriling Rawson, Miss
Barbara Briggs, Mrs. E. P. Leonard, Jr., Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, Mrs. Raymond B. Ladoo, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, Mrs. Stanton Barclay, Mrs. Kenneth B. Backman, Miss Anne Backman, Mrs. Eldred Peterson, Mrs. William E. Earle, Mrs. Bertram Moore,
Mrs. John MacNeil, Mrs. C. Lawrence
Barber, Mrs. Chester F. Smith, Mrs.
Warren C. Merrill, Mrs. David Dale,
Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Mrs. Fred
A. Hawkins, and Mrs. Walter S. Banta.
Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation, will be the guest of the day.

Two Clever Plays For Drama Day

Drama Day, an annual affair which is always awaited eagerly by the members of the Auburndale Woman's Club, will be held on Tuesday afternoon, December 7th, at 2:30 o'clock in the village Club House, under the direction of the Drama chairman, Mrs. John H.
Harding.

Two one-act plays will be presented by special permission of Walter Baker Company, both directed by Mrs. Herman Krueger. The first, "Over the Teacups," by Percival Wilde, is the story of two delightful ladies who have their own rather poignant way of weathering the depression and at the same time retaining their genteel status. The cast includes Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, Mrs. Edward P. Kelly, Mrs. Ralph W. Phipps, and Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury.

The second play, by Babet Hughes, is entitled "The First White Woman," and is a humorous satire on women explorers. How the famous Belle Burlington returns home, resolved to be just herself, and how her life is replanned for her by a group of small-town clubwomen, is the amusing story told in this energetic drama. The several roles will be taken by Mrs. Roy
M. Miller, Mrs. Reginald D. Willis,
Mrs. Eliot U. Wyman, Mrs. Earl D.
Wood, Mrs. Gerard H. Rittenhouse, and Mrs. Floyd H. Couchman.

Mrs. Harding, the chairman of the day, will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Appelt and Mrs. Henry T. Dunker.
Frederic Stearns, a member of the Auburndale Club, will construct the stage settings.

The second monthly meeting of the American Home committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on Monday evening, December 6th, at 8 o'clock in Bragdon Hall, Lasell Junior College.

The guest speaker will be the well-known Dr. Helen McGillicuddy, who will discuss the important question of "Guiding Boy and Girl Relations." All
Club members are invited to attend.
Refreshments will be served at the close of the lecture. Mrs. William W.
Edson is the American Home chairman in charge of the program.

The second informal meeting of the Current Events group of the Auburndale Woman's Club, composed of the Drama, Education, International Relations, Legislative, Literature, and Public Health committees was held last Friday in the village Club House.

In the morning, the International Relations committee, of which Mrs.
Charles E. Valentine is chairman, presented Rev. Carl L. Stocking, from the League of Nations Association, who discussed the various points involved in the question of world peace.

Mr. Stocking, who declared himself an absolute pacifist from the Christian point of view, said that the economic side of peace is looming high at the present moment, and that if we, as a nation, want peace, we must be prepared to pay for it economically.

ron; and Helen Brand's "The Outward Room," by Mrs. Paul H. Tardivel.
The happenings at the recent Boston Book Fair were described by Mrs. Edward P. Kelly, and Mrs. Edwin H.
Dyer reported on the Literature
Round-Table at the Twelfth District Conference held in Waban a short time ago.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the reading of Eugene O'Neill's "Mourning Becomes Electra," with Mrs. John H. Harding, Mrs. El-din V. Lynn, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, Mrs. Ralph W. Phipps, and Mrs. Charles E. Valentine assuming the various speaking parts.

Poet To Read At Guest Day

On December 7th, at 2:30 p. m., the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will celebrate Guest Afternoon in the Congregational Parish House. The speaker in honor of the occasion will be the New England poet, Robert P.
Tristram Coffin, who will read from his poems, and tell what they have meant to him. Mr. Coffin is Pierce Professor of English at Bowdoin College.
He has written many volumes of biography, poetry, and fiction. In 1933 he received the gold medal as national honorary poet. His latest book of verse,
"Saltwater Farm," has gained him great distinction. Each Club member may bring one guest, without fee.
There will be music, and tea will be served.

On Sunday, December 19th, there will be the annual Cretche Exhibit in the Workshop. Tea will be served in the afternoon, and in the evening at 8 o'clock the Junior Woman's Club
Chorus will sing carols.

Various Events And Programs

Juniors to Make Gifts

A box lunch will be an interesting feature of the next meeting of the West Newton Educational Junior Club, which will be held in the Library on Tuesday, December 7th, at 6:30 p. m.
Every girl is to bring a lunch in a shoe-box plainly wrapped, and these boxes will be exchanged as the girls bid them in at 25 cents each, making a pleasurable element of surprise. The program of the evening will be the making of stuffed animals, to be used for Christmas gifts for the children of the Newton Welfare. The members are urged to be present. Each girl in the Club gave money towards a splendid Thanksgiving dinner which three members purchased and delivered, with much happiness.

Perkins Students Guests at Musicales

The next regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Friday, December 10th, at 2 p. m., in the Second Church Parish house. There will be a Musicales by the Haydn Harp Duo, and a Reading by Mrs. Emma S. Bradley. The Club will entertain the students from the Perkins Institute for the Blind on this day.

Home-cooked food will be on sale before and after the meeting, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry F.
Keating.

The Hobby Class of the Educational Club will meet on Tuesday, December 7th, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mr.
Francis McCrudden, 19 Stoneleigh rd.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet in the Parlors of Channing Church on Wednesday, December 8th, at 10 a. m.
Mrs. Warner Eustis will give her paper on "Gateways of the Mediterranean."

The hostesses will be Mrs. C.
C. Smith and Mrs. Irving W. Townsend.

Juniors to Give Christmas Party

The December meeting of the Newton Centre Junior Club will be a Christmas Party for a group of Newton Centre settlement children on Wednesday afternoon, December 15th, from 3:30 to 5 o'clock, at the Club House. Miss Betty Hutchinson, chairman of Community Service, is arranging the Party. The annual giving of a Thanksgiving basket by the Club to some family in Newton also was in charge of Miss Hutchinson. Because of the increase in the membership of the Club this year, only one-half the members were asked to donate food for the basket.

Variety of Lectures

Professor Henry J. Cadbury, of Harvard, will discuss the timely subject
"The Cost of Resisting War" at the International Relations Dinner at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Monday evening, December 6th, at 6:45 o'clock. Reservations should be made at once for the dinner through Mrs.
Lucius E. Thayer, 27 Estabrook rd.,
West Newton, telephone, West Newton 1415. The price for a dinner ticket is 50 cents. Admission for the program at 7:45 o'clock is 25 cents for Club members and 35 cents for others.

During these weeks when the possibility of war, with all of its horrors, is in the back of everyone's mind, the question arises—"Is there any way in which it can be avoided?" This will be an opportunity to hear Prof. Cadbury's thoughtful convictions upon the answer to this problem.

Showing films to illustrate the objectives of the Council, General Daniel Needham, chairman of the Newton Safety Council, will speak at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday morning, December 9th, at 10 o'clock. Chief of Police Michael T.
Hughes will suggest remedial measures for the prevention of accidents.

Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, of the Newton Adult Safety Council, will conduct a question period after the speaking. The meeting, sponsored by the Civic and Legislative committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will be in charge of the chairman, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, assisted by Mrs. David C. Ditmore and Mrs. James B.
Mann. Parents of bicycle-riders and future drivers are particularly urged to attend. The public is cordially invited to this meeting, which is open without charge, and to pledge their support to the effort to make "Newton Safe."

The Education committee of the Club will present Dr. W. Linwood
Chase, headmaster of The Country Day School for Boys, and formerly Professor of Education at Boston University, on Friday morning, December 10th, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Club House, in the second of the series of six lectures on Child Guidance. Tickets for the course may be secured from Mrs. Richard Chamberlain, 220
Jackson st., telephone, Centre Newton
3944V.

Cast for "The Gondoliers"

"The Gondoliers," or "The King of Barataria," the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, will be given at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 10th and 11th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock is dramatic coach and conductor, and Mrs. Reginald L.
Eastman is accompanist. Under the direction of Mrs. John W. Merrill and Mrs. E. A. Andrews, the opera is being produced by the Music and Dramatic committees of the Club. Mrs.
George H. Crosbie and Mrs. Ellis
Spear, Jr., co-chairmen of the Ways and Means committee, are in charge of the program. Mrs. Mark A. Dawson is in charge of publicity. Mrs.
Gustav W. Ulmer is managing director of the orchestra. Mrs. George E.
Squier, chairman of tickets, will have an advance sale of tickets every morning during the week of December 6th, from 10 to 12 o'clock; also before and after the regular Club meeting this afternoon, December 3rd. Tickets are priced at 75 cents and $1.00. Every seat is a reserved seat.

The cast of characters is as follows:
The Duke of Plaza-Toro, F. Nelson
Lane; Luiz (his attendant), Reginald
L. Eastman; Don Alhambra del Bolero (the Grand Inquisitor), Norman Rochester; Marco Palmieri, Leonard

HOOD—WOODRUFF

Miss Virginia Blackall Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heman Judson Pettigill, Jr., of 170 Windsor rd., Waban, was married to James Henry Hood, Jr., of Watertown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Hood, in the First Church in Newton, Newton Centre, at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, Nov. 27. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dwight Bradley who was assisted by Rev. M. Russell Boynton. Ferns and tall lighted candles decorated the chancel of the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess gown of ivory velvet embroidered with seed pearls and her long tulle veil was caught to a Juliet cap of rosepoint lace and her mother's wedding gown, trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Betty Mandell of Toledo, Ohio, who was the maid of honor, wore an Empire style gown of turquoise blue slipper satin, a matching face veil and carried bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. The other attendants were Mrs. Luther Puffer, 3rd, of Winchester, Miss Betty Seddon of Brookline, Mrs. Lee E. Langford of Brighton, Miss Carol Hansen of Auburndale, Mrs. Alling Woodruff of New York, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Jr., of Bridgeport, Conn., Miss Dorothy Whitney of Reading, Pa., and Mrs. Stanley C. Paige of Westerly, R. I. They wore Empire style gowns of bronze colored slipper satin with face veils to match and carried yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Dorothy S. Pettigill of Waban, the flower girl, wore a princess frock of turquoise blue satin and carried a shower bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

William Merrill Hood, brother of the groom, of Watertown, was the best man. The ushers were Stanley C. Paige of Westerly, R. I.; Alling Woodruff of New York, N. David Roberts and James Dill of Montclair, N. J.; Heman J. Pettigill, 3rd; Frank Spain and Kenneth Cady of Waban and William J. Keville, Jr., of Belmont.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Dana Hall School in Wellesley, 1933, and also attended Pine Manor Junior College. The groom attended the Roxbury School in Cheshire in Cheshire, Conn.

SHEEHAN—RANGE

Miss Elsie V. Range of Waltham and North Easton, Mass., was married to John L. Sheehan of Brockton at St. Mary's Rectory in Randolph on Wednesday evening, Dec. 1, at 7 o'clock. Rev. Fr. O'Brien performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a travelling suit of grey trimmed with Persian lamb, and her attendant, Miss Mary E. Hickey of Newtonville, wore green wool crepe with black accessories. Edward J. Carroll of Boston was the best man. A reception was held at the Toll House in Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan will spend the winter in Florida. Mrs. Sheehan is a nurse at the Waltham Baby Hospital and Mr. Sheehan is manager of the Albemarle Golf Club.

McLAUGHLIN—DUNNING

Miss Eleanor Dunning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Westbrook Dunning of 1881 Beacon st., Waban, was married to Edmund McLaughlin, son of Mrs. D. E. McLaughlin of West Newton on Friday afternoon, Nov. 26, at a quiet ceremony performed at the College Club on Commonwealth ave., Boston, in the presence of the two families and a few friends. Rev. Morton Dunning, uncle of the bride, of Wellesley, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was of embroidered white Chinese silk with long sleeves and a long train, and her veil of tulle was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Benjamin Murray Lease, sister of the groom of New York, was the maid of honor. She wore champagne colored satin and a halo hat of the same material with a short veil and carried chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Miss Kathleen Lewis of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Miss Louise Cabot Richardson of Milton, wore gowns of rusty-red satin with matching halos and veils and carried chrysanthemums.

Benjamin Murray Lease, brother-in-law of the groom of New York, was the best man. The ushers were Daniel McLaughlin of West Newton, brother of the groom; John Westbrook Dunning of Waban, brother of the bride; Carl Freeman of Boston and Rudolph Lewis of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The drawing room of the club where the ceremony took place, was decorated with white chrysanthemums and chrysanthemums of varied colors decorated the rooms where the reception took place.

After Dec. 15 Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin will make their home at Harmon-on-the-Hudson, New York.

The bride attended the Choate School and was graduated from Vassar in 1934. She received an M.A. in history from Radcliffe in 1936 and the following year studied at Cambridge University in England and The Sorbonne in Paris. She is at present director of the Social Museum at Vassar College. The groom is a graduate of M. I. T., 1932, and is associated with the Standard Oil Co. of New York.

Christmas Seal Sale

With the Annual Sale of Christmas Health Seals an opportunity is offered to the people to help fight the destructive disease of tuberculosis. Tuberculosis knows no class and has no favorites, but through the knowledge of its prevention and with increased facilities for caring for patients and for preventive work, the sick and death rates from the disease have been tremendously reduced. The sale is of short duration but the work accomplished from the proceeds of the sale continues throughout the year. Buy your seals in Newton to help the Newton tuberculosis program.

Christmas Seals on your letters and packages signify your partnership in this campaign for Health. (Observe the post office regulations that seals must be on the backs of packages. Why not observe the same for letters?) If you have not received your seals through the mail, telephone Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, Centre Newton 3124J, or Mrs. Robert S. Bowen, West Newton 1255, and the seals will be sent you promptly through your local chairman.

NOTICE TO DEALERS

Sealed proposals for the furnishing of school supplies required by the School Department of the City of Newton will be received at the office of the School Committee, Technical Building, Elm Road, Newtonville, Massachusetts, until 2:30 P. M. on December 22, 1937.

Proposals must be plainly marked on envelope "PROPOSAL FOR SUPPLIES".

Proposals must be accompanied by a certified check upon a National Bank or Trust Company doing business in Massachusetts for the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract within six days (Sundays excepted) from the date of the notification of acceptance of proposal.

Proposals made hereunder shall be open for acceptance by the City any time within sixty (60) days of the date of bids.

A surety bond for the faithful performance of the contract in a penal sum equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the accepted bid will be required.

Specifications can be obtained at the office of the School Committee, Technical Building, High School, Elm Road, Newtonville, Massachusetts.

Any alteration or addition to the terms of the specification and form of contract may be considered by the City as a cause for rejection of the bidder's proposal.

Quantities shown on specification are approximate and are used for comparison of bids only. The City reserves the right to increase or decrease the amounts shown, according to need.

Samples of each article upon which prices are quoted must accompany this bid.

Quality and price will be taken into consideration in the awarding of contract and the Department reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids or any part of a bid and to award the contract entirely in the best interests of the City.

A SEALED COPY OF ALL PROPOSALS MUST BE DEPOSITED WITH THE COMPTROLLER OF ACCOUNTS, CITY HALL, NEWTON CENTER, MASSACHUSETTS.

FITZGERALD AND LIMING
TO CO-CAPTAIN '38 TEAM

The Newton High School football team will be led by Co-captains John Fitzgerald and Robert Liming. This was the result of the votes of thirty-four lettermen of the 1937 squad at an election held yesterday afternoon. It is the second time in the history of football at Newton that co-captains have been chosen. Two years ago Al-ison and Bradford Thompson, twin brothers, led the 1935 team.

Fitzgerald made the varsity squad as a reserve halfback in 1936 but had little opportunity for experience. This year he showed early season promise but after a few games was replaced by Tutch Burns. In the Rindge game he began to develop rapidly and in the V-P-H-M and Brookline games was outstanding. His punting is above average and his passing was excellent in the Brookline game but more than in any other phase of the game his ball-carrying improved tremendously. He made a brilliant touchdown run against Waltham and his 150 jaunt against Brookline will never be forgotten by those who witnessed.

Bob Liming had almost no opportunity to play at center last year with Fred Thompson and Donald Forte holding down the berth but he has been a regular starter throughout the past season and improved steadily. Both Liming and Fitzgerald should give Newton two leading school-boy players in 1938.

Skating Permits
Now Being Issued

The season permits for skating at Bulloughs Pond, Crystal Lake and Puffer Cove are now ready for issue in the office of the Playground Department at City Hall, Newton Centre.

The permits issued for the 1936-37 season are valid for the 1937-38 season on account of the few days of skating last year. Any holders of these permits who have lost their buttons should replace them by making application at the office. A slight charge of ten cents will be made for replacement of buttons.

New permits are issued at the usual price of twenty-five cents. These permits which are issued at the cost of twenty-five cents are for Newton citizens only. Out-of-town people may acquire permits at $1.00 each for the season.

FOUR NEWTON PLAYERS ON SUBURBAN ELEVEN

Four of the 1937 Newton High School football team were chosen by opposing coaches of Suburban league teams for the All-Suburban league team published by the Boston Transcript. Guido Castoldi, a 1936 selection, repeated this year in the full-back position. The only other repeater was Steve Levanitis of Rindge Tech who makes the team for the third straight year at left tackle. He is nominated as captain of the mythical eleven.

Ted Duffy at right guard, Ben Mason at right tackle and Ernie Colantonio are the other three Newton players to make the team. With Castoldi they each received two votes (three votes being necessary for a unanimous choice of the four coaches of teams in the league with no coach naming his own players). Duffy shares the guard berth with Gayne of Cambridge Latin, who also received two votes, but the other three Newton players were clear choices. Five of the team selected were unanimous choices with three votes each, Levanitis, Metivier, Ig. both of Rindge; Boudreau of Cambridge Latin at quarterback, Powers of Rindge at one half and High of Brookline at the other half. Others receiving two votes and places on the team Jestremski of Rindge at left end, and Tom White of Brookline and Zullo of Rindge sharing the centre berth. Castoldi's off-day at Brookline probably prevented his selection as a unanimous choice as Coach Brown of the Wealthy Towers named Burns at fullback and Fitzgerald at half along with Boudrea and Powers. The Brookline mentor also named Colantonio and Mason while his vote for guard went to Gayne of the Cantabs.

Coach Sheehan of Cambridge Latin named Bob Klein at end, Duffy at guard, Hines at quarter and Castoldi as his Newton choices. Coach Metivier of Rindge selected Wheldon and Mason as tackles, Duffy as a guard, Colantonio at end, and Fitzgerald and Castoldi in the backfield. Fitzgerald lost out for a place on the team because both High and Powers received three backfield votes.

Castoldi was also named on the Boston Globe's all-scholastic third team with several other Newton players receiving honorable mention. Six of the squad received honorable mention on the Boston Herald eleven.

COACH JOHNSON HAS FEW HOCKEY VETERANS

About one hundred and twenty-five boys reported to Coach Evan Johnson of the Newton High School hockey team this week for conditioning and coordination work on the sidewalk area in front of the old drilled. The Newton hockey mentor has but three lettermen available from last year's squad. This trio is led by Captain-elect Ben Mason, defence player, who was mis-named the league "bad man" in 1936 because of his length of stay in the penalty box. Mason is a rugged defence player and it takes a real skater to get around him in position to slam the puck home for a goal. John Carter and John Barry forwards are lettermen around whom Coach Johnson will try to build a fast forward line. Frankie Smith and Don McLellan are two goalies who had some experience a year ago who will battle for a regular berth.

Early next week a squad of about twenty-five will be taken to the Boston Garden rink for a practice session upon the ice and from then on skating ability will be an essential. Newton's first game will be on December 18th at the Garden when the Greater Boston Interscholastic hockey league gets under way. Foremost among the teams expected to battle for leadership are the two Cambridge elevens, Rindge and Latin, and Melrose with Stoneham, Arlington, Belmont and Medford, along with Newton making every effort to keep in the running.

LARGE SQUAD OUT FOR HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET

Coach Frank Simmons of the Newton High School basketball team has had a squad of more than eighty candidates for the varsity team working out during the past two weeks. Only two lettermen of the 1936 quintet are available for service this year. Captain Eugene Leger seems a fixture at centre with Donald Abbot, a veteran forward leading the field for one of the scoring positions. Coach Simmons plans to make a cut in the large squad the end of this week retaining thirty or thirty-five of the more promising candidates from which to develop a team and necessary reserves to open the season early in January.

Auto Accident In Newtonville Square

Peter Casella, 70, of 1385 Washington st., West Newton, was hit in Newtonville square on Tuesday night by an automobile driven by George H. Tracy of 264 Lowell ave. Tracy was making a slow turn from Washington st. onto Walnut st. when Casella was hit by the front bumper of the car. Casella was bruised on his right leg and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

NOW-LOOK AT LA SALLE!

V-8
CADILLAC MOTOR

FOR LUXURY IN EVERY ESSENTIAL plus VERY ESSENTIAL THRIFT

THE NEW LaSALLE V-8 measurably increases the margin by which LaSalle remains—the world's most economical fine car!

Mark all those words! LaSalle's first cost is easily within reach of many who are driving lesser cars. Its operating economy is on a par with that of cars in the very lowest price fields. But over and above its fine economy—LaSalle is a truly fine car in every respect.

As for style—the smart new lines of LaSalle V-8 are the very embodiment of beauty, luxury, and authentic grace.

As to performance—the road mastery of its smooth, 125-horsepower, Cadillac-built engine is simply unduplicated in any car near it in price.

And as to ease of control—you have never driven with such complete relaxation as you drive with the amazing new Synchronic Gear Shift.

If you want luxury in every essential, plus very essential thrift—the new LaSalle is your only choice. Why not see it—today?

Lieut. Edward Moan Heads New Traffic Bureau of The Newton Police Department

Will Have Charge of Prosecution of Violators Of Automobile Laws

The establishment of a Traffic Bureau in the Newton Police Department went into effect on Saturday when Chief Hughes announced that Lieut. Edward A. Moan had been appointed head of the new division. Moan has been one of the two lieutenants in charge of police headquarters on the night shifts, and if he is regularly assigned to the traffic bureau, another lieutenant will have to be appointed to perform the duties which Moan has been performing. Several months ago the Newton Chapter of the Massachusetts Safety Council recommended that a traffic bureau be established in the Newton Police Department for the purpose of investigating automobile accidents in this city, prosecuting offenders, and keeping a record of traffic accidents. The Safety Chapter expressed the belief that the traffic bureau would result in more efficient results in lessening automobile accidents in Newton, and would eliminate the necessity of many policemen losing time and sleep in coming to court to testify against autoists who are violators of automobile laws, or who are allegedly responsible for automobile accidents. The Safety Council recommended that a police sergeant be assigned to head the Traffic Bureau, and that he have the assistance of a patrolman for investigating and court work, and another patrolman as an office clerk. The Safety Council recommended that Serg. Richard Bannan be given the assignment because he had been assigned to attend the course conducted the past summer at Cambridge by the Harvard Bureau of Traffic Research. Mayor Childs, however, suggested the name of Lieutenant Moan.

In the past all members of the Newton police department have engaged in the apprehending and prosecution of those who violated automobile laws, and the traffic and parking ordinances of this city. Most of the investigation of accidents has been done by members of the Inspectors Division of the Newton police department. Serg. Thomas Burke and Special Officer Hammill have devoted a large part of their time to this work. Sergeant Burke has also been doing very efficient work in obtaining photographs of accidents with the excellent equipment owned by the Newton police department. If the proposed set-up of the new Traffic Bureau is followed out, the duties which have been performed by the inspectors will be transferred to the personnel of the newly created bureau.

$5000 Jewel Theft At Ellison Home

Jewelry valued at about $5000 was stolen from the home of Eben Ellison, 48 Sargent st., Newton last Thursday evening while members of the family were present in the house. The jewelry was stolen from a bureau drawer in a second story room at the house. One theory is that the burglar climbed up the outside of the brick residence while the members of the family were at dinner. On May 5, 1935 another burglary occurred at the Ellison home when jewelry valued at $8000 was stolen. The man who committed that burglary was supposed to be one Cecil Irons, later arrested in a Western state for another crime. He was not brought back to Massachusetts to stand trial for the Newton burglary.

Mayor Asks $2500 For Parking Area At Newton Corner

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a communication was received from Mayor Childs asking for an appropriation of $2500 to pay for the grading and surfacing of about 28,000 square feet of land near Pearl st., Newton Corner to make it suitable as a parking space. The Aldermen took no action on the recommendation of the Mayor, preferring to wait until six buildings now on the property will be razed and the cellar filled. Members of the Board of Aldermen state that when this will have been done they will vote for the recommendation asked by the Mayor.

For 25 years there has been a great need for parking facilities at Newton Corner. Business has suffered because of this, and Newton Corner, which has unusual transportation advantages as a shopping centre, has receded. There are fourteen vacant stores there, and property values have lessened. A few of the Aldermen have been cool to the parking project since the R. C. Taylor Trust, Inc. some months ago made an offer to the city to give the use of the land free in lieu of $150 yearly rental, which will offset the taxes on the property. The Taylor estate is also to tear down six dwellings which had housed about a dozen families. In view of the fact that the city in years past had considered spending as high as $200,000 to provide a parking space at Newton Corner, the cool attitude of a couple of Aldermen on this opportunity to relieve the parking situation at Newton Corner is causing resentment not only by business men there, but also among residents of Wards 1 and 7 who are daily inconvenienced by lack of parking space there. It is believed that the majority of the Aldermen will vote favorably on this matter within the next few weeks. Aldermen Rawson of Ward 7 and Barwise of Ward 1 are working to have the parking space become a reality.

Refuse Money For Traffic Bureau

Recommendations from Mayor Childs for the appropriations of money to enable the newly created Traffic Bureau to be started at Newton police headquarters on December 13, were laid on the table Monday night by the Finance Committee of the Aldermen. The Mayor recommended the sum of $93.17 to pay the salary of an additional patrolman; said appointee to permit the transfer of a present patrolman to the Traffic Bureau to assist Lieut. Moan who has been placed in charge of the new division. The sum of $51 was recommended by the Mayor to pay the salary of a clerk in the bureau office, and $9 as additional compensation for Miss Esta Hayes, clerk assigned to the bureau.

The Aldermen refused to take action on the matter because they stated that the recommendations from the Mayor gave the Aldermen no information as to the proposed plans under which the bureau will operate, nor any other details. So the Aldermen will postpone appropriating money for the Traffic Bureau until they learn what it is all about.

Newton Chinaman Found Murdered

Lee Tung Sing, 58, a Chinaman who for the past 10 years had conducted a laundry at 238 Washington st., Newton, was shot to death either late Friday night or early last Saturday morning in the small, rear room at the laundry. Customers who went to the laundry on Saturday found the front door locked, but none investigated until about 5:40 Saturday afternoon when a woman who found the laundry door closed, complained to Henry Steele of Brighton, a clerk in a nearby market. Steele went to the side door at the rear of the laundry, peered in, and observed Sing's body lying on the floor. He notified Patrolman Michael Connelly who was doing traffic duty at Nonantum sq. Connelly kicked in the side door and found Sing lying on the floor in a dried pool of blood. Two bullets from a 25 calibre automatic pistol had been fired into Sing's back, and a third bullet had been fired into his head, under his left ear. Connelly notified police headquarters and a number of ranking officers of the department hastened to the place. In the group were Chief Hughes, Captains Veducchio and Goode, and Inspectors Crowley, King and Burke. District Attorney Bishop was notified and came to the place, as did Medical Examiner Gallagher. Rigor mortis had apparently set in some hours before the murder was discovered, and the stove at the laundry was stone cold. An electric light in the cellar was still on when the police entered. A search revealed

Dolan Company Gets Oil Permit

The John Dolan Coal Company was granted a permit to store 40,000 gallons of fuel oil in tanks at 153 Concord st., Newton Lower Falls, by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. The company had recently had a hearing on this matter, but because neighbors subsequently objected that they had not been notified, another hearing was held last Monday night. George DeCoe of the Dolan Company told the Board that 50 per cent of fuel business today is in the sale of fuel oil and his company must have facilities to handle such business. He said the Dolan Company had been in business 52 years at the location and that the tanks will not be eyesores. Sam Tawbe of Hamilton, st. told the Aldermen he owns 11 lots of land near the coal yard, that many attractive new houses have been built in the neighborhood, and the oil tanks with resultant odors will depreciate the property. Several residents of Concord and St. Mary sts., and Lafayette rd., told of a new residential area which has been developed not far from the Dolan coal yard the past few years, and argued that the tanks will be an eyesore.

The Aldermen brought out the fact that Tawbe acquired his property only last March, and should have known it abutted a business zone. The Board voted to grant the permit to the Dolan Company.

David Seabury At Community Forum Next Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon at the Newton High School auditorium David Seabury, noted psychologist and author of "Growing into Life," "Unmasking Our Minds," "What Makes Us Seem So Queer" and various other books and articles, will appear as the fourth speaker on the Newton Community Forum program for this season. His topic is to be "How to Worry Successfully," which is the title of one of his recent books.

David Seabury was born in Boston and grew up in an atmosphere full of the influence of professors and psychologists. He attended the old Chauncy Hall School and later the Scuola Bettni Recarsoli in Florence, Italy. Upon his return to this country, he went to Harvard as a special student. Miss Alice Longfellow took an interest in his enthusiasm and it was through her influence and cooperation that he went abroad again and spent five years studying in London, Paris and Munich.

Returning again to this country, he became consulting psychologist at Culver Military Academy and later opened an office in New York where he is now one of the busiest of consulting psychologists.

Among Mr. Seabury's store of anecdotes appears this one, which would rather seem to have shaped his application of his work: "It was many years ago, 'Mr. Seabury said, 'that I was cured of speaking about psychology in scientific terms. I was on my way to deliver a lecture in a small town when I heard two men talking on a street corner. They had seen me and one asked who I was. The other answered, 'He's a psychologist,' and his companion said, 'How'd he get out?' I decided then that if people didn't know what the word meant, it was time they were being told in simple terms."

So great is Mr. Seabury's popularity that an appointment to consult him must be made months in advance. In addition to the hours spent in office duty and writing, he delivers as many as one hundred lectures during the course of a year. His talks are practical in every sense of the word. Through long years of experience in his field, Mr. Seabury has had to deal

Refuse Two Family House on Park St.

The Aldermen on Monday night voted to refuse the petition of Helen Hinckley for a permit to add an extra room to the dwelling at 177 Park st., Newton, and change the residence from one family to two family. It is in a single residence district. Alderman Cronin favored the petition and argued that the Board of Aldermen was inconsistent in refusing the Hinckley petition when it granted a petition to allow the use of a residence in Thompsonville for use as a club. Alderman Rawson said that neighbors had protested against the petition because they contended that if the permit were granted, similar petitions would follow and the character of the district would be changed. Rawson took exception to Cronin's argument that it would be expedient to grant the change, and said the Claims and Rules Committee during the past two years, while he has been chairman, has not been influenced by expediency.

Little Interest Being Shown In City Election Tuesday, Despite Many Candidates

Important Question Of Change To Biennial Elections Will Be Decided By Voters

Next Tuesday, December 14, the annual city election will be held in Newton. The polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m. Although there are three candidates for Mayor, contests for Alderman-at-Large in all seven Wards, and for Ward Alderman in five of the seven Wards, there is little interest being shown in the election. This is in contrast to the intense interest which was displayed in the 1933 and 1935 elections. Two reasons are largely responsible for this condition. Sinclair Weeks in 1933 and General Needham in 1935 had large, well organized committees working in their behalf for many months before election day. Alderman Clarence Colby, who is opposing Mayor Childs, does not announce his candidacy until October, and he has had no organized support comparable with that given Weeks and Needham.

The other reason for the lack of interest is—that many of Mayor Childs' former active supporters are not working in his behalf this year. Some of these erstwhile political friends of the Mayor contend that his attitude since he was elected two years ago has been that of ingratitude toward those who rallied to him in 1935, and deference to many who opposed him.

Running for Mayor are the present incumbent, Edwin O. Childs, now serving his 13th year as Mayor; Clarence C. Colby, who is serving his fourth year as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7, and Frederick Lochiatto of 180 Adams st. It is expected that the latter will not poll many votes.

In Ward 1 Frank T. McCabe, Alderman-at-Large since 1935, is being opposed by Umberto Colarusso who has resided in the Ward only during the past year. In Ward 2 the candidates for Alderman-at-Large to succeed Donald Hill are Albert P. Everts of 114 Kirkstall rd. and John Finelli of 45 Ashmont ave. Mr. Everts has the support of a number of Newtonville residents who have been active in politics in that village. Mr. Finelli, a well known attorney, contends that his membership for some years on the Republican City Committee entitles him to recognition. In Ward 3 Maxwell P. Gaddis, Ward Alderman for the past year, is a candidate for the past year, is a can-

TWO IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

The voters of Newton will ballot next Tuesday for municipal candidates and on the question of biennial elections in this city. Important as the offices of mayor, aldermen, and school committee may be the question of biennial elections is perhaps of even greater importance. Some weeks ago we outlined the referendum upon which the voters will be asked to decide. Two questions appear at the bottom of the ballot. The first calls for a "Yes" or "No" vote on the question of the adoption of the biennial system.

The adoption of this proposal means the elimination of the city election in the so-called "off" year—that is, the election in which the office of mayor is not at stake. In such years experience has shown that a very small percentage of the voters cast their ballot. This lack of interest tends to break down good government. It also is an unnecessary expense which can be eliminated by the adoption of the biennial method of elections. Vote "Yes" on Question one.

The second question under the biennial referendum is for an expression of choice as to whether members of the school committee should serve for four years or for two years when the biennial method becomes effective. On this matter they are asked to mark their ballot in favor of Plan A or for Plan B. Plan A provides for a four-year term of the school committee members, and Plan B, for a two-year term. We urge the adoption of Plan A and reiterate the arguments we have previously used. A member of the school committee usually serves for two terms under the present system of three years each. His best service as a member is not rendered until he has served for some time. If the term is four years he can at least render three years of valuable service and if outstanding may be a candidate for re-election. Under the four year term there will also be rotation in office as three members of the committee will be elected one year and four members two years later, there being seven members of the committee. Under the two-year term all members would be on the ballot every two years. They would also be called upon to make a campaign every two years, or three times in a six-year period as against twice in that length of time as at present. We believe that it would be a step backward, would increase politics in our school committee selections, and would create the possibility of electing seven inexperienced members of that committee. We therefore urge the voters to favor Plan A.

THE CITY ELECTION

It has been our custom preceding each city election to support editorially those candidates for offices to be voted upon in all wards of the city. The many candidates make it impossible for us to enlarge upon the reasons for our contentions except that of the most important office of mayor. In the belief that these candidates will best serve the interests of the city we urge the voters to cast their ballots for the following candidates:

For Mayor—Clarence C. Colby.

Aldermen-at-Large:

Ward 1—Frank T. McCabe.

Ward 2—Albert P. Everts.

Ward 3—Maxwell P. Gaddis.

Ward 4—Leonard W. Ricketson

Ward 5—John Temperley.

Ward 6—Paul M. Goddard.

Ward 7—George E. Rawson.

School Committee:

Ward 3—Ralph F. Taber.

THE CITIZENS FOLDER

One of the most outstanding examples of information to the public of the background, activities, and views of candidates for public office is found in the Newton Citizens Association folder distributed to the voters of Newton this week. In other cities of the state many placards, billboards, posters and other political propaganda litter the countryside. None of this in Newton. As a means of acquainting the public with information the Citizens' Folder gives every candidate a means of placing his claims for office before the voters. From it one can readily make up his mind as to the candidate he will support. Furthermore the folder reminds him of his public duty to vote. Every citizen is eligible for membership in the Citizens' Association and this activity alone should be of sufficient importance to enroll thousands of members into an organization dedicated to the maintenance of high standards in our city government.

A NEW VIEWPOINT NEEDED

Problems of government today are vastly different than in the post-war period of prosperity and the depression years of recent memory. To meet these changed problems we need to have an aggressive executive who is willing to shoulder the responsibility of preparing for the future. He must have the initiative and energy to study possible courses of action and then to use sound judgment in putting them into effect.

For eighteen of the past twenty-four years Edwin O. Childs has served as mayor of Newton. He relinquished the office to Sinclair Weeks in 1930 for a six-year period. During most of his years of service the growth of Newton was a primary factor in making his administrative problems comparatively simple in contrast to today's conditions. Mr. Childs is not aggressive. He seldom takes the initiative. And many members of the Board of Aldermen of the past two decades openly aver that responsibilities which the mayor might and probably should assume were passed along to them.

Alderman Clarence C. Colby possesses the energy, the initiative and the willingness to accept responsibility which is highly desirable here in Newton. We urge the citizens of Newton to vote for Colby to the end that we may have a new viewpoint of city affairs with the aim of promoting greater efficiency.

Share Your Clothes

Hundreds of families in Newton are badly in need of warm clothing. In view of this need, the citizens in the city are urgently requested to join in a "Share Your Clothes" drive, which will be made throughout Newton on the dates listed below. We urge all to check their closets, trunks, and storage rooms. We feel sure they will find articles of clothing and bedding which will give comfort to some family in this city.

Donations will be collected from house to house as follows: Newton, Monday, January 3; Newtonville, Tuesday, January 4; West Newton, Wednesday, January 5; Newton Upper Falls and Waban, Thursday, January 6; Newton Highlands and Oak Hill, Friday, January 7; Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill, Monday, January 10.

For further information, please call the Mayor's Relief Committee, Newton North 6513 or 6721.

Roadside Debate

It's O. K. boys, growl and snarl at each other. Remember the best defense is a good offense, so just keep on giving each other "the works." These two gents act as if the caution light was the signal to throw caution to the four winds. Better to flash until the green light actually flashes before starting across the highway. It's tough on your blood pressure to make yourself fly into a rage, just to lead the other fellow to think that after all it's his fault, not yours.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Good Deed Well Done

The thoughtfulness of a Newton young man and the display of unusual intelligence on the part of a Scottish dog combine to provide the elements of as pleasing an incident as has come to my attention in a long time. Robert Murray of 584 Centre st. listened, as he lay in bed, to the incessant barking of a dog. It came from the direction of Hyde Brook which most of us know runs east of Centre st. and between that thoroughfare and Park st. Although it was after midnight, Mr. Murray decided to investigate and, dressing, started to look around.

Guided by the dog's bark he made his way to the brook and there found that a larger dog, apparently of mixed breed, had through the feebleness of age, fallen in the brook and was unable to rise. The Scottish dog sensed his plight and stood by, doing his best to summon help in his canine way. No one can tell how long he kept vigil.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray acted promptly, rescued the dog and notified its owner. The latter was particularly grateful for the old dog was a favorite with the family who had been for hours conducting a vain search for him.

Any Further Remarks?

The days are rapidly becoming shorter. There doesn't seem to be anything to be done about it except to stick around until they become long again. anybody has a better solution to offer it will be gratefully received. Don't write, telegraph at your own expense. The publicity will be worth it.

Those Troublesome G's

This scrap of conversation between two prospective shoppers floated across the aisle of a trolley car: "Wunnerful shoppin' weather."

"Wunnerful."
"Got evythin' yer goin' ter buy for Christmas?"
"Naw! Wish I had. Been orful busy."

"Zat so! Wacher been doin'?"
"Ev'thin' and nuthin'. Keeps me hopin'—housework and fambly. You unnerstan'?"
"Your tellin' me. Me breakin' my neck."

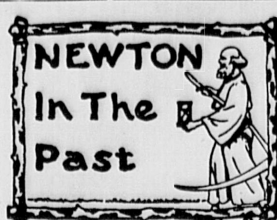

"Sorful, aint's it?"
"You said somethin'."

Gabby Folks

A reminder has reached me that in occasional reference to telephonic matters as affecting our homes I have overlooked the person who insists on talking unceasingly. There are those people who accept a call on the phone as they would an invitation to address a public meeting. They receive the subject of a discourse from the one who has rung-up and then proceed not permitting the listener to interrupt to conduct a "fireside chat." The trouble is that little may be done to stop them unless the one on the other end hangs up. That seldom happens for fear of hurting feelings or something like that. I wish I could point out a moral in conclusion but all I can say is that I'll bet the inventor of the telephone never intended his wonderful achievement to be abused in this way.

Must Be Careful

Election Day and Christmas come so near together in Newton I am afraid there may be some confusion that will lead to unfortunate consequences. Possibly I am overanxious for the serenity of our fair city. Nevertheless I am afraid that certain of the candidates who expect Santa Claus to get here next week ahead of time with a load of votes for them are going to find their stockings far from filled. They may get the boot, but that's all.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Dec. 11, 1875
The total vote for Mayor last year was 1585, of which J. F. C. Hyde had 1467. This year the total was 1537; Mr. Speare receiving 1443.

The people of Newton will need no urging to attend the public meeting next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the high school to hear Mr. Philbrick present the claims of the Centennial Exposition and the desirability of Newton schools being represented there. If Newton could go to the trouble of having an exhibit of her school work at the Vienna Exposition, surely she can do the same for our national centennial exposition.

In the municipal convention much stress was laid on the need for a Mayor with a stiff backbone. Mr. Speare's friends claim he has it. We think he will look well after the interests of the city.

From statements made in the Newton Common Council on Wednesday evening, relative to the claim of J. D. Towle for pay for services rendered on the Water Commission of the Town of Newton several years ago, it transpired that Mr. Towle had spent some 6 months on the investigation of the water question, including analyses of water and determining sources of supply. He was chairman of the commission and the burden of the labor came upon him. His work with the Legislature was arduous. Some of the councilmen thought his services were worth $1000, but the conclusion arrived at was to recommend that he be awarded $325.

Several persons have died of diphtheria at Newton Lower Falls recently. On Dec. 2, Nellie Richardson, age 8, only child of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Richardson, died; and also John Ardrie, 3 years old. On Dec. 6, L. A. McCurdy, 23 years of age, died of the disease, and on Dec. 9, Hattie Cramer died.

Monday evening was a gay one at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre. Boreas was quiescent, Luna was ascendant, the lake was a crystal pavement. On it rung the glittering steel of the skaters to be counted by scores and perhaps hundreds. On the farther shore flared up occasionally a fire, setting off the figures in the carnival; the ulsters and ulsterettes, the muffs and curls, the bellies and beaus in delightful confusion.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 9, 1887

The accident at Newton Corner resulting in the loss of three lives brings up afresh the question—"Can there not be a statute compelling every railroad to go over or under every highway or rail crossing?" Since the opening of the Boston & Worcester Railroad in 1833, there have been 75 deaths at its crossings. There are nine railroad crossings in the City of Newton and they are all dangerous. On the main line in Newton between 8 and 8:12 a. m., four passenger trains go by, two of which are express trains going 40 miles an hour. The guards at the crossings are only slender wooden spars through which a frightened team of horses or a drove of cattle could go with impunity. The best of men are employed as crossing tenders, but they are fallible. One can imagine what a fearful loss of life there would be if a heavy team became stalled on the tracks and an express train rushing along at a speed of 40 miles should strike it. (In 54 years there were 75 deaths at railroad crossings, and people 50 years ago thought this horrible. Now we have 20 persons killed in Massachusetts each week in automobile accidents.—E.D.)

The city election in Newton the past week showed what the people thought in regard to a matter which caused so much discussion the past year, and his discussion should be valuable to the members of the school board who were defeated for reelection, and their partisans. They claimed that all the opposition came from a parcel of school boys and that any deference shown to public sentiment was "letting the school children run the schools." One member of the school board who went down in the general defeat declared long ago that the opposition had died. He learned his mistake on Tuesday. Members of the School Committee have a three-year term, and this fact is apt to make them a little careless of public opinion, but the day of reckoning comes to them as well as to members of other legislative bodies. Members of the school committee are chosen to represent the public, and if they do not recognize public opinion, they must expect to suffer for their mistake. The power entrusted to a school board is almost unlimited, and for this reason they must make a careful and judicious use of it.

Newton Graphic, Dec. 13, 1912
Another epoch in Jewish events in Newton will be marked by the opening on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 15, of the first Jewish synagogue in the city, on Adams st. Nonantum. The cornerstone was laid last August with all due ceremony. At the opening ceremony an effort will be made to lift the $3500 mortgage remaining upon the property. The building committee includes Morris Glifx, Benjamin Glifx, Joseph Roiter, Max Silverman and Jacob Schwartz.

Newton Graphic, Dec. 13, 1912
The total value of real estate in Newton was $68,133,400. It took big jumps every year, until in 1932 it had increased to $148,288,800. Certainly such increases in valuation should have kept Newton's tax rate lower than that of cities where valuations had either only slightly increased, or had decreased. During the depression years of 1933, 1934 and 1935, there was a recession in valuations of real estate in this city, but in 1936 and the past year a renewed building boom has brought the total to $151,242,050.

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

In this column in the October 15th issue of the GRAPHIC we wrote that we had taken an active part as a member of Thomas W. White's campaign committee in 1933 and of Edwin O. Childs' campaign committee in 1935, but that this year we would not serve on the campaign committee of any mayoralty candidate. Since making that statement we were asked to serve on campaign committees of both leading candidates for Mayor. We declined both requests. We also wrote in our October 15th column that for the first time during the 24 years that Edwin O. Childs has been a candidate for Mayor ten times, we would not support him. We commented that in subsequent issues of the GRAPHIC we would tell why our ardor for Mr. Childs had cooled, and that our reasons might not be convincing, nor would they be given with the expectation that they would materially affect the result of the coming election. We said that if we possessed the discretion or practically exercised by most men who succeeded in life, we would maintain a prudent silence, but because we are one of those persons who say what they think, who are actuated by their feelings, rather than by expediency or economic determinism, we would state frankly why we are not endorsing Mr. Childs this year. We made this comment because in our belief Mr. Childs will again be re-elected next Tuesday.

In the issues of the GRAPHIC since October 15 we have given an account of the conditions in Newton affecting mayoralty elections prior to Mr. Childs' advent into that office, during the many years he served, and the six years of Mayor Weeks' administration. We stated that it was Mr. Childs' personality and not his political record which caused him to be first elected in 1913 and re-elected eight times afterward. We told of his democratic tendencies, his social service work, his friendliness toward all classes of people.

We supported Edwin O. Childs for Mayor in 1913 because we have known him since our boyhood, have admired him because he seemed free from race and religious prejudice, and because he seemed to exemplify real Americanism. It was these qualities which caused members of the Democratic city committee to tender Mr. Childs the nomination for Mayor in 1913. Environment and circumstances mold a person's views on matters social and political. Circumstances which entered into our life caused us to appreciate a man who treated those who do not possess wealth on a parity with those who do. And so, we supported Mr. Childs in 1913 and in subsequent years.

Prior to the assumption of the office of Mayor of Newton by Mr. Childs in 1914, only two men had served as chief executive of this city for more than two years. J. Wesley Kimball served from 1884 to 1888 inclusive, and Charles E. Hatfield from 1910 to 1913 inclusive. It had been the established custom for a Mayor to serve not more than two years, and Mr. Hatfield was criticized by many for breaking this precedent. It had been the custom in Newton for men of ability to serve on the Newton Board of Aldermen with the expectation that they would have an opportunity to advance to the higher honor of serving as Mayor. A well known citizen of Newton said in 1925, in criticizing Mr. Childs—"The position of Mayor of Newton is not a job; it is simply an honorable opportunity for temporary public service." We believe that when Mr. Childs was first elected Mayor he had no intention of remaining in that office from young manhood until he had reached an advanced age. But the office obviously has had an allure for him and he sacrificed opportunities for advancement in public life and for material gain, to remain in it.

Naturally, as Mr. Childs ran again and again for the office of Mayor, more and more persons criticized him for allegedly hogging the office. To these criticisms Mr. Childs replied that he would run for the office while the people of Newton desired him to do so, and it was up to the people to decide. This was a naive reply and so far has been a good argument.

The eighteen years which Mr. Childs has served as Mayor of Newton has been equalled in length to our knowledge by only one other chief executive of a city in Massachusetts—former Mayor Ashley of New Bedford. Two reasons have contributed chiefly to this unique record. One has been Mr. Childs' remarkable talent for mixing affably with persons in so many walks of life. The other has been the outstanding place enjoyed by Newton as a well governed city and desirable residential community. As a mixer, Mr. Childs has been in a class by himself. An eloquent speaker, he long ago became adept in giving laudatory addresses to fraternal, civic, patriotic organizations and racial groups.

Newton has consistently had lower tax rates than most cities in Massachusetts, and it is natural that persons moving into this city, as well as many long-time residents, have given Mr. Childs a major part of the credit for this condition. As a matter of fact, while he is entitled to credit for having contributed to good government in Newton, other factors also have been responsible to a great degree. For a century Newton, because of its topographical advantages and unusual transportation facilities, developed into a residential community populated largely by people of wealth or comparative wealth. Its valuation per capita has been unusually high. From 1919 on the increase in real estate values in Newton has been phenomenal, far outstripping almost all cities in this State with the exceptions of Boston and Springfield. In

Another thing which has kept Newton's tax rate lower than that of many cities in Massachusetts is the fact that its welfare burden since 1923 has been far less serious than that of many industrial cities in this State, in proportion to its wealth and population. Many persons have forgotten, and new residents of Newton do not know that for a number of years Mayor Childs did little paring on budget recommendations of department heads, that in those same years Boards of Aldermen cut from $50,000 to over $200,000 annually from the Mayor's budget recommendations, and by so doing caused lower tax rates, and incurred the dislike of city officials or employees for whom the Mayor had recommended salary increases. In justice to Mayor Childs it must be said that all cuts from his budget recommendations in those years by the Aldermen, did not meet with the approval of the writer. During the past two years, the Mayor has displayed a more economical trend and the Aldermen pruned but little from his budget figures. The Mayor has been scrupulously honest financially in his conduct of city affairs. He has repeatedly asserted, and we believe him, that he has never taken one dishonest penny. The acquisition of money has never bothered the Mayor.

During the past several weeks in our articles referring to Mayor Childs we have said so many laudable things about him that some persons have told us we seemed to be writing in his behalf. They have been waiting patiently for us to say something against him. We stated in the GRAPHIC on October 22nd that in telling why we have become alienated with Mr. Childs politically, we would not indulge to any degree in political controversy, that our writer has never dealt mostly with human sensibilities, and might seem inconsequential.

We voted in the past for Edwin O. Childs not because of practical, political motives, but because we believed him to be honest, humane, sincere. In common with him the writer has never endeavored to acquire wealth. We are not prone to talk about ourself, nor were we ever interested in autobiographies and we believe our readers would not be interested in our autobiography. However, as some of our readers might think our attitude toward Mr. Childs might have been caused by disgruntlement on our part in not having been rewarded by him for our political support in the past, we shall write briefly concerning our philosophy and past in certain things.

As a youth we entered the United States Postal Service. Together with a boyhood friend, who has since become one of Newton's most prominent citizens, we prepared to take the examination for postoffice clerk. We went to his older brother for suggestions, and the latter tried to discourage us from becoming postoffice employees. We two future postal employees told him what we had read about the recognition of merit under civil service. The brilliant young man to whom we had gone for advice, who had told us, "It is not civil service," he said, "it is snivel service." The two of us disregarded his advice, entered the postal service, and spent many years in it. Soon we discovered that the wisecrack about "snivel service" was not unfounded, that political influence and not merit determined advancement, that "pull" and not "push" counted, and our experience with this condition in the postal service soured us against the political spoils system. We were among those who helped organize the postoffice clerks in Massachusetts to counteract political preference, served as chairman of the grievance committee of the Massachusetts P. O. Clerks' Association, and never sought political influence for advancement during the 17 years we served in the postal service. We never had any respect for political heilers.

Mayor Childs was in office only a few years when he was accused, or accredited, according to one's viewpoint, of giving more consideration to his political enemies than to his political friends. He did reward a few of his supporters with appointments to salaried positions in the service of the city, or with part time offices which brought small emoluments, but he made no bid to attract henchmen with the expectation of political plums. He did not have to, apart from the fact that he did not have the inclination. He won one victory after another without any real organization, except in 1921 when Leon Rogers opposed him. As an instance of Mr. Childs' aversion to being accused of practical politics by rewarding his followers, we cite the case of the man who was responsible for him first becoming Mayor—T. D. Murphy. Soon after Mr. Childs first assumed office in 1914, he appointed Mr. Murphy an assistant assessor. This job took but a few months to do, and Mr. Murphy was paid about $125 or $150 a month. In 1921 and for several years thereafter, Mr. Murphy requested the Mayor to give him a full time position which would provide him a livelihood in his advancing years. He asserted that Mr. Childs was continuing to hold the office of Mayor year after year, and didate to succeed Alderman-at-Large Benjamin Bowen, who is retiring. Mr. Gaddis' opponent is Edward Martorana, a 21 year old youth residing at 400 Cherry st.

In Ward 4 Alderman-at-Large Dennis Cronin is not a candidate for re-election. The three candidates seeking his place are John A. Duane of 216 River st., Charles E. Hughes of 244 Grove st., and Leonard W. Ricketson of 15 Normandy rd. In Ward 5 the candidates for Alderman-at-Large are John Temperley who is serving his 10th year as an Alderman, and George W. Cashman who twice before has unsuccessfully sought this office. In Ward 6 the present Alderman-at-Large, Paul M. Goddard, now serving his fifth year as a member of the Board, will be opposed by Gilbert C. Burns of 28 Daniel st., a well known market proprietor. In Ward 7 George E. Rawson who is serving his fourth year as Alderman-at-Large, and who has done exceptional work as Chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee in protesting the zoning ordinance of the city, and extending residential zones, is opposed by Paul H. Drake of 42 Vernon st., colorful candidate in several previous elections.

In Ward 1, Edward A. Fahey, Ward Alderman the past year, has as an opponent Thomas F. Waters of 41 Summit st., a young man who heretofore has taken no activity in politics in that ward. In Ward 2, the candidate for Ward Alderman to succeed Albert Lyon are Herbert A. Allen of 278 Calot st.; Richard C. Ashenden of 95 Fair Oaks ave., and Daniel Lombard of 424 Newtonville ave. In Ward 4 there is a free-for-all fight to succeed Maxwell Gaddis as Ward Alderman. There are six candidates—Frank S. Dewey, Jr., of 46 Wedgewood rd.; John B. Glynn, 171 Cherry st.; Alfred H. Guzzi, 169 River st.; James Manning, 852 Watertown st.; Oliver K. Smith, 371 Waltham st., and Kenneth C. Tiffin, 110 Prospect st. The real fight in this battle royal is between Guzzi and Tiffin. Guzzi was alderman in 1935 and 1936, and was defeated last year. Aggressive and resourceful, he obtained many improvements for the Ward while in the Board. Tiffin has had a well organized committee working in the interest of his candidacy for the past three months. In Wards 5 and 6 Clifford H. Walker and Joseph B. Jamieson, present Ward Aldermen, are unopposed. In Ward 7 there are two candidates to succeed Ward Alderman James Melcher. They are Theodore R. Lockwood of 74 Elmhurst rd., and Thomas Sutcliffe of 112 Charlesbank rd.

There are three School Committee members to be elected. In Ward 3 to succeed George Pernal, Jr., the candidates are former Alderman Bernard D. Farrell, Jr., of 11 Cherry pl., who made a strong fight for the position

An important referendum is also on the ballot. If accepted it will result in city elections being held biennially instead of annually. Ward Aldermen will be elected for 2 year terms, the same as Alderman-at-Large have been for years. There is an optional clause in this referendum whereby voters who favor biennial elections can vote to have school committee members terms on a two years tenure, or four years tenure. Citizens conversant with Newton politics have been advocating biennial elections for several years to lessen the probability of unqualified candidates becoming elected to the city government in years when there is no mayoralty election, and a small vote is cast.

Dr. Chope Tells Of Fight Against Tuberculosis

The fight against tuberculosis in Newton is by no means won according to facts revealed by Dr. Harold D. Chope, health officer of the city, at the first meeting of the Health Division of the Newton Community Council held Thursday night at the Newton Centre Library. Although Newton's position in the battle against tuberculosis compares favorably with other communities, 25 Newton citizens die from tuberculosis every year Dr. Chope reports.

At the meeting last night Dr. Philip P. Jacobs, director of the Division of Field Service of the National Tuberculosis Association reported upon a two weeks survey he made of conditions in Newton last October. Dr. Jacobs came to Newton at the request of the Board of Health and the Health Committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau and his survey was financed by the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League. As a result of his study it is expected that further efforts will be made to wipe out the disease.

Newton annually spends $50,000 from tax funds and $5,000 raised by the sale of Christmas seals on tuberculosis cases and educational work. A large part of the money is expended for hospital care of patients at the Middlesex County Hospital. A feature of the education financed by the sale of Christmas seals is the examination of children in the public schools. Although these examinations are purely voluntary, the number of examinations has steadily grown in the past three years. In 1935 fifty-five percent of the children were examined, in 1936 sixty-five percent and this year eighty-five percent.

Despite this extensive program which has been carried on for a number of years, there are today 165 reported cases of tuberculosis in the city and it is estimated that nearly 100 unreported cases exist. Another tragic aspect of the matter is the fact that 65 percent of the cases are not reported to authorities until they are in an advanced stage of illness.

The Health Division of the Newton Community Council expects to announce plans for a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis in the near future.

Newtonville Girl Seriously Burned

Shirley Robblee, 13, of 288 Newtonville ave., Newtonville, was severely burned on her back last Saturday morning when her clothing caught fire as she was standing in front of a gas stove in the tenement of Timothy O'Rourke at the same address. Mrs. O'Rourke threw water on the burning garment of the girl and extinguished the flame. The girl was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. She had gone into the O'Rourke tenement to get warm because there was no heat in the Robblee tenement. As a result of an investigation made by Traffic Officer William Dowling, a complaint was made against the girl's mother, Mrs. Mary Robblee, and the latter was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday on the charge of neglecting her children. The case was continued to December 10.

Dowling, in asking for the complaint, found that there was no heat in Mrs. Robblee's tenement, very little food, and the place in a deplorable condition. The Robblee woman has six children, five of whom are under 16 years of age. Her husband was killed by an automobile about a year ago.

Glee Club and Christmas Music At Sunday Eve Service

The Second Church in Newton, West Newton, will hold the third Sunday Evening Service, in a series of seven, on Sunday evening, Dec. 12th. At this time a concert of Christmas and sacred music will be presented by the Highland Glee Club of Newton. Organized fifty years ago, The Highland Glee Club has long been considered the outstanding men's glee club of Newton. Three times in the last four years it has won the grand prize for New England. Today it has one hundred members. The Second Church is glad to offer such an inspiring company of singers at the beginning of the Christmas season. Mr. D. Ralph MacLean is the Director of the Club and deserves much credit for its excellence. The pianist is Karl Switzer. In addition to the choral singing by the club, Mr. Ermond Lewis will sing "Comfort Ye" from the Messiah, and Mrs. Angus Ross will sing "God is My Shepherd." Mr. William Lester Bates, organist and choirmaster of The Second Church, will assist the club on this occasion. As an organ selection he will play "Noel" by Mulet.

The series of Sunday Evening Services, which have been initiated this year by The Second Church, are apparently filling a real need in the community, for the congregations at the first two services were each over five hundred. These services are offered to all as an enlargement of the ministry of the church in the hope that many may find help and inspiration and friendship by attendance at them. The fourth service of the series will be held on Sunday evening, Jan. 23rd, at which time Dr. Boynton Merrill, minister of The Second Church, will preach.

BRIDGE PARTY

The Newton Circle, Inc., of the Florence Crittenton League will hold a bridge party for its new members at the home of Mrs. Preston T. Stephenson on Heath st., Brookline, next Monday afternoon, December 13. Present at the meeting will be Mrs. Albert B. Carter, commissioner of the Board of Probation who will give a short talk on the work of the Community Federation of Boston. Following the bridge party tea will be served.

Highland Glee Club Concert

The 65th concert of the Highland Glee Club of Newton takes place this coming Tuesday at eight o'clock in the evening in the auditorium of the Newton High School.

Organized thirty years ago, and active except during the War years, the Highland Glee Club has, under the direction of its conductor, D. Ralph MacLean, fast come to the fore. Today it stands unquestionably the outstanding men's glee club in New England, thrice judged grand prize-winners in the last four years.

For its December Concert, a splendid program has been prepared, including old favorites and several numbers "in the lighter vein." Among them are: "Pilgrims' Chorus," "Serenade in the Snow," "Columbia Hymn," "Celtic Hymn," and the rollicking, ever popular "Musical Trust." Mr. Moritz Emery, whose composition "The Song of Silence" will be sung by the club, will be a guest.

As its concert soloist, the Highland Glee Club will present Vladimir Resnikoff, distinguished violin soloist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

A small and informal pupils' recital, attended only by the parents of the pupils who played, was held at the home of Mrs. William C. Worth, 23 Perkins st., West Newton, on Sunday evening, Dec. 5th. A two-piano number and a group of violinists assisted the soloists in giving an enjoyable program.

Miss Daphne Kenway, cellist, and Miss Virginia Kenway, pianist, both associated with the All Newton Music School, gave a program of music at the meeting of the Channing Alliance at the Channing Church, Newton, on the Thursday before Thanksgiving.

The Scipione Trio, composed of Mrs. Mary Scipione, violin; Ruth Masters, cello, and Mary Barr Snyder, piano, gave a program at the meeting of the Professional Woman's Club at the Hotel Statler on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 5th. The same trio also entertained at the meeting of the Men's Club at the Central Congregational Church on Monday evening, Dec. 6th.

Girl Scouts

The next meeting of the Council of the Newton Girl Scouts will be a Christmas tea to be held Dec. 16. After a short business meeting Mrs. Crafts' troop of Newton Centre will demonstrate some singing games. Following that there will be a puppet show given by Troop 11 of Newton Highlands. This will be particularly interesting as the puppets have all been made by the girls themselves.

RECENT DEATHS

EDWARD D. CONANT

Edward D. Conant of 34 Park st., Newton died on December 3. He was born in Worcester 91 years ago and had actively engaged in his business affairs up to the day of his death. Mr. Conant was the son of Benjamin and Elizabeth (White) Conant. He was educated in the Worcester public schools and in 1867 established the hardware firm of White & Conant at Worcester. In 1882 he moved to Boston and established the real estate business in which he continued to the time of his death. He had been a resident of Newton for about 50 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annetta Chapin Conant; a daughter, Mrs. Allan C. Emery of Weymouth Heights; two sons—Lewis C. Conant of Buffalo and Benjamin W. Conant of Berwyn, Illinois; five grandchildren, and five great grandchildren. A daughter of Mr. Conant's, Mrs. Mabel Gattrell of Kentucky, died some years ago. Mr. Conant's funeral service was held on Monday at Eliot Church chapel; Rev. Ray Eusden officiated. Interment was in Hope Cemetery, Worcester.

CARRIE E. SILLOWAY

Miss Carrie E. Silloway for 24 years a teacher at Newton High School died at the Newton Hospital on December 6. She had been ill about a week and up to that time was quite active. Miss Silloway was born in New York City 80 years ago and her childhood was spent at Canton, Massachusetts. She first taught in a public school at Quincy under George Aldrich, then superintendent of schools in Quincy, and later superintendent of Schools in Newton. Later Miss Silloway conducted a private school for several years in Poughkeepsie. She came to Newton High School in 1893 and taught until she retired in 1917. Miss Silloway was a member of Central Congregational Church, the Women's Association of that church, and the Newtonville Women's Club. She took an active interest in civic affairs and was a liberal contributor to the fund for the branch library at Newtonville. It was her hope to live to see the library erected in that village. Miss Silloway's funeral service was held at Central Congregational Church on Thursday; Rev. Randolph Merrill officiated. Burial was in Attleboro.

Central Club Entertainment
Attracts Many Despite Storm

Despite the drenching downpour of Monday evening, more than two hundred attended the musical entertainment provided by the Central Club of Newtonville at the Central Congregational Church. Adrian O'Brien, tenor soloist; Donald Van Wart, pianist, and Mary Barr Snyder, soloist, featured the program of radio talent present for the occasion. The Puccini Trio assisted in providing a wide variety of musical entertainment. At the dinner meeting of the Central Club prior to the public program, Gen. Daniel Needham told of the development and equipping of the new National Guard Camp on Cape Cod. Financed by the federal and state governments, the new military quarters will be foremost among the camps of its kind. President George Rowlings introduced Gen. Needham and presided at the meeting. Preliminary plans for the annual club show to be staged in the spring were discussed.

Newton Bankers Attend
Talk on Economic Trends

Newton was represented by Charles E. Hatfield, President of the West Newton Cooperative Bank and Rupert C. Thompson, director of the Newton Co-operative Bank when bankers from all parts of the state gathered Wednesday evening to hear Isaac Marcosson, famed economist, author, world-traveler and reporter discuss current economic trends in this country in relation to world affairs. The occasion was the annual mid-winter banquet of the Massachusetts Bankers Association at the Copley Plaza, Boston.

Gamewell Fire Brigade To Aid Newton Fire Dept.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs, at a luncheon given this week at the Braeburn Country Club in honor of the Gamewell Company Fire Brigade, commended the spirit which inspired corporations to foster the organization of a fire brigade and to place this trained fire fighting force at the service of their cities or towns in the event of a fire emergency. Arrangements have been made whereby Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department will call the Gamewell Brigade to all three-alarm fires, thereby giving the City the benefit of a supplementary, fully trained and fully equipped fire fighting force. The Mayor emphasized the need of all companies organizing fire brigades in order to protect the continuity of employment of their people and, in so doing, serve the community as whole. He pointed out that fire disasters in industrial establishments are definitely reflected throughout the community by reason of loss of employment, loss of taxable valuations, reduction of community purchasing power and injuries to and possible loss of life of employees. Fire Chief Clarence Randlett also addressed the Fire Brigade and formally established their status as ex officio members of the Newton City Fire Department.

The Gamewell Company Fire Brigade is a volunteer fire fighting company, made up entirely of Gamewell Company employees and equipped in accordance with the recognized practice and requirements. It is organized in two squads, operating under the direction of a chief and a deputy chief, and especially trained in fire fighting and salvage work.

The Gamewell Company's buildings are now equipped with a Gamewell Dualarm system which sounds a local alarm within all the buildings, thereby aiding in the proper location of the fire and evacuation of the buildings; and, being directly connected with the municipal fire department of the City of Newton, it simultaneously summons the Fire Department of that City.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Fire Chief Dunn was presented with his Chief's badge by Mayor Childs and Deputy Chief Ritchel was presented with his Deputy's badge by Fire Chief Randlett. Chief Dunn was recently appointed Safety Director of the Gamewell organization and is also a member of the New England Fire Chiefs Association.

"Yuletide Suggestions" Is Topic At Cooking Classes

Cooking of that all important Christmas turkey and "fixings" will be easier for those women who attend this week's sessions of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company's free cooking classes. At the same time they will be given many welcome suggestions for gala entertaining during the holidays.

Because the subject of "Yuletide Suggestions" is particularly timely and because this is the closing session of the fall series, it is expected that a large gathering will be on hand to watch the demonstration of Mrs. Mahady.

As in previous classes, all food prepared during the course of the informal, entertaining and instructive lecture will be given away among those in attendance. In addition, some fortunate lady will be given a basket of Christmas goodies.

Posture Competition At Osteopathic Xmas Bazaar

The Newton Auxiliary of the Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital and Clinics, Jamaica Plain, has several Newton entries in the Form-and-Posture Competition for boys and girls 6 to 10, being conducted in connection with the Association's bazaar, "Mrs. Santa Claus' Store," at the Hotel Vendome, Saturday afternoon Dec. 11th. There will be one class for boys and another for girls. A silver cup and two ribbons will be awarded to the three best in each class.

"Mrs. Santa Claus' Store" promises to be one of the most interesting charity bazaars of the Christmas season. The Newton Auxiliary will have the Christmas Table at the Bazaar, the Committee consisting of Mrs. Everett G. Pierce, Chairman; Mrs. Herbert Good, Mrs. E. Alden Wood, Miss Lilian E. Martin.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Hallahan of 53 Reservoir ave., Chestnut Hill, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathryn L. Hallahan, to Edward Costello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Costello of Fenwood rd., Boston, at a tea given at their home on Saturday afternoon. Miss Hallahan is a graduate of the Sacred Heart Convent in Boston and Boston University School of Art. Mr. Costello is connected with a Boston newspaper.

LOCKWOOD—TAYLOR

Miss Grace Madeleine Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Taylor of 30 Foster st., Newtonville, was married to Norman Edward Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lockwood of Neholden rd., Waban, on Saturday evening, Dec. 4, in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. J. Franklyn Knotts performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a veil of Alencon lace and carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias. Mrs. David Morris of West Newton was the matron of honor and Miss Miriam Lockwood, sister of the groom, of Waban, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Dexter Dimock of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Edgar Bell of Norwich, Conn. They all wore gowns of white moire and carried bouquets of red roses.

David Morris of West Newton was the best man and the ushers were George W. Taylor, Jr., brother of the bride; her cousin, Frederick W. Briggs, Jr.; Paul F. Lockwood, brother of the groom, all of Newton, and Dr. Raymond E. Moore of Providence R. I.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

WETHERBEE—ANGELL

Miss Beulah Eleanor Angell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Angell of Watertown, was married to Wilfred Alexander Wetherbee, 2nd, son of Mrs. Edward Tyler Wetherbee of Orchard st., Newton, on Saturday evening, Nov. 27, in the Immanuel Baptist Church. Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., of the Andover-Newton Theological School, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Mrs. John H. Beedle of Arlington as matron of honor, Miss Barbara Marston West of Newton and Mrs. Walter V. Haskins of Rutland, Vermont, as bridesmaids, and Miss Phyllis Marilyn Miller, younger sister of the bride, and her cousin, Miss Kathleen Ham, of Swampscott, as junior bridesmaids. Raymond Clark of Newton was the best man. The ushers were John Hunnewell Beedle of Arlington, Walter V. Haskins of Rutland, Vt.; Arthur W. Clark, Albert E. Holdridge, Howard Runnel, all of Newton, and Russell E. Angell, brother of the bride.

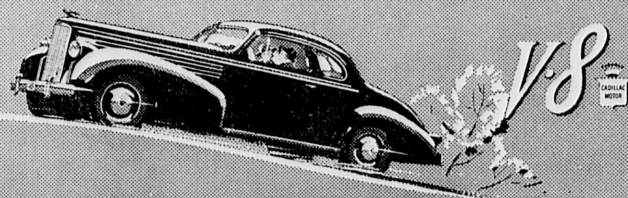

A reception was held in the parish house following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Wetherbee are on a wedding trip to North Carolina and after January 1st will be at home at 17 Everett st., Cambridge.

The bride is a graduate of the Wheelock School, 1933, and the groom of Boston University.

NOW-LOOK AT

LA SALLE!

Performance THAT REACHES THE TOP WITH ECONOMY THAT'S CLOSE TO THE BOTTOM

NO MATTER how long or how far he drives his LaSalle V-8, every owner thrills anew whenever he takes the wheel!

That's because LaSalle V-8 performance is ever-new V-8 performance. No sudden emergency ever challenges the 125 horsepower of its Cadillac-built V-8 engine. Whether the need be tremendous power, flashing acceleration, or sustained speed—LaSalle responds instantly, smoothly, quietly, brilliantly!

Of course it's amazing that performance like this should spring from an engine as frugal in its use of gasoline and oil as is LaSalle's engine.

But the fact that LaSalle performance is so brilliant—and LaSalle economy so outstanding—is one of the major reasons why LaSalle was the favorite fine-car of nearly 35,000 people in 1937!

If you want performance that reaches the top with economy that's close to the bottom—you have only one choice—get the new LaSalle V-8... the world's most economical fine-car! See this remarkable value—soon!

Office of the City Clerk of Newton
City Hall, Newton Centre
Massachusetts

Notice is hereby given of the following order (No. 76393) adopted by the Board of Aldermen on October 4, 1937, and approved by the Mayor on October 5, 1937, relative to the

CITY ELECTION
ORDERED

That the citizens of this city, qualified to vote for city officers, assemble in the several precincts in which they are entitled to vote in the several polling places designated for the purpose by the Board of Aldermen, on TUESDAY, DECEMBER 14th, 1937 to give in their votes for Mayor, to serve for term of two years.

Seven Aldermen-at-large, being one from each ward, to serve for terms of two years.

Two Members of the School Committee, being one each from Wards 3 and 6, to serve for terms of three years; One member of the School Committee from Ward 7 for unexpired term of one year.

Seven Aldermen-by-Ward, being one from each Ward to serve for terms of one year.

Also to vote on acceptance of Chapter 150, Acts of the General Court of 1937, "An Act providing for Biennial Elections in the City of Newton," questions to appear on the ballot in the following form:

Question (1) Shall municipal elections in this city be held biennially under the provisions of an act passed by the general court during the current year entitled, "An act providing for biennial municipal elections in the City of Newton," providing among other things that the four-year terms or two-year terms for members of the school committee as may be determined by the voters in answer to Question (2)? Yes—No Question (2) If municipal elections are held biennially as aforesaid, which one of the following plans relative to the terms of members of the school committee shall be adopted? A. Four-year terms. B. Two-year terms.

Each voter shall make a cross in the space at the right of the plan under question (2) which he desires to have adopted. If a voter has made a cross in each such space his vote on question (2) shall not be counted.

Members of the school committee shall serve for terms of FOUR years each.

Plan B. Members of the school committee shall serve for terms of TWO years each.

The Mayor, Aldermen-at-Large and Members of the School Committee to be elected by the voters of the city at large, and the Mayor, Aldermen-at-Large and Members of the School Committee to be elected by and from the voters of each of the seven wards. All terms of office to commence on the first secular day of January 1938.

And it is further ORDERED: That the polling places at said meetings be opened at seven o'clock A.M., and closed at eight o'clock P.M., and the City Clerk is hereby directed to give notice hereof.

Attest: FRANK M. GRANT, City Clerk.

Memorandum: The polling places are at the same locations as used at the 1936 State Election.

Lochiatto Can Use Noise Truck

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night granted a permit for the use of a noise truck on streets in this city between December 7 and 14 in conjunction with his campaign for Mayor. Alderman Colby, chairman of the Licenses Committee, refrained from voting on this matter because of his candidacy for Mayor. Alderman Schipper, speaking for the committee, explained that the Street Commissioner had granted Lochiatto a permit for the use of the truck with the loud speaker, and that similar permits had been granted in past years to others by the Street Commissioner. Later, City Solicitor Bartlett had ruled that the Street Commissioner has no authority to grant such a permit; it is the function of the Aldermen and Mayor. Schipper said that Lochiatto had told the Licenses Committee that he had spent good money to engage the sound truck after having received the permit from the Street Commissioner, and that he would be out the amount he paid unless granted the permit. Therefore the Licenses Committee, although the majority on it are opposed to sound trucks, favored granting the permit, but would vote against granting any in the future. Alderman Gaddis concurred with Schipper.

about $1.50 in pennies in the cash drawer, and about $51 in coin concealed in a tin can on the front window of the laundry.

A shoe repairman who occupies a neighboring shop told the police he had seen Sing leave his shop Saturday noon, but did not see him return. Others also claimed to have seen the murdered man on Saturday morning, but some of these changed their stories when further questioned by the police. The dead man was known to have loaned sums of money to his countrymen and was supposed to have been a member of one of the large Chinese gangs. Police were told he had been married in China and was the father of eight children, one son residing in New York.

Inspector Goode visited the Chinatown section in Boston with Boston police, and questioned a taxi driver there who had brought Sing to Newton from Boston several times. The taxi driver could give no information which was of assistance to the police. Sing had been absent from his shop recently for a period of several weeks, because of illness. During his absence two young Chinamen conducted the business. He carried on the laundry business under the name of Harry Chin.

Community Forum

with every type of problem confronting young and old alike. It has been said that the discoveries of the new psychology will be more revolutionary in their effects upon society and upon our personal beliefs and attitudes than any other influence in history. Mr. Seabury himself says "Human nature is after all the biggest element in life. Without it business is nothing, marriage is nothing, life is nothing."

civilization. We believe in real, not superficial friendship.

In this column last week we intentionally quoted a statement we made in the GRAPHIC on November 1, 1935. We then said that: "We used to think that there was some truth to the allusion made by many that Mr. Childs was a practical and expert politician, but we realized that it was and is not so—he did not, even to a reasonable degree, reward some of his most loyal supporters by appointing them to city jobs." The question can be reasonably asked: "Why do you now criticize Mr. Childs for his failure to reward a few of those who worked in his behalf, and who sought assistance from him?" This is our answer. During the sixteen years that Mr. Childs was Mayor, prior to 1930, he had little opposition and he was regarded as invincible. But from 1929 until 1935 Mr. Childs' political power in Newton was clipped, and during those years many of his fair-weather friends deserted him.

He had ample opportunities to observe who were his real friends and who were his pseudo friends. And some of his real friends made material sacrifices by remaining loyal to him during those six years. And material sacrifices made since the depression set in in 1929 by persons who could ill afford them deserved to be remembered.

At Auburndale last Friday evening the Mayor told a small gathering that in his belief the writer will vote for him. We shall not. We do not make a practice of talking one way and acting another. Our vote for Mayor will be cast for Colby. He has been an efficient alderman and has, in our opinion requisite ability and knowledge of city affairs to serve as a capable Mayor.

that he should reciprocate for "T. D." launching him into that long tenure of office. But the Mayor failed to accede to his original political rooster, although many of us thought he owed it to Mr. Murphy. The latter died in January, 1928.

When Sinclair Weeks announced his candidacy for Mayor in 1929 many of Mr. Childs' long time supporters publicly endorsed Weeks, although Childs did not announce until later that he would not be a candidate. It was not that they had anything against Mr. Childs, but some believed that 16 years was more than enough for one man to fill the office of Mayor in Newton or any other city. Capable men in Newton had been aspiring to fill the office, including some former aldermen who were, and still are, close personal friends of the Mayor. In our opinion fate was kind to Mr. Childs when he relinquished the mayoralty in December 31, 1929. Much of the world had been in a disturbed condition, politically and economically since the World War, and this erstwhile prosperous country of ours was on the eve of an economic depression which was to bring poverty and privations to millions in the U. S. A., a large percentage of whom had been industrious, self-supporting people, who had never dreamed they would be forced to receive public aid. In Newton, as all over this country, public welfare became a major instead of a minor problem, and Mayor Weeks had to face an official responsibility which his predecessor had never been burdened with. Eventually the Federal Government through the NRA and the WPA took much of the relief burden of the city. Political influence counted in appointments to preferred ERA and WPA jobs.

In the Weeks-White campaign of 1933, although Mr. Childs was linked with Mr. White in that campaign, and the political future of Mr. Childs was supposed to hinge to a certain degree on the success or failure of Mr. White, a large percentage of Childs' former political friends supported Weeks, and a number of employees of the city openly worked for the latter. Although Mr. Weeks tried to give the city a good administration, he believed in reciprocity. He did not reward his political enemies and forget his political friends.

In 1935 Mr. Childs realized he had a real fight on when the campaign for General Needham became well organized early that year, and he requested the aid of friends to assist him in his campaign. Mr. Childs' campaign, though of comparatively short duration, was well organized. Two members on his committee were residents of Precinct 1, Ward 1, which is mostly in the Nonantum district. We asked a number of Nonantum residents to assist in the campaign weeks, and that section, and they gave valuable co-operation in visiting homes there, providing automobiles and working at the polls without compensation. Nonantum voted for Childs about 10 to 1 on election day, December 10, 1935. Even with no committee he would have carried that district by a big majority, but the many automobiles donated, and the workers at the polls certainly were factors in bringing out a large number of voters who otherwise would not have cast ballots.

A few days after election we received a spontaneous, appreciative note of thanks from Mr. Childs. It was all we expected. We had never asked Mr. Childs for a personal favor during the years he was Mayor, nor had we given him the slightest indication we desired any. In fact, when some of our friends prophesied that we would be the recipient of patronage from the Mayor when we remained loyal to him during the 6 years between 1930 and 1936 when he was in a political eclipse, if and when he should resume that office, we differed. We had no delusions that we would be the recipient of any reward from Mr. Childs. During the many years we supported him we had asked him for only two favors. In 1924 we requested him to arrange to have the child of a friend of ours be permitted to continue in Newton High School for another year. The family had moved into an adjoining town and the parent was willing to pay the tuition required. The Mayor promised to attend to this routine matter, but forgot to do so. In 1933 we requested Mr. Childs to assist in obtaining an appointment for a friend who was endeavoring to obtain a county position. He promised, but we heard nothing further on the matter from him. Despite these two experiences our loyalty to him did not cease.

Shortly after the election in 1935 we sent the Mayor-Elect a list of the names of those who had worked in

3 Months' Jail
Term For Payne

John J. Payne, 61, of 963 Centre st., Newton Centre, was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday on a statutory charge involving a woman who was referred to as the defendant's housekeeper. The complainant was Payne's wife, Mary F. Payne, from whom he is estranged. The trial was conducted in private before Judge Weston, who found Payne guilty and sentenced him to serve three months in Middlesex County prison. Payne appealed.
Payne was in the Newton court last July after he had been arrested by Newton police who went to his home when Mrs. Payne notified Newton police that her husband had assaulted her. At that time when struggling with Inspector Hammell who was arresting him, Payne broke one of Hammell's fingers.

Exams For Rodman
And Electrician

Examinations will be held on January 8 by the Mass. Civil Service Commission to fill two positions in the service of the City of Newton. The last date for filing applications is December 27 at 5 p. m. One examination will be for the job of electrician in the Wire Division of the Fire Department. Applicants must possess a journeyman electrician's license and a motor vehicle operator's license. They must be physically fit and obtain a passing mark of 70 per cent. The salary for this position is $1790.
The other examination will be for rodman in the City Engineer's Department. The salary is $15 a week. Applicants must have one year of practical experience in engineering work.

Youths Arrested
After Car Crash

Michael Monzone, 23, of Hanover st., Boston, and John Fay, 21, of Hooper st., Chelsea, were arrested Saturday afternoon by Patrolmen Jenkins and Taffe after the car they were riding in had hit two automobiles on the Worcester turnpike near Wood-cliff rd. Following the accidents the youths made no attempt to escape and waited until the police arrived. Fay told the police the car belonged to his brother and had been taken without authority. The pair had started for New York, became discouraged when the gasoline supply became low at Shrewsbury, and turned back to Boston. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and their cases continued until December 13.

Oldsmobile Given
At Elks Sat. Night

Newton Lodge of Elks will hold a mammoth penny sale at its hall, 423 Centre st., Newton on Saturday night, December 11th. The outstanding event at this sale will be the presentation of a new 1938 Oldsmobile sedan to a new 1938 Oldsmobile sedan. A number of turkeys will also be awarded at the sale. The proceeds will go to the charity fund of the lodge.

Newton Residents Active
In Shut-In Society Work

The Massachusetts Branch of the Shut-In Society, through its Associate Members, is giving cheer and comfort to its many invalid members. Several Newton people are included among the officers and active members of this philanthropic organization. Mrs. Charles H. Myers, 155 Chestnut st., West Newton is the president, while Mrs. Coburn Smith, 33 Berkeley st., West Newton, is the vice-president, and Miss Frances E. Stebbins, 86 Sargent st., Newton, is the corresponding secretary. One of the most active departments of the work is under the chairmanship of Mr. Alonzo A. Cole, of 15 Woodcliff rd., Newton Highlands. Mr. Cole is in charge of the men and keeps in touch with them by letters and friendly, seasonal greetings, besides helping them with their hobbies whenever he can. Among other Newton residents, whose committees do valuable work in keeping with the purpose of the Society, are Mrs. Durham Jones, 8 Park ave., Newton, and Mrs. R. D. Walker, 78 Farlow rd., Newton, both of the Library and Literature committee; Mrs. William F. King, 24 Eastbrook rd., West Newton, on the Birthday committee, and Mrs. H. Bigelow Emerson, 30 Beechcroft rd., Newton, chairman of Young People. Most important work is also done by the Visiting, Wheel Chair, Publicity, Blind and Helping Hand committees. Having many shut-in members throughout the state, new associates are needed greatly to help with the work and are welcomed whether able to be active or merely contribute the one dollar or sustaining membership dues. If interested please communicate with Mrs. Charles H. Myers, 155 Chestnut st., West Newton, or Mrs. Coburn Smith, 33 Berkeley st., West Newton. Meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month, from October through May, at 10:30 a. m. in the Council Room of St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston, and all are welcome to attend. The date of the Annual Meeting is January 12th at 10:30 a. m., Council Room, St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston.

Dana Heads Newton Area
In Community Fund Drive

Ripley L. Dana of Newton Center, general chairman of Greater Boston's Community Fund campaign in 1936 will serve in the coming campaign as vice-chairman of the Newton Area. Mr. Dana, who believes in the slogan of "being a good neighbor," as demonstrated by the 106 hospitals, health and social agencies which serve the Greater Boston community, is a director of the Community Federation of Boston, as well as serving as treasurer of Christopher Shop and director of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, all Community Fund agencies.

Announcement of Mr. Dana's appointment was made this week by Raymond S. Wilkins, chairman of the Metropolitan Division.
In marshaling his forces in the 75 communities of the metropolitan section reached by the services of the 106 hospitals, health and social agencies in Greater Boston's Community Fund, Mr. Wilkins commented:

"We have a big job ahead of us, but I am confident that the people of Newton will rally to the support of Mr. Dana as he goes out to enroll local campaign workers."

"Our goal of 15,000 workers this year must be met if we are going to do the right kind of a job to maintain the kind of Greater Boston community in which we are proud to live."

"Say, 'yes' when you are asked to help," urged Mr. Wilkins, "and see how happy you will be in the satisfaction of doing for others."

Salvation Army Drive
Seeks $5000 In Newton

The Salvation Army Newton Annual Appeal for $5000 to carry on its regular and needed charitable work is on. The Hon. J. Weston Allen, former Atty-Gen. of Mass., as Chairman; William M. Cahill, of Newton Trust Co., as Treasurer head a large committee of prominent business and social leaders of Newton in the campaign. The outcome is certain to be a decisive and quick endorsement of the Army's constructive work. The committee is well organized, the temper of the individual Newtonite to give to such a splendid cause was never more sensitive to the need for help. And every member of the committee is filled with enthusiasm, knowing that Newton has always "come through" for the Army.

A character-building, non-sectarian organization, the Salvation Army supplies both physical and spiritual qualities in its methods of reconstructing and saving torn and battered lives.
In the members of the committee there is seen a fine cross-section of Newton's special willingness to throw itself wholeheartedly into the task of solving the social needs that face every town every day.

Newton Committee

On the committee are Miss Bertha W. Allen, Hon. J. Weston Allen, Joseph W. Bartlett, Rev. M. R. Boynton, D.D.; Francis J. Burrage, William M. Cahill, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Charles H. Clark, Dr. Frank R. Clark, John N. Eaton, Rev. Ray A. Eusden, Edward J. Frost, Maxwell P. Gaddis, James P. Gallacher, Roland F. Gammons, Joseph Goodman, Frank M. Grant, Rev. William M. Gunter, Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Rev. Everett C. Herriek, D.D.; Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, Rev. Herbert Hitchen, Sydney B. Holden, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, J. Leonard Johnson, Seward W. Jones, Rev. J. Franklin Knotts, Dr. Edward L. Leonard, James B. Melcher, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, William N. Ormsby, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, Mrs. W. S. Redfield, William H. Rice, William T. Rich, Mrs. L. B. Rogers, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall.

Andrew S. Seller, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D.; Rupert C. Thompson, Mrs. George H. Tracy, Julius E. Warren, William F. White, Mrs. Steven B. Wilson, Dr. Guy M. Winslow, Mrs. Edward H. Woods, P. R. Ziegler.

Contributions may be sent direct to Treasurer William M. Cahill, at Newton Trust Company, or given to Salvationist, dressed in regular Army uniform and carrying as credentials a letter of introduction signed by Lt. Col. Donald McMillan.

This latter point with regard to collectors is stressed by the committee. Every precaution, that every contribution is received by a duly accredited representative, will be taken by those in charge of the details of the Appeal.

To Broadcast Talk on Work of Visiting Teacher

Newton is one of the comparatively small number of Massachusetts cities which employ a visiting teacher. Newton citizens will therefore be particularly interested to listen to a broadcast on The Place of the Visiting Teacher in the Public School Program. This broadcast, sponsored by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, may be heard on Wednesday, December 15th, at 4:30 over station WEEL. The speaker will be Miss Maranda E. Prentiss, executive secretary of the Home and School Visitors Association.

The visiting teacher entails no additional expense as she is the replacement of a former Attendance Service required by the State.

Boys Minstrels Add $110
To Bell-Murphy Fund

The Boys Neighborhood minstrels, which were given at the Workshop in Newton Highlands on Nov. 26th, realized the sum of $110 which has been turned over to the Bell-Murphy fund for the benefit of the widows of the two Newton policemen slain last August. The boys in the group were all under 14 years of age and worked hard to make the affair a success. Mrs. Celia Wellman of West Newton supervised the staging of the minstrels.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Winter Flower Show

The Newton Centre Garden Club will hold its Winter Flower Show on Tuesday, December 14th, from 2 until 9 o'clock, at the Public Library in Newton Centre.

There will be six classes of exhibits, all competitive, as follows: Christmas wreaths, swags, or garlands; Arrangements of out-of-door material, suitable for house decorations; Fruit and flowers, arranged on a board, to be provided by the committee; Christmas tables; Arrangements of flowers; and Creches.

Entertaining Plans And Parties For Christmas

The Children's Christmas Party given by the Newton Community Club will be held in the Underwood School Hall, on Thursday, December 16th, at 2 p. m., with Mrs. James Melcher in charge of the many delightful plans. Mr. Frank Madden will entertain with stories, songs, comedy, juggling, guitar and ventriloquism.

Children from the Stearns and Underwood schools will be the special guests.

A troop of Girl Scouts, with Mrs. Sterling Loveland as Captain, will help with the tree and with refreshments.

Waban Woman's Club

"Medieval Christmas Carols" will be the subject of a talk by Professor George M. Sneath, of Boston University, at the Waban Woman's Club Meeting on Monday, December 13th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Waban Neighborhood Club House. Dr. Sneath will discuss the origin, quaintness, and charm of the Christmas legends inherited from the middle ages. The meeting will be of special interest since Dr. Sneath is a resident of Waban.

The Club invites members' children of Junior High School age, to attend the meeting.

A social hour, under the direction of Mrs. Hugh F. Hare, will follow the lecture. Mrs. Andrew Sides and Mrs. Frederick Stegich will pour.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The next meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club will be held on Tuesday evening, December 14th, at 8 p. m., at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George H. R. Gosman, 57 Metacombet rd., Waban. This will be a Christmas meeting, with an exhibition of Christmas Table trees, table centerpieces, wreaths, and Creches. "The Creche in Legend and Decoration" will be the topic discussed by Mr. Ernest J. Weaver and Mrs. Ward I. Cornell.

Refreshments will be served.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Edith Winifred Fisher will talk upon "Christmas Eve on Beacon Hill" and "Creche in Modern Art," at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club next Monday evening, December 14th, in the Club Room at Emerson School. At this time donations will be given for the Disabled War Veterans, an annual custom of this Club in remembering the veterans at Christmas time. The Hospitality committee will be the hostesses of the evening. The business meeting opens at 7:30 o'clock.

West Newton Community Service Club

The December meeting of the West Newton Community Service Club will be held on Wednesday, the 15th, in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church. The Glee Club, under the direction of Marlon Kingsbury, will render a musical program of Christmas Carols, including "Through the Dark the Dreamers Came," by Mabel W. Daniels; "O Holy Night," by Adolphe Adam, in which Doris Robinson will sing a solo part; and, for the last selection, Mrs. Kingsbury has made a special arrangement of the old favorite hymn "Silent Night."

Next on the program will be a one-act play entitled "The Chastening," by C. R. Kennedy, and presented by the Bishop-Lee Players. This is a talented group of players who have been appearing in a summer stock company known as "The Nell Gwyn Players."

Mrs. Stanley Bolster and her committee will serve tea.

Auburndale Garden Club

Continuing the custom inaugurated in previous years, that has given so much pleasure and satisfaction, of making their own Christmas wreaths and decorations, the members of the Auburndale Garden Club will meet on Monday, December 13th, from 10:30 to 4 o'clock, in the Auburndale Club House for this purpose.

Boughs of evergreens, berries, wreath foundations, and painting materials will be provided by a committee consisting of Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe, Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, and Mrs. George W. Armstrong, so that not only wreaths, but table centerpieces, garlands, and swags may be fashioned, as well.

Luncheon will be served at noon by Mrs. James Dunlop, president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, assisted by several of the members. Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr., chairman of the Garden Club, is in charge of arrangements.

Auburndale Business and Professional Group

The Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its Annual Christmas Party on Tuesday evening, December 14th, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Miss Rosa B. Allen, 75 Prairie ave., Auburndale. Miss Gertrude Selley is assisting the hostess in the plans for the program.

The greater part of the evening will be devoted to the filling of the Christmas stockings, which the Group sends each year to the Newton Welfare Bureau for distribution, and to packing the dolls which the members have dressed for the inmates of the Canton Home for Crippled Children. A social hour and refreshments will conclude the Party.

Women Invited to Assist In Making Dressings

The Newton Centre Woman's Club is opening their Club House on Friday, December 17, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., for the making of surgical dressings for Chinese relief.

Club women of the village are invited to attend and their assistance in making these dressings will be greatly appreciated. They may bring a box luncheon and coffee will be served by the Club.

Two Delightful Programs

A varied program, a large attendance, and good weather all combined to make the Maintenance Party of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Friday, December 3rd, a great success. In the morning, Mrs. Cromwell, of Ellens, gave a fascinating talk in the Auditorium on "Framing the Face." Mrs. Cromwell illustrated with her four models, the effect of putting on the wrong type of hat, fur, collars, and earrings, and the satisfactory results when the correct choice was made. At the close of the talk each model was most becomingly "batted," according to her type, and the audience had gained from this talk much practical advice for future shopping. The models were Mrs. George Wentworth, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Mrs. Audrey Walters, and Mrs. Raymond Green.

Luncheon in Social Hall followed, and card tables set for four and decorated with Christmas colors made an attractive and comfortable place for eating and chatting. After luncheon, bridge was played until 4 o'clock, and appropriate favors of Christmas centerpieces of green pine, bayberry, and red berries were given to the winners. At one end of the room a Christmas Gift Table, with Mrs. Henri Beltzung and Mrs. George Curtis in charge, added to the holiday spirit.

The Maintenance committee, of which the Club's president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, is the chairman, staged this unique and successful party.

"Beauty is its own excuse for being," Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, chairman of the Program committee, quoted as the keynote of the afternoon's entertainment of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, December 7th. She stated that in the midst of busy lives, the inspiration of beauty was needed to meet one's responsibilities joyously, and that thought should embrace "whatsoever things are lovely." The finished and artistic program that followed well illustrated her introduction, given by the artists, Edmund Bradley and his pet, Ballet Russe, assisted by Philip Dunlop, baritone, and Reginald Boardman, accompanist. A moving canvas of color, grace, and beauty was held before an enchanted audience, with the soft glow of curtains of the stage as a lovely background. Exquisite in costumes of white satin, the dancers lilted to the strains of the Blue Danube while in marked contrast was the colorful interpretation of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody," danced by Mr. Bradley and Miss Rita out. In "Reflets dans l'Eau," by Debussy, one felt the poetry of motion in a slow legato, and the soft gray lighting and costumes added a charm of mystery to music and gesture. At intervals, Mr. Dunlop gave several excellent solos; an Old Hebrew Melody, dramatically combined with a solo dance, by Mr. Bradley, proved most effective, while the accompaniment of Mr. Boardman for both singing and dancing, was added musical pleasure.

Before the entertainment a short business meeting was held. The corresponding secretary announced that Christmas greens and prepared cones would be on sale at the Christmas Party, December 21st, and that orders for wreaths could be made in advance.

The president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton City Federation, who told of two projects that gave clubwomen an opportunity to be of service to others. The first was to be in January, and was to be a "Clothing Drive." A large number of burlap bags have been secured, and members were invited to fill these with warm clothing that they could donate. When the bags were filled the Adams School in Newtonville, would, upon telephone call, send a truck to call for them. From January 3rd to 10th trucks would be sent from door to door to collect bags. Clothing, Mrs. Hay said, was desperately needed in the Newtons, and she stated that 7,000 out of Newton's 70,000 population were on relief. To make the task quicker and easier for Club members, burlap bags were ready at the Club House and one bag could be used by several women who lived in the same neighborhood. The second project was a Symphony Concert in the High School Auditorium on February 4th, which would be a real social evening. The concert will be given by the WPA Symphony Orchestra, all well-trained musicians, 60 per cent of the proceeds will go to the men of the WPA project; and 40 per cent to the Newton School Music department, the money to be given to children whose parents are unable to provide them with instruments.

Miss Marion Bassett, who is the Club's beloved Santa Claus, spoke of the poverty in many homes and of how much joy the Christmas Party annually brought to the little ones.

The American Home committee announced that the Bridge Lesson of December 14th will be cancelled, as the teacher, Mrs. Merton S. Keith, has been called to California. The next lesson will be on December 28th, as scheduled.

Before and after the meeting an exhibition of photographs by Mr. Harry Harding, Jr., Art Director of the Barta Press, Cambridge, and son of the Art chairman, Mrs. Harry L. Harding, was enjoyed in the Art Gallery. In subject, Mr. Harding's photographs were most unusual, as they included many technical pictures of industry where clear-cut lines, unconsciousness of pose, and simplicity of composition achieved interesting results. Besides the technical pictures, there were several other beautiful studies; two of children especially, with their artistic composition and fine contrasts of light and shade. The photographs were well displayed with Chinese and Paisley shawls for a color note and background.

The dessert-coffee, managed by the Hospitality committee, Mrs. George A. Savage, chairman, made a pleasant social hour. The hostesses for the day were Mrs. Henry B. Weidner, chairman; Mrs. Henry B. Mettler, and Mrs. Carl H. Hanson, and the pourers were Mrs. Raymond Tucker, Mrs. Fred Blanchard, and Mrs. William R. Mattson.

A pretty feature of the Club meeting at this season is the passing of money baskets by children of members for the Christmas Party, while Mrs. Walter Harrington played a delightful accompaniment to the jingling coins.

Various Events and Programs

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: Man's Immortality Revealed

by

BICKNELL YOUNG, C.S.B.

of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

A lecture on Christian Science was delivered last evening under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, in the church edifice at the corner of Walnut and Otis sts., Newtonville. Mr. Bicknell Young, C.S.B., of Chicago, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, was the lecturer. He was introduced by Mr. Raymond Wilson.

In introducing Mr. Young, Mr. Wilson, First Reader, said: "Friends:—We are to have the pleasure this evening of listening to one who has for many years served the cause of Christian Science faithfully and well. This church extends a sincere welcome to him and to our guests."

Our lecturer speaks with authority for he is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. I am happy to introduce to you Mr. Bicknell Young of Chicago, Illinois, who will address us on the subject "Christian Science: Man's Immortality Revealed."

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

The propositions of Christian Science, although not as yet universally accepted, are more or less familiar to the reading public. It is also well known that this Science is primarily a healing system, and that the church organization, including all the activities of the movement, sprang originally from the healing work which the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, performed. The deep philosophic and scientific meaning of Mrs. Eddy's discovery can be gained only through progressive experience. A mere perusal of her writings is not sufficient to disclose their full import. They must be conscientiously and thoroughly studied. Her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," the textbook of Christian Science, is widely read even by people who are not as yet known as Christian Scientists.

The doctrine which this book sets forth is unique. It enables one who takes the pains to understand it, to overcome sin and heal sickness by one and the same means, wholly spiritual. It broadens the concept of being, vitalizes religion, and glorifies science by establishing logically and incontrovertibly that the word "God" signifies incomparably more of purely religious as well as practical scientific value than has generally been associated with it, and this Science shows that God, the actual and only cause of all true phenomena, is understandable, and that His power is demonstrable by and in behalf of mankind.

In order that this may become apparent in everyday life, a different concept of Deity from that generally accepted had to be discerned and set forth and made apprehensible. To this end Christian Science enlists intelligence. It makes no appeal at all to mere belief or imagination. It shows beyond all controversy that the knowable God is the only God, and that to know Him is the highest use of intelligence, and that learning how to know God aright, we learn by the same means how to know man aright.

Christian Science is thus seen to be what it actually is, the Science of Life. Now each one of us is instinctively and permanently interested in life or existence. Not only is this interest instinctive, but in view of the fact that existence is fundamental to everything that one may be or do, or desire to be or do, the Science of Life is unquestionably the most important subject that can engage our attention. According to the beliefs, education, and experience of mankind, seldom influenced as they are by actual truth, existence is wholly material. Even religions, as widely conceived of, accept matter as the reality of existence and teach that to gain spiritual existence a change of place brought about through death is necessary. Whereas Christian Science accepts Spirit as the only possible actuality of existence and teaches that the way of gaining it is not through a change of place brought about by death or disaster, but by a change of consciousness brought about solely by spiritual education.

The numberless uncertainties accepted as legitimately constituting human life, offer no deliverance from sickness, sin, and death. Yet these uncertainties largely compromise and always influence prevailing systems of education. They find their way into all theories of philosophy and all forms of art, and even invade the realm of science.

In higher mathematics, which humanly represents science in its highest form, we find the theory of probability, or what is sometimes called "the uncertainty principle" engrossing the attention of mathematicians because it is claimed to be of comparatively greater accuracy than the previous theory of certainty, and thus higher mathematics seems to confirm the general belief of mankind that the most uncertain thing is "certainty."

Such theories do not appeal to reason, neither do they satisfy the longings of the human heart. Looking to them or to matter for an explanation of our existence, or for satisfaction intellectually or morally, is a vain thing. Interesting as all intellectuality is, the fact is that so long as systems of education are based upon material observations solely, they hold out no hope of deliverance for mankind individually or collectively.

In the midst of this conjectural or chaotic jumble of thoughts and things let us remind ourselves that there is ever something which admits of no controversy. It is our existence. All religious and scientific theories are subservient to the fact that we exist. We may have had endless questions concerning it, and many of us have had. We may have sought the answer to them vainly in philosophy or in religion, as ordinarily taught,—many of us have done so,—but seek as we may in any such ways it will always be found by honest investigation that the one and only system which provides a satisfactory response to the ceaseless interrogatories of the human mind, is Christian Science, because by means of correct instruction it explains the Principle of our existence, showing what we actually are in contradistinction to what we materially appear to be.

Experience has proved that no human being can understand his own existence, much less the laws of it, if he regards it as material. Seeking himself materially and trying to find out what he actually is, he is more mystified the more he tries. So much is this the case that it is quite generally said by distinguished natural scientists who devote themselves to the explanation of matter that the more they investigate it the more elusive it becomes.

This is exactly in accordance with the teachings of Christian Science. Over sixty years ago Mary Baker Eddy, through spiritual inspiration and spiritual research, saw clearly that matter did not hold within itself either principle or law by which to explain itself or anything else. She saw and announced that God, the primal Principle of all being, is supersensible, to be understood only through an awakened recognition of His divine and infinite self-sufficiency and power.

St. Paul writes, "Your life is hid with Christ in God." That passage is generally associated with religious emotional ecstasy. Nobody supposed that it had any other value, and least of all that it was a scientific statement. Nevertheless, it is a scientific statement, and Mrs. Eddy makes that clear in Science and Health by showing the meaning to be that your life is hid "with Truth in divine Love" (p. 335). She announces throughout her books that the word "God" signifies the Mind that is Love, that divine, self-existent entity best expressed by the words "divine Principle."

You and I do not exist of ourselves. We had no voluntary part in our present sense of existence. From any point of view that may be assumed in the name of science or religion, we are obliged to admit that there is but one Self-existence, God, divine Principle, the source and substance of everything real is self-existent. The relationship of divine Principle, God, to ourselves and to everything of which we may be cognizant, is necessarily that of perfection. Jesus said, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." And that is what Christian Science shows us to be, notwithstanding what appears to be the overwhelming testimony of material sense to the contrary.

Admittedly such doctrine is not in accord with personal sense. Because of this fact Christian Science has been the object of much criticism and some attempted witicism. Such a position, however, especially on the part of the intellectual world, is anomalous. It indicates that thinkers often fear to think. There is a frontier to their thinking and they dread to extend or cross it. That frontier is matter, and its creatures are the personal senses. Yet if religion depended upon these for information it would not teach even a belief in God, and science itself would be deprived of facts that are unquestionably true.

Christian Science is not, however, transcendental or merely idealistic. While it enthrones Spirit, Mind, as the source and substance of all real phenomena, it does not thereby predicate substance as either shadowy or imaginary. On the contrary, it reveals substance as both primal and permanent, for substance defined as Spirit unquestionably signifies eternal duration, the very nature of self-existent Principle, God, and consequently the nature of His creation.

This Science is therefore necessarily contrary to the general belief of mankind to the effect that matter is substance, and consequently Christian Science repudiates matter and all materialistic theories, yet actual experience in the demonstration of this Science shows clearly that so doing human beings do not thereby find themselves less substantial. On the contrary, the Science of permanent existence being at work makes everyday existence more real and more harmonious than it could otherwise be.

To use a very obvious illustration: we are not less tangible to ourselves or others, nor have we lost anything of our real existence, when our attention is so engrossed with something interesting or inspiring that for the time being we forget our material existence. This shows that matter and material theories form no criterion by which to be intelligent, for thought goes on without the consciousness of matter.

The facts of Christianity are necessarily divine. They are the facts of our real existence revealing the Principle of our being. They have the advantage of permanency, which is easily acknowledged, and they also have the advantage of power, which is not so easily acknowledged until it is understood.

So-called material facts are constantly changing and are never wholly durable. Speaking in a strictly scientific manner, facts are never material. Invariably they are spiritual, and necessarily they are discoverable wholly in the realm of thought. Intelligence is not a visible realm. The effects of spiritually cultivated intelligence are, however, visible, so that even people who do not understand Christian Science often observe and testify that Christian Science heals disease, and today practically the whole civilized world acknowledges the healing power of Mrs. Eddy's discovery.

Bearing in mind that the word "God" signifies the one self-existent, divine Principle, Mind, Spirit, Love, the realm of thought. Jesus declared that the kingdom of God is there. It is there alone that Science has its being. No science, however material it may seem to be, exists or operates otherwise than in and by means of intelligence.

The realm of human consciousness is the realm of what is called right and wrong, righteousness and sin, good and evil. Mrs. Eddy saw that and stated with relentless clarity over sixty years ago in her book Science and Health that it is mortal mind that sins and suffers, not the human body.

Tardily in our times distinguished natural scientists in their ceaseless investigation of matter have made discoveries that corroborate Mrs. Eddy's doctrine. The fact is that in the light of pure Science it is wholly erroneous to believe that one should doctor the human body in order to heal disease. The human body does not know itself. One does not know anything about itself. If one were to ask at any time of his body, "How do you feel?" he would receive no answer, for the body is not capable either of feeling or answering, and it does not know that it is supposed to feel.

The fact that the human being can think of his body or is conscious of it, shows that he is not in the body, and being conscious of it, it is beyond controversy to say that he can control it by divine power if he learns the Science of divine power. It is therefore clearly to be seen that there is something for us to do, and Christian Science shows us what to do and how to do it.

The testimony of personal sense cannot resemble the infinite in the slightest degree. Only by invoking one's conscious thinking ability in a divine way can that ability be exercised according to its original nature, which is the divine Mind. Divine power is available to human beings only in this way, and the rule of this culture is a simple one and is found, and may be constantly operative, in the measure that one maintains the true idea of what the word "God" actually means.

Unquestionably that wonderful word signifies eternity. Self-existence cannot be signified, less the word "God" could have no meaning and would be valueless without that significance.

In the light of real existence thus disclosed, we have the opportunity of becoming practical Christians by being practical Scientists. In fact, we cannot become the one without being the other. When Mary Baker Eddy gave the title Christian Science to her discovery, she announced the oneness of Christianity and science, and at the same time very largely explained her discovery to all who are willing to accept the explanation. In order to be practical it must equip human beings with the understanding and ability to deal with those human conditions which are universally admitted to be afflictive and destructive.

Let it be repeated, Christian Science is the healing system of pure Christianity. The understanding of the fact that man's immortality is primal and indispensable in demonstrating this Science. Putting the fact in an understandable way, we are justified in saying that health must be primarily divine rather than material or merely human. We cannot conceive of the ever-living otherwise than as never dying, which means that no destructive element could form any part of the conception of man or creation by the divine Mind. Health, or spiritual wholeness, is thus seen to characterize man as well as God. Health is the nature of man, because man as revealed in this Science represents, expresses, or reflects God. Health is not material, neither is immortality a theory. Scientifically speaking immortality and health are the facts of our existence.

Such facts are not ordinarily associated with the word "science," but they should be. They are more worthy of the true meaning of science than anything that could be thought of, or put it still more correctly, they are incomparable in scientific, practical value. If it were possible for a human being at the present moment not only to consider the fact of his own immortality, but actually to realize that divine fact, he would be an absolutely healthy person, and the whole operation by which his health was established and became humanly evident would take place in the invisible realm of thought.

Jesus declared that the kingdom of God is there. It is there alone that Science has its being. No science, however material it may seem to be, exists or operates otherwise than in and by means of intelligence.

constituting the source and every substance or being of man and the universe, we can recognize that the divine nature belongs not only to God, Mind, but to man and to everything else that God, Mind, conceives of.

Man, representing Mind, is then correctly defined as the idea of Mind. This gives us an entirely different concept of ourselves from that of mere material personality, and our interest in our real existence and in the endeavor to demonstrate it, is thus stimulated step by step.

The Christian Science textbook says (p. 507), "Creation is ever appearing, and must ever continue to appear from the nature of its inexhaustible source." With the understanding that God is the self-existent Principle of all being, and that man, meaning ourselves, primarily and eternally represents God, it is readily seen that this idea of God and man is not human but divine, and it is just as readily provable that a more satisfactory and permanent sense of existence ensues when one maintains this idea.

Permanency is an instinctive desire. Every human being has it. It is expressed in the old philosophical saying "Self-preservation is the first law of nature." This is not wrong when properly understood. It coincides with the facts of real being. "Man in the likeness of God as revealed in Science cannot help being immortal," we read in Science and Health (p. 81).

Temporary existence with its inevitable beginning and ending does not satisfy us and does not represent real life. Mind, God, Spirit, But God, our divine, infinite, self-existence, or Life, can have no beginning or ending and must from the very nature of infinity be expressing Himself forever. Therefore as we consider the proposition of Christian Science that man in his true being represents or reflects God, we are obliged to admit the immortality of man and of all things, because the divine Principle of man and of everything exists with no "beginning of days, nor end of life," and can of necessity be represented only according to that divine and infinite nature.

Let it be repeated, Christian Science is the healing system of pure Christianity. The understanding of the fact that man's immortality is primal and indispensable in demonstrating this Science. Putting the fact in an understandable way, we are justified in saying that health must be primarily divine rather than material or merely human. thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true," according to the admonition in the Christian Science textbook (p. 261).

The simplicity of this way is one of the remarkable characteristics of Christian Science. The educational method by which divine power is disclosed, recognized, and expressed, in thought and conduct, and in improved health and morals, is entirely free from any element of mysticism or real difficulty.

The facts which reveal God as Mind, Principle, Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, just as the Bible says that He is, are thinkable. In beginning one can think about these facts. If one is willing to do this these facts are so incontrovertibly true that in due time, or perhaps rapidly, they transform the nature of the thinker. They give him a new point of view from which to observe all things, and they give him powers of observation and conclusion and demonstration not granted by any other system.

Thinking about truth is the first step in this education. In fact, thinking about something is always an essential step. Thinking something is quite another thing. Jesus said, "Ye shall know the truth." He did not say, "Ye shall know about the truth," and he clearly stated the divine requirements essential to the truth's being known. They are found in the passage, "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you."

Unquestionably he must have said many things not recorded in the four gospels, but there is enough in those gospels to transform the human race. A mere academic acceptance of his words and works is not sufficient. Respect and reverence are not sufficient. In Science and Health (p. 350) Mrs. Eddy writes: "His words were the offspring of his deeds, both of which must be understood. Unless the words are comprehended which his words explained, the words are blind."

In all education the first step must be taken, but if the education be worth while there is no last step. Unfoldment, or divine progress, is the nature of real being. This fact applies universally.

Jesus warned his disciples against a relative sense of good in the words, "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven." He implied that the weighing of righteousness against unrighteousness is erroneous and sinful. When thought attains the standpoint of absolute truth, we no longer ascribe power to evil or believe or say that disease and sin are going on, or that sorrow, or lack, or death are real. Christian Science shows that all evil and all evils are illusions of the human or material senses. When we habitually gain this ascendancy of thought and understanding, righteousness is appearing, and not until then.

We speak of people as being good, and wonder why good people should suffer as they frequently do. Jesus said, "None is good, save one, that is, God," implying that divine Principle alone is good, and that thought which conforms to Principle alone partakes of the nature of Principle. If a person believes that evil is real he is not good, however commendable his character may be from the ordinary human standpoint. In the measure that a human character is being transformed by divine Science and evil is seen as nothing, and proved to be nothing instead of something, divine Principle, or good, is reflected and health attained.

There is no relative righteousness. In Science, you cannot weigh evil against good, disease against health, death against life. In the process of learning how to demonstrate Christian Science the denial of evil is essential, but it is made for the sole purpose of arriving at the realization of the allness of good and the consequent non-existence of evil.

In stating these things Christian Scientists are not boasting. There is nothing personal about Science, and this is true even though this Science is interwoven with the health and life of persons. A finite personality does not resemble the infinite in any way. Immortality is the fact of all true being. It is therefore the fact of our individual being, and at the present moment the way to be like God, Mind, Life, and to represent Him in power and law and dominion, is to think according to Mind, according to the one infinite Mind, God, good.

Everybody has the ability to recognize and maintain the facts of his own immortality. Thoughts that have no evil in them are undying. This method is putting off mortality and putting on immortality, according to the Biblical admonition. In the measure that one perceives this and stands for it he is not believing that he must go somewhere, but is staying where he belongs in the divine Life of real being. In "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 123) Mrs. Eddy speaks of salvation "not through the death of a man, but through a divine Life, which is our Redeemer."

In numerous instances people who were ill of so-called incurable diseases have been restored to life and health, and others under the weight of sin and vice have found their dominion over these evils and have gained the respectability and poise and peace of normal manhood and womanhood.

That a scientific proposition is not wholly proved is never against the proposition. Professor Einstein advanced the theory of relativity. All of the great mathematicians of today are interested in it. Many of them advocate it and hope that it may be the means of solving some of the problems of the material universe. Not one of them pretends that the theory of relativity is wholly proved, but not one of them scoffs at it, nor will you find among them any that speak in opprobrious terms of Professor Einstein because he advanced that theory.

I am not making comparisons. Christian Science is not to be compared with any other system. It stands alone. The propositions of this Science are wholly spiritual. Spiritual culture is essential to the recognition and demonstration of them, but that they are not all humanly proved in their fullness is not against them from any standpoint of reason or observation. They are as true as Truth itself, and they demand of us that we claim our real existence in order that we may demonstrate it. They both require and provide for happiness. They enlist evil and resilience and activity of intelligence that can only be expressed by the word "joy."

In the light of these facts joy is ever aglow. The Bible says, "With joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation." As a matter of actual experience you cannot draw an ounce of water out of the wells of salvation or satisfaction without joy. You may have tried it with sorrow; many have. You may have tried it with human will; most people do. You may have tried it with a relative sense of good and evil weighing one against the other. You may have tried it with the mixed belief in mind and matter. All of these ways are found futile, but the moment that intelligence approximates its divine origin, the infinite Mind, God, it looks out upon things instead of out from things. It fearlessly assumes the view of Deity and has the happiness and consequent power of the God who is Love.

Admitting, then, that we exist, as we all must do, let us proceed to demonstrate a satisfactory existence. Recognizing that we can demonstrate only that which is already true and real, we can understand that Mrs. Eddy did not claim to create anything. She discovered Christian Science and unmistakably set forth the fact that all truth is in and of Spirit, not matter, and that it must be sought in the realm of Spirit. This is in accordance with the admonition of Jesus, "God is Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (Rev. Ver.). This admonition can be obeyed in no other way than that of divine Science, because in no other way can the unreality of the mere personal sense of ourselves and of one another be discerned and maintained.

In the measure that we set aside the errors that seem to pertain to our characters and our present sense of existence, and adopt instead of them the divine ideas that reveal divine consciousness, God, Mind, we attain our original being, which the Christian Science textbook says is Spirit, or a foretaste of it, as the case may be (p. 97).

The Bible says, "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord." Christian Science establishes this fact logically and scientifically. God, being infinite, must be one, and this implies and requires the recognition of infinite oneness. Everything is one. Mrs. Eddy writes in Science and Health (p. 559), "God is the Life, or intelligence, which forms and preserves the individuality and identity of animals as well as of men." For this reason every individual learning to demonstrate the actuality of his being must find this divine oneness and love it and live it.

Nothing has given it greater obscurity than a misinterpretation of the word "humility." To assume that God is good and man originally bad, and to hold to such a theory, is mere selfabasement. It dishonors God quite as much as man, and is unworthy to be entertained or in any way subscribed to. Whilst it is certain that matter cannot resemble spirit, and therefore equally certain that a material sense of existence, or what is called corporeality, cannot resemble God, nevertheless it is given to a human being to attain something and daily more of the Science of real being, and the road to it is genuine humility. You may have seen a picture in which three positions of the same figure represent prayer. The first one is prostrate, with forehead touching the earth. The second is kneeling, representing an advanced thought of adoration. The third is erect with arms extended, as if to welcome the true idea of God.

"Man, know thyself," has often been enjoined upon us by poets and philosophers, but it would be difficult to find anything written by either of these groups that would indicate that the authors knew themselves. They regarded themselves as material, and when they spoke of Spirit it was not in terms of Truth or actual Science but always in terms of mysticism or belief. They were very vague about something so tremendous that they dared not go forward. They were barred, or barred themselves, from the benefit of their own admonition by their own great sense of limitation. Not having Christian Science they could only look at truth instead of looking out from Truth.

If we reverence God we must respect man, and this demands and achieves not only respect for the other man but self-respect. Such self-respect is essential in the demonstration of permanent health as well as happiness. The Bible says that God placed man upon the earth, not in it. This implies that everything is subservient to the divine idea, man.

Superstition is rife, and nowhere more evident than in some systems that advocate the use of reason. Paul told the Athenians who devoted their whole time to philosophic reasoning that they were in all things too superstitious. This is said differently in some modern versions of the New Testament, but the point of his remark was that they had an altar to the unknown God. He might well have added that it was also an altar to the unknown man, for man cannot be known except as God is known. Therefore to know yourself signifies to understand the word "God," and know and maintain its meaning, for in that meaning one's true self is hidden or revealed, as the case may be.

Jesus repudiated matter. He said, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." But he also said, "I and my Father are one," and in so saying expressed divine humility. (Continued on Page 13)

TOWNSEND CLUB MEETING

A Townsend Mass Meeting will be held Monday, Dec. 13, at 8 p. m. in Earley Hall, 2362 Washington st. Speaker of the evening Harry B. Elliott, National Representative from Chicago.

Newtonville Church Women Have Christmas Programs

At the afternoon meeting of the Church Day of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church on Wednesday of last week Florence King presented a program of two groups of dramatic readings, one humorous and the other portraying the Christmas spirit. Possessing a keen sense of humor Miss King kept her audience shaking with laughter in the first part of her program and in the second part showing a deep appreciation of the meaning of Christmas to mankind, she was equally successful in impressing her listeners.

The Woman's Missionary Society will have a Christmas party at its regular meeting Dec. 15 and the Woman's Bible Class will hold its annual party Sunday evening, Dec. 19. Group Five is planning a holiday party at the home of Mrs. John Olsen Jan. 3. The association pledged $25 for the Newtonville Library Building Fund. Mrs. Arthur Joslin who was a delegate to the Fairless Fair of the New England

Deaconess Aid Society in Boston reported that the association stood second in the amount contributed to the fair. At the next meeting, Jan. 5, Stella Billings will reveal "What's in Your Name."

Parent-Teacher Ass'n Organized in Oak Hill

On December first a group of over forty women attended a meeting in the Oak Hill School kindergarten to organize a Parent Teacher Association. Mrs. Frederick W. Hovstad took charge of the meeting until after election of officers, when our newly elected president, Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings took the meeting over.

The guest speakers Mrs. Arthur B. Webber, Field Representative for eastern Mass. P. T. A. and Mrs. Arthur B. Field, District 4 Manager of the P. T. A. gave very interesting talks on organizing P. T. A.

There are forty-two charter members. It is hoped that every parent and any one else interested will join. Notices of the next meeting will be sent home with the school children.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Frederick W. Hovstad; 2nd Vice-President, Miss Jane Wyman; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Clive W. Lacy; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Raymond M. Stowell; Treasurer, Mrs. Charles W. Davis.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles N. Tenney, 296 Woodland rd., on Tuesday, December 14th, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Z. Sherman Chase will read a paper on "The Philippine Islands"; Mrs. Grace Fiske one on "Borneo, Celebes and New Guinea"; and Miss Eleanor Pinkham one on "Java and Sumatra."

Social Science Club

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held in the Parlor of Channing Church on December 15th, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Earl P. Stevenson will give her paper on "Ancient Civilizations."

The hostesses will be Mrs. Frederick S. Bacon and Mrs. Ray A. Eusden.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

A Sale of Christmas greens, novelties, and decorative materials, which the public is invited to patronize, will be held at the Club House, on December 16th and 17th, starting at 10 a. m., arranged by the Garden and Conservation committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Prices will be reasonable. No trees will be included for sale.

A new play by Curtis Beach and his Marionettes is the attraction for the children on Saturday morning, December 18th, at 11 o'clock. A ticket for the final four performances may be secured from Mrs. Harold R. Jacques, 15 Norwood ave., for 80 cents. Each performance is 25 cents, if the tickets are bought separately, at the door. Children who are practicing or who would like to enter for the Amateur Hour should attend all the shows to get ideas for the grand finale.

The Antiques committee is arranging a Trip to the Wallace Nuttings Studio, 46 Park st., Framingham, for Monday, December 13th, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. James W. Newton, 145 Morton st., will be the hostess on December 15th at 2:30 p. m. for the Literature Study Group. Papers on "Arnold Bennett" and "Joseph Conrad" will be read by Mrs. W. Thatcher Hollis and Mrs. Leland Arnold. Tea will be served.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will speak before the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday morning, December 16th, at 10 a. m. In this second lecture of her series on Current Events, Mrs. Taylor will include some of her summer travel experiences which took her into many countries of central Europe.

"The Gondoliers," or "The King of Barataria," the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera is being presented by the Ways and Means committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at the Club House, this evening, Friday, and tomorrow, Saturday, evening, December 10th and 11th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. George H. Crosbie and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr. are co-chairmen of this committee. Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Club, is dramatic coach and she will be the conductor of the orchestra, also. The production is staged and produced by the following committees: Music, Mrs. John W. Merrill; Dramatic, Mrs. E. A. Andrews; Stage and Scenery, Mrs. William C. Noetzel; Mrs. Harry M. Sutton; Mrs. Chester M. Ruasch; Mrs. Edwin H. Ward; Properties, Mrs. Raymond F. Waterman; Program, Mrs. Madeline Barrett; Lighting, Mr. John Hitchcock; Mr. Henry Hardy; Mr. Donald E. Welch; Orchestra, Mrs. Christine D. Ulmer, managing director; and Gladys Eastman will be the piano accompanist.

Ruth Randolph, a talented dancer, will give the cacha (Spanish) solo dances during the performance. Mrs. Randolph is a pupil of Hazel Sands Welch.

Tickets for reserved seats may be secured from Mrs. George E. Squier, 119 Parker st., Telephone, Centre Newton 3618.

Further details of this attractive event may be found in Club News of November 26th and December 3rd.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, of 23 Walnut pl., Newtonville, was hostess to the American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Wednesday, December 1st. A most enjoyable luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock by Mrs. B. Howard Lester, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Louis B. Martin, Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, and Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley. After the business meeting Mrs. Littlefield introduced Mrs. G. Dunham, of the Real Silk Hosiery Company, who gave the members a splendid demonstration and talk on the many fine products this company carries. Mrs. Dunham presented each one with a handy hosiery mending kit with run-arrestor wands, which was most appreciated. Mrs. R. Irving Blanchard, Jr., of the Seville Paper Company, of Detroit, exhibited her line of paper goods, with many interesting articles. She gave out samples of paper handkerchiefs, dust-ers, dish-cloths, silver polishing paper, etc., which help the busy housewife, as well as being much more sanitary than old methods.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Shade Franklin, instead of with Mrs. Carl N. Thomas.

About twenty members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club enjoyed a tour through the Newton Hospital, on December 3rd, conducted in three groups, with graduate nurses. It was most impressive and instructive.

Little does one realize concerning the regular necessary equipment and the daily routine of such a place. A peek into the laundry, ice room, heater-room, etc., soon shows that the hospital is a busy place, and that there are many people there besides those who are ill. Its growth has been very rapid, and quarters for the nurses are very crowded. After the tour, Miss Allen, the superintendent, gave a brief, but most interesting talk on the history of the hospital from the very beginning in 1886 when it had three patients.

A very enjoyable luncheon was served in the nurses' dining-room.

The Travel Class of the Club will meet on Monday, December 13th, at the home of Mrs. G. Howard Frost, 200 Fuller st., at 2 p. m. The subjects will be "Gascony" and "Auvergne." "Three Hill Towns: Albi, Cordes, Carcassonne, Montpelier" will be described by Mrs. John R. McLean, and "Lyons, Clermont, St. Etienne, Aurillac, Rodez," by Mrs. Justin D. Starkie. Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon will be the hostesses.

Auburndale Junior Club

On Wednesday evening, December 1st, the members of the Auburndale Junior Woman's Club met at the home of Miss Barbara Felton, 277 Central st., Auburndale, to hear Ashley Bickmore, of the Oxford School of Business Administration in Cambridge, discuss the subject of "Choosing a Vocation."

Mr. Bickmore, who is assistant professor of speech at the Oxford School, told the members to learn first their abilities and then to study the fields to which they are best suited. In warning his audience not to pick a vocation that was overcrowded or on the way out, Mr. Bickmore quoted many interesting statistics showing the percentage and ages of the female workers in the business and industry of the State.

Plans were made also for the Holiday Tea which will be given on Sunday afternoon, January 2nd, from 4 to 6 o'clock, in the Woman's Club Rooms of the Auburndale Club for former Junior members. Miss Constance Hirst, the president, is making the arrangements, assisted by Miss Sybil Lander. Miss June Krueger will have charge of the refreshments and the powers at the tea table will be Mrs. John F. Wheelock, the Senior advisor and Mrs. Herman Krueger, the Junior advisor.

Newton W. C. T. U.

The Newton W. C. T. U. met Thursday afternoon, December 2nd, in the Parish House of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre. Following a short business meeting with the president, Mrs. W. E. Birdsall, presiding, the program was in charge of Mrs. Blanche G. Norris, vice-president. Two Christmas solos were beautifully rendered by Mrs. William F. Ferrin. The subject of the meeting was "The Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the Orient."

Mrs. George H. Brock spoke of the "Temperance Situation in India" which is far better than that in the United States at the present time. The officials in India are working for moderation, with the goal of total abstinence in the near future. Mrs. Brock is a retired missionary from India and for over 42 years she and her husband served in that field and retired about four years ago.

Mrs. Harriet W. Briggs, who spoke on "Japan" was a missionary there for twenty years, but is now retired. She stated that ninety per cent of the people in Japan are not in favor of war, but are helpless in the face of the military party who are in control of the party. The Christian element is bravely carrying on in the face of great difficulties.

Mrs. Mabelle Groves spoke on "Siam," and told of meeting a delegate from Siam at the W. C. T. U. Convention. She stated that this young lady was one of the prettiest girls she had ever seen, and was in this country to be educated in order that she might return to Siam to engage in W. C. T. U. work.

Miss May Hodgkins gave excerpts from the Union Signal, the national W. C. T. U. paper, on the Chinese situation from a temperance standpoint.

Tea was served with Mrs. W. F. Ferrin pouring, and Mrs. Hattie E. Shuts and Mrs. A. C. Cushing as hostesses.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Announcement was made at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, held at the Congregational Parish House, December 7th, of a Creche Exhibit in the Workshop on Sunday afternoon, December 19th, from 3 to 9 p. m. The chorus of the Junior Club will furnish music in the evening. All members are invited to display creches, especially of fine madonnas, or pictures of madonnas which might add interest. Tea will be served in the afternoon. Any person wishing further details should call Mrs. Elwood I. Clapp.

On December 21st, at 10 p. m., in the Workshop there will be a Book Talk by Mrs. Roland Gage Hopkins.

Mr. Donald D. McKay, Alderman-at-Large, spoke briefly on the advantage and disadvantage of Biennial Elections in the City of Newton. Mr. McKay outlined the matter very clearly and doubtless made clear in the minds of many Club members how they should vote on this subject at the coming election.

Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury read two resolutions in memory of two former presidents of the Club who have recently passed on, Mrs. Charles G. Vetterhede, the first president of the Club; and Mrs. C. H. Keeler, the fifth president.

The Club Chorus, conducted by Mrs. Thomas B. Ginn, and accompanied by Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy, sang Christmas carols.

Mr. Robert P. Tristram Coffin was the guest speaker. Mr. Coffin is Pierce Professor of English at Bowdoin College. He said, among other things, that he felt that poetry should be a public function of life, a sort of oratory to persuade people that life is worthwhile and a pleasant thing; in fact that "Poetry is the art of feeling good about life." He referred to the American rocking-chair as being a great stabilizer of thought, and suggested that possibly it might be well if all countries possessed rocking-chairs, instead of these being practically indigenous to the United States and particularly to the State of Maine. Mr. Coffin also read a number of his poems as he made running comments on their origin, construction, and other features.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club held their Annual Drama Day on Tuesday afternoon, December 7th, with guests from Waltham, Watertown, Hopkinton and Belmont, as well as an exceptionally large number of its own members present and two one-act plays, "Over the Teacups," by Percival Wilde, and "The First White Woman," by Babette Hughes, presented by members of the Drama committee, enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. Herman Krueger.

In "Over the Teacups," Mrs. Charles E. Valentine and Mrs. Ralph W. Phipps gave a charming portrayal of two gentlemen in reduced circumstances, neither of whom could get along without a personal maid. As a result, each took turns in playing servant to the other, which resulted in hilarious confusion when any of their friends dropped in unexpectedly for tea. They were ably supported by Mrs. Edward P. Kelly and Mrs. Walter P. Amesbury as the friends who finally exposed their little deception.

"The First White Woman" was a particularly effective satire on the lady explorer, who with no more jungles to explore decides to return and be a pal to her daughter and live happily ever after in her own home town. Mrs. Roy M. Miller, as the breezy Belle Burlington, "the first white woman," was perfect in her role; and excellent, too, in their parts were Mrs. Reginald D. Willis, as her daughter; and Mrs. Gerard H. Rittenhouse and Mrs. Joseph McCarron as two frantic clubwomen, trying to plan a club program with little or no money to spend for a guest speaker. Mrs. Elliot Y. Wyman as Freda, the Swedish maid, always eager to please, even if it was necessary to don a grass skirt; and Mrs. Earle E. Wood, as the wily New York booking-agent, gave entertaining bits of characterization.

Mrs. John H. Harding, the Day chairman, and also chairman of the Drama committee, was assisted by Mrs. Henry Dwyer and Mrs. Joseph Appelt, who took charge of the costumes and properties, respectively. Both plays were produced by special arrangement with the Walter Baker Company and the scenery was made by Frederic Stearns, a member of the Auburndale Club. At the conclusion of the afternoon, Mrs. Krueger was presented with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums for her fine work as coach.

Among the special guests present were Miss Darphie Thompson, of the Hopkinton Woman's Club; Mrs. E. W. Boerstler, dramatic chairman of the Watertown Woman's Club, and Mrs. Frank A. Gray, a member of her committee; Mrs. Edgar Thomas, of Waltham; Mrs. Gladys Groves, a member of Waltham's Graces Players; Mrs. John Gardner of Auburndale, active in the amateur theatricals of the Parent-Teachers' Association; and Mrs. Lesley Newton, of the Belmont Woman's Club.

Waban Community Garden Club

The Waban Community Garden Club and the Art committee of the Woman's Club are sponsoring a lecture demonstration on "Unusual Christmas Decorations" by Mrs. Alice Kirk Alwater of New York, on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 14th, at 3 o'clock in the Library Hall. Supplementing the lecture will be an impressive exhibition of creches, wreaths, garlands and table decorations created and loaned by members. The exhibition will be open to the public in the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Lodges

Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge will hold a whist on Friday, Dec. 10th, at the home of Mrs. Gladys Anderson, 7 Fuller ter., West Newton, at 8 p. m. after the meeting on Dec. 13th.

The lodge will have a Penny Sale on Dec. 16th, the lodge sewing circle will hold a whist at the home of Mrs. Frank Stevens, 69 Court st., Newtonville, at 8 p. m.

Dec. 17 the Encampment I. O. O. F. will have a District meeting at Framingham.

Dec. 14 the Odd Fellows will hold a District meeting at 41 Moody st., Waltham. The initiation degree will be exemplified by District Deputies filling all chairs.

Dec. 16th, Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F., will confer the 3rd degree.

Waban Lodge, I. O. O. F., held its first of several open meetings in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton. The speaker was the Hon. John F. Fitzgerald whose subject was "We need the Merchant Marine."

The subject was most interesting and instructive and was a warning of the Yellow peril. The WPA orchestra furnished a most excellent concert and enthused the large audience. There was community singing and Mr. Fitzgerald sang "Sweet Adeline," his favorite song of many years ago and he led the community singing and told several humorous stories. Esther Dolber presented several fine readings. There will be noted speakers at the future open meetings. Open to everybody.

ANNUAL MEETING

In accordance with law, notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the Corporators of the Newton Centre Savings Bank will be held at the banking rooms, 103 Union Street, Newton Centre, Mass., at 5:00 P. M., Tuesday, December 21, 1937.

ity. Throughout his career he was self-respecting. Christians who are to demonstrate his understanding, the divine Christ, cannot do so in an attitude of unworthiness. "The Lord our God is one Lord" means that everything is one with that divine Principle.

It was this understanding that was the Christ operating as the healing power of divine Love in the time of Christ Jesus. It is the same Christ that heals disease today. The compassion, the tenderness, the deep interest of this divine Christ in all that constitutes human welfare, is needful and apparent in Christian Science practice.

The healing possibilities of this Science are measureless. As thought gains and attains more and more the attitude and attitude of the divine Mind, it necessarily reflects the omnipotence of that Mind in the relationships of individuals and nations. By the same token, understanding thus attained and ever progressing deals with individual instances of sin and disease with the confidence of divine power.

Seeking and daily attaining in greater measure this healing power for men and nations, which every one of us may do, irrespective of his occupation, we find that immortality is no longer a theory but the actual fact of our existence, and that we are entering upon that which has been properly and beautifully named "the simple grandeur of life."

Kiwanis Club

Richard Dunn, Vice President of the Newton Safety Council, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, Dec. 7, 1937, at the Charles River Country Club.

With a feeling and spirit indicative of his interest in highway accident prevention, Mr. Dunn presented a very fine and complete picture of the traffic and accident situation in our city today.

Nationally, Mr. Dunn observed, that in 1920 there were on the highways of this country about eight million cars and one million trucks. Today there are 59 times as many vehicles on our highways as there were in 1910. During the year 1936 there were 37,800 people killed and more than one million persons injured in automobile accidents in this country.

From a traffic survey of Newton for 1936 and for the first six months in 1937, Mr. Dunn made the following observations:

It has been found that most of our accidents are caused by speed and carelessness; that Washington st. is our most dangerous street in that it has been the location of the most accidents, deaths and injuries, 40 per cent of all pedestrian accidents and 29 per cent of all of the accidents in the city occur on Washington st.

Of 18 pedestrians killed, the ages ranged from 37-78 and most of these accidents occurred at night.

Boylston st. has the largest volume of traffic with Watertown st. second and Washington st. third.

Washington st. has had the most accidents with Watertown st. second and Commonwealth ave. third.

59 per cent of all the accidents in this city occur upon ten streets which take up only 13 miles of our total of 261 miles of streets.

Transient traffic through Newton is responsible for a large number of our accidents.

Mr. Dunn reported that much constructive work is being done by the Newton Safety Council with the excellent cooperation of everybody whom the Council has contacted.

Young Auto Thieves In Newton Court

Thomas Tuohy, 21, of 7 Converse st., Brighton, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday for having been involved in the theft of automobiles. Judge Weston sentenced Tuohy to serve sentences each of 6 months on two charges; the terms to be served concurrently, however. Tuohy had been in court a couple of times recently on other charges involving automobiles, including speeding and driving on the wrong side of a highway. According to police testimony, Tuohy and John J. Nolan, Jr., also of Brighton, who were arrested on Thanksgiving evening at Nonantum by Motorcycle Officer Dwyer, had stolen a number of automobiles. The Nolan youth was arraigned in a juvenile session at Newton court last Friday, found guilty and returned to Shirley School, from which he was on parole.

Gas Leak, Match, Explosion, Fire

Sunday afternoon about 3:40 a slight explosion of gas occurred in the cellar of the house at 163 Tremont st., Newton, when Robert Maloney who resides there detected the odor of gas in the cellar and lighted a match when he went down to investigate. Maloney was slightly scorched, the gas meter was damaged, and woodwork near it burned. The firemen responded to an alarm, and the damage to the building was slight.

Chimney Fire At Weeks' Residence

A fire in a chimney at the residence of former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, 79 Valentine st., West Newton last Friday morning, caused a telephone alarm to be sent to fire alarm headquarters, bringing Ladder 1 and Engine 2 to the house at 9:15. The firemen worked on the chimney for about 45 minutes before extinguishing the smoldering blaze. No damage was done to the house.

GATHERED FOR YOU, YOUR HOME AND FAMILY
By CAROLINE F. AUSTIN

I cannot remember the names of roads and hills,
I only remember where the wild flowers grow:
By an old stone cellar there are daffodils
And bluebells where the pasture brook runs slow.
—Catherine Gate Coblenz.

Last year the choice by Alice Small of THE SMALL SHOP, when men selected "gift dresses," was such that not a single one was exchanged! (We see advantages of her advice when we shop, too.) We recognize Mrs. Small's taste and learn that she selects individually each design of the hand made handkerchiefs, bags, and costume jewelry (yes, royal blue cluster). At 270 Central st., Newton Corner (New No. 2330) we find in varied gifts, especially "everything to wear" (including lingerie and "Hosiery As You Like It")—a friendly service. There's a "Streamline" kerchief of the airways; "Cock" embroidered Madeira cocktail napkins; and a dainty guest towel with hand embroidered flowers everywhere but in a border!

A fashion authority selected for herself a velvet trimmed coat in deep grape color with dull blue trim and hat.

The BARBARA STONE shop of Waltham has an active owner who believes strongly in a fashion Christmas—and she explained to us the business arrangements by which she just selected in New York ever so many Christmas gifts (including exceptional values so thrifty $1 and $1.95) . . . blouses, sweaters, slips (one to shorten for the not-so-tall girl) and especially the smart house coat of embossed rayon taffeta (these $1.95) in jewel colors. For the gift dress—always few of a kind—new prints in pure silk, wools, velvets. Yes, for the older woman, and the larger, too, Miss Ruth, owner, suggests becoming models. Bright shades, metal top frocks for our holiday festivities . . . 465 Moody st.

A perpetual calendar penknife offers a practical combination.

Attractive imported gifts for men. . . London neckties, well made, silk, poplin and wool; black-white Finnish mittens; English leather zippered pipe and tobacco pouch; Jaeger auto robe; Arlberg slippers even popular adult games, "newspaper" type of Ghing Gong checkers. And we've noticed many satisfied looking men who had been told of this ORIGINAL THREAD AND NEEDLE SHOP, 671 Boylston st., where he can easily find unusual children's presents and distinctive choice for the family gifts he selects personally, whether it's a flattering Vienna scarf or English bed jacket . . . and we, too, are wise to go there.

Suspends Drunken Driver's Fine

In the Newton court on Monday Ben Homan of Allen st., Boston, was found guilty of drunkenness and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Traffic Officer Dowling testified that his attention was called to Homan when the latter drove by a red light at the traffic signal at Washington st. and Commonwealth ave., West Newton. Judge Donald Mayberry fined Homan $50 on the drunken driving charge—and then suspended the fine. The drunkenness charge was filed by Judge Mayberry.

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES

LOOK the whole length of Motor Car Row, and you won't find a car anywhere that offers you what this stunning new Buick does.

No other car, for instance, has its DYNAFLASH engine, squeezing more useful power out of every drop of gasoline you burn.

No other car has TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING—or can match the smoothness-with-safety this new coil-spring rear suspension provides.

No other car combines such features as Silent Zone Body Mounting, Valve-in-Head efficiency, Torque-Tube Drive, Tiptoe Hydraulic Brakes, Knee-Action comfort and safety—in a package so big and handsome.

All that plainly says "Better buy Buick!" But just by way of completing the story, we'd like to point out this:

The Buick SPECIAL is the lowest-priced straight-eight of its size on the market. At least two sixes carry higher list prices, and others are priced so close that a dollar or two a week covers the difference.

Take the stunning four-door sedan shown here. It's sixteen and a half feet long, has 107 horsepower under its hood, and it's yours complete with standard equipment for only $1022, delivered at Flint, Michigan.

We don't think you'll find its match anywhere on Motor Car Row. We're sure you won't for the money!

Dr. Seabury at Forum Gives List of "Don'ts"

Noted Lecturer and Psychologist Speaks on "Worry"

Dr. David Seabury, eminent psychologist, author, and lecturer, spoke last Sunday at the Newton High School on "How to Worry Successfully." Dr. Seabury was the fourth speaker on the Newton Community Forum program for the current season.

Dr. Seabury said that the first and fundamental step in the solution of any problem lies in separating that problem into its component parts; that is, considering all the facts of the case and then the effect or outcome that is the ultimate desire of the individual, and working the facts gradually toward the desired effect until the solution is attained.

There are three stages involved in worrying: 1. The process of stimulation where in the subject becomes aware that he has something about which to worry, or thinks he has. 2. The point at which the "worry" works upon the subject's mind until it becomes an inhibition, and 3. where he gives himself completely over to his "worry" and it becomes a fixation.

According to the foremost psychologists of the world, Dr. Seabury said that at the present rate of increase in insanity, by the year 2139 there will not be a sane person left on earth. Of course this statement is only theoretically true because it is most unlikely that there will not be enough feeble-minded in existence to offset such a catastrophe. Nevertheless, the speaker announced that last year as many people in England and the United States entered sanatoriums as universities, and the chief cause of insanity is worry and the fierce rate at which people think they have to live today. People, Dr. Seabury said, worry over mistakes which have been made rather than concentrating their mental powers toward meeting what outcome those mistakes may bring about. Moreover, only 2 per cent of the things we worry about are worth worrying. Worry, in the other 98 per cent of the cases is a negative way of thinking and can get us nowhere.

We not only tie our brains by worrying, but wear down our physical stamina as well, for negative worry is a form of fear and when we are as when we experience any other emotion, poisons are thrown into the blood stream, an excess of which lowers our resistance.

Each aspect of life, we were told, has both a positive and a negative form; as fear and caution, rage and courage. Worry is an eagerness to understand and the more intelligent a person is, the more prone he is to worry. The prime difference between man and beast is man's more highly developed brain—even then we wonder a bit sometimes.

Dr. Seabury stated that there are of course many forms of worry, just as there are many causes of worry. Prayer is a form but a highly desirable one. He noted that the person who has a strong faith in some higher power than himself generally worries less than the person who has no such companionship or faith.

In closing his lecture, Dr. Seabury gave a list of "don'ts" regarding worrying. Among them appear: 1) Don't worry in bed—if you have to worry get up, because if you don't you'll soon form the habit of "going into a worry" the instant your head touches the pillow. 2) Never worry at the time of a disaster because your brain is out of order and you won't gain a thing by it. 3) Never worry until you know all the facts. 4) Never do another person's worrying for him, you will deprive him of his growing up. 5) Weeping while worrying leads to failure. 6) Don't worry over the advice others give you and, 7) don't let another person impose his own worries upon you for more than half an hour at a time.

The next speaker will be Honorable Agnes McPhail, on "Canada and Her Destiny." This meeting of the Forum will not take place until January 9.

Drs. Martin, Rae Get Dental Jobs

The Newton Board of Health on Monday night appointed as dentists at the city dental clinic Dr. Francis J. Martin of 1074 Centre st., Newton Centre, and Dr. Cameron Rae of 23 Harding st., West Newton. Both have been serving in these assignments temporarily since last May when they succeeded to the work which was formerly performed by Dr. Pomfret of Newtonville. The Civil Service Commission recently submitted a list of six eligibles for the appointments. The names in order were those of Dr. Martin, Dr. Timothy Healy, 38 Perkins st., West Newton; Dr. Thomas Dowd, 866 Beacon st., Newton Centre; Dr. Rae; Dr. Lawrence Perlmuter, 487 Watertown st., Newtonville; Dr. Richard Doherty, 337 Washington st., Newton. Although fourth on the list, Dr. Rae obtained the highest mark in the examination, but the three dentists preceding him on the list did so because they received veterans' preference.

Involve City In Gas Explosion

The explosion of illuminating gas on the morning of Oct. 29 in the house at 60 Hawthorn st., Nonantum, which resulted in the destruction of the shattered house by fire, and damage to several nearby residences, has resulted in claims being presented against the city by James P. Gallagher as attorney for 31 persons who were allegedly injured or whose property was damaged as a result of the explosion. Following the explosion at 6:30 on the morning of Oct. 29, four persons residing in the house at 60 Hawthorn st. were taken to the Newton Hospital. Two of these were released shortly after and the other two, quite severely injured, were kept at the hospital. It seemed a miracle that any of the persons in the front part of the house escaped death or serious injury.

The letter sent to Mayor Childs by Mr. Gallagher reads:

"You are hereby notified that on or about 6:30 on the morning of Oct. 29, 1937, the city of Newton permitted or suffered a defect on the highway on Hawthorn st., opposite the property numbered 56, 60, 62, 64, and 66 and did not take the necessary and proper precautions to safeguard and protect the lives and property of travelers and abutters on said Hawthorn st. On account of said defect, and in consequence of the same, the following named persons suffered the loss of real and personal property and suffered severe personal injuries."

Persons named as victims are Anthony and Josephine DeRose.

Joseph, Angelina, Mary, Joseph, Jr., Fred and Michael DeGrosso, and Carmen Gentile all of 60 Hawthorn st.; Blanche Repeut of 22 Murray court, East Boston, who was visiting the DeRoses; Anthony, Mrs. Josephine, Caroline, Patsy, Josephine, Antoinette, Matilda, Romeo, Philomena and Peter Annesse, all of 56 Hawthorn st.; Loreto, Mario, Anna, Michael, Ada, Arthur, Margaret, Arthur, Jr., Edward, Michael R., Shirley B., and an unnamed baby two weeks old, all members of the Proia family at 62 Hawthorn st.

The claim against the city has been referred to City Solicitor Bartlett, City Engineer Harvey and the Board of Aldermen. Claims have also been made against the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

Newton Policeman Hurt In Crash

Patrolman Fred Reagan of the Newton police was injured last Thursday evening at 5:40 when the car he was driving and a car driven by Charles Hoffman of Weston rd., Wellesley collided at Harvard st. and Newtonville ave., Newtonville. Reagan's automobile was badly damaged and he received an injury to his head.

Newton Men Plead Guilty In Wool Theft

In the Superior Court at East Cambridge on Wednesday four men pleaded guilty to charges of thefts of wool from the plant of the Rohmer Wool Scouring Company on California st., Nonantum. Judge John Swift sentenced Henry Boudreau of Gardner st., Newton to serve from 2½ to 3 years in State Prison for larceny and conspiracy. Arthur Gold of Boston, a wool broker was sentenced to serve 2½ years in prison for complicity in the thefts. He was the fence to whom the stolen wool was taken. Gold recently started to serve a two years' sentence for the theft of $3000 of wool from a Hudson, Massachusetts warehouse, and as Judge Swift ordered Gold's sentence in connection with the thefts from the Rohmer Company to be served concurrently with the other sentence, this means that Gold gets off with a 6 months sentence for his part in the Newton wool thefts.

William Shriberg of Linwood ave., Newtonville, who has conducted a junk business on West st., Nonantum, was given a suspended prison sentence of two years on condition that he make $500 restitution toward paying for the $2250 worth of wool stolen. Raymond Trainor of Cohasset, formerly of Fayette st., Newton, was also given a suspended prison sentence of 2 years. He gave the police information regarding the thefts. Charges against Thomas Robson of Malden, Ralph Harnden of Framingham and formerly of Newtonville, and William Bianchi of Gardner st., Newton, were not pressed.

It was charged that the thefts occurred over a period of two years. Boudreau formerly worked nights at the Rohmer wool scouring plant. According to testimony he dragged bags of wool from a shed onto a nearby field. A small truck owned by him took one load of bags to Shriberg's yard, and three loads were taken in a truck owned by Harnden, which was parked at Shriberg's. Robson drove a truck once and Trainor several times. Gold disposed of the wool for the gang. Young Bianchi who helped load a truck, and Harnden were adjudged not to have knowledge of the fact that the wool was stolen.

Chief Hughes of the Newton police department received a letter from Assistant District Attorney Julius Wolfson complimenting the Newton men assigned to the case for the aid in tracing and capturing those sought in connection with the theft. The letter follows:

The indictments against Henry Boudreau and others for the theft of wool from the Rohmer Wool Scouring Co. have just been disposed of by pleas of guilty from the real culprits in the case.

I wish to commend the wonderful work done in the preparation and breaking of these cases by Captain Nicholas Vedeuco, Officer William L. Whelan and Officer John F. Lovely. These men did their work in a most efficient manner, and without their great ingenuity, I believe these cases would never have been solved. They deserve the highest praise, and I wish to tell you that I greatly appreciate the cooperation and help which they gave me at all times on these indictments.

The citizens of Newton and yourself should be congratulated on having such fine, honest, and capable officers in your police department.

Sincerely yours,
JULIUS H. WOLFSON,
Assistant District Attorney.

90 WPA Jobs For Newton Men

Harold Young, liaison agent for the City of Newton with the WPA has been notified that 90 additional Newton men will be added to WPA lists under the new allotments. Of this number 85 are on labor projects, and 5 on "white collar" projects. About 30 of the men have been put to work this week, but the remainder are awaiting official authorization from WPA headquarters for this district. Those in Newton receiving the new WPA assignments have all been obtaining relief from the city; some for six months or longer. The city will be saved about $1350 weekly by these men being transferred from local to WPA relief.

$10,000 Fire At Brae Burn Club

A fire at the Brae Burn Club, West Newton, shortly after midnight Monday morning caused damage estimated at about $10,000. The fire, supposedly caused by an overheated electric iron, started in one of the employees' rooms on the third floor of the large wooden structure, and worked up into the attic. Samuel Butler, night watchman at the club, heard the sprinkler alarm at 12:43 a. m. and telephoned fire department headquarters. He then notified Prentiss Jones, manager of the club, and they hastened through the building awakening a dozen guests, and about the same number of employees who were sleeping there.

The sprinkler system had functioned and was responsible for confining the spread of the flames to the east wing where it started. The damage was mostly caused from water as several lines of hose had to be used by the five engine companies which responded. The occupants of the club house did not have to flee the building, but took refuge in the main structure after they had to leave the wing where the fire occurred.

Benefit Preview At New Theatre

The Benefit Preview sponsored by the Mothers' Rest Club, Newton Centre, is meeting with such response that the entire house is sold out for this social event, December 22, the night before the new M. & P. Theatre, West Newton, is officially opened to the public. The program begins at 8:30 o'clock, but the doors will be opened at 7:45 for inspection of the theatre. Acting as hostesses in the foyer will be the Board Members of the organization: Mrs. E. Hoyt Weston, president; Mrs. Benjamin Badnoch, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Forte, secretary; Mrs. W. Dana Pollett, treasurer; Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins; Mrs. Horace Hall; Mrs. Esmond Rowley. The sub-debuteante daughters of the club members will assist as ushers: Anne Calkins, Geraldine Graves, Margaret Haskell, Betsy Liming, Julia Mather, Ruth Randolph, Beverley Smith, Alison Smith, Aldith Sutton, Frances Jane Wallour, and Jeanne Wight.

Dinner parties preceding the affair are planned by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alley of Exeter st., West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Joel Barnes of Cedar st., Newton Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Stratton of Beacon st., Newton Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Badnoch of Dartmouth st., West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Churchill of Holly rd., Waban; Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Walworth of Centre st., Newton Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Potter of Loring st., Newton Centre, and Miss Ellen Weston of Larch rd., Waban, are giving after theater supper parties.

Mr. E. Hoyt Weston will act as master of ceremonies.

Used Gas Device, Must Pay $60

In the Newton court yesterday Nicholas Battista of 11 Murphy court, Newton, was sentenced by Judge Mayberry to two months in the House of Correction for theft of gas from the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. Sentence was suspended on condition that Battista make restitution of $60 to the gas company. Battista had attached a device near the gas meter which enabled him to use the gas without its being recorded.

Find Missing Upper Falls Girl

The father of Regina Grieve, 15, of 4 Mechanic st., Upper Falls, reported to Newton police on Monday that his daughter was missing. She left her home on Monday morning to go to school and did not return that night. It was reported that the girl had been seen on the Worcester turnpike carrying a suitcase and bundle. The girl was found on Tuesday at the home of friends in Watertown.

Voters Adopt Biennial Plan Of Elections

Prefer Two Year Term For School Committee

By an overwhelming margin of 8,311 to 1,705 the voters of Newton accepted the referendum providing for biennial elections in the city at the election on Tuesday. A further vote of 5,533 to 4,044 showed the majority of the voters marking their ballots on the second question preferring a two year term to one of four years for members of the school committee. The elimination of the so-called off-year election made it necessary to alter the present term of three year membership on the school board.

Adoption of the biennial referendum eliminates the election which would otherwise have been held in 1938 and in future even numbered years. The terms of present members of the aldermen and school committee whose terms did not expire until a year from now are automatically extended until January 1, 1940. Seven aldermen-at-large, now on the Board, and two members of the school committee will serve a year longer than the terms for which they were originally elected. The seven aldermen are Barwise, Ward 1; Schipper, Ward 2; Hutchinson, Ward 3; President Floyd, Ward 4; McKay, Ward 5; Inches, Ward 6; and Colby, Ward 7. The two members of the school committee elected for three years in 1935 who will serve for four years are Smith, Ward 1 and Knowlton, Ward 4. Ward aldermen elected from each Ward at Tuesday's election will take office in January and will serve two years instead of one as in the past.

Another change in the election methods in Newton will be the change of date of the election. In the future, instead of election day coming on the second Tuesday in December it will be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, the same Tuesday that the State election is held in the even numbered years. Thus election day in Newton will be uniform each year, alternating the state and city voting. On the ballot in November 1939 will be candidates for mayor for fourteen seats as aldermen-at-large, for seven places as ward aldermen and for seven seats as members of the school committee.

Annual Reunion Of Camp Day

The 240 campers who attended Camp Frank A. Day last summer will hold their mid-winter reunion on Monday, December 27th at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Plans have been made for a jovial feast and get-together. There also will be swimming in the "Y" pool and games in the Boys' Division. At the banquet, toasts will be given by former campers and counselors. It is expected from reports which have been sent in that a large number of counselors will attend.

The feature of the evening will be demonstrations and motion pictures on model airplane building by Mr. W. C. Brown, the originator of the Jordan Marsh and Herald-Traveler Model Airplane League. Exhibits will be shown in the lobby, and demonstrations of planes and gliders will be given in the gymnasium and auditorium. The motion pictures of model airplane meets throughout the country will be shown at that time. Mr. Brown will, in addition, talk on "Hobbies and Their Value." He will have with him his crew of demonstrators.

At a recent meeting of the Camp Committee, improvements in both program and equipment were discussed, and many of them voted upon. These improvements will be announced at the Camp Reunion Dinner by the Director, Clyde G. Hess.

Directors in former years who will return again for 1938 include C. Evan Johnson of Newton High School, who will be the Associate Director; Mr. Thomas O'Donnell, teacher-coach at Dedham High School; and Professor Fred L. Daye. Mr. O'Donnell and Professor Daye will again head the Departments of Waterfront and Nature Study and direct the activities of the Junior and Midget Camps respectively.

The dates set by the Committee for the opening of Camp is Saturday, (Continued on Page 7)

Child's Re-elected Mayor By Large Plurality In Light Vote---Hughes Wins

Preferential Method Decides Ward 4 Choice—Biennial Elections Adopted—Two Year Terms For Members Of The School Committee

Mayor Edwin O. Childs was re-elected on Tuesday by a plurality of 6300 votes over Alderman Clarence C. Colby with 46 per cent of the voters going to the polls. Of 34,893 voters 16,245 cast ballots. While it was expected that Childs would win by a large plurality, it was thought that Colby might make a somewhat better showing. Frederick Lochiatto, the third candidate, received 197 votes. Childs carried every precinct in the city except Precinct 4 of Ward 5.

MAYOR EDWIN O. CHILDS

In the contests for Aldermen a surprise victory was scored by Charles E. Hughes of 244 Grove st., Auburn, who defeated Leonard W. Ricketson of 11 Normandy rd. in the fight for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4. Ricketson lead Hughes by 107 in first choice votes, receiving 4257 to Hughes 4150, with John A. Duane of River st., the third candidate, receiving 3683 votes. On second choice votes Hughes received 842, Ricketson 467 and Duane 434. This gave Hughes a plurality over Ricketson of 165 votes. Hughes is the son of Chief of Police Michael Hughes. In the other Aldermen-at-Large contests Frank T. McCabe of Ward 1 won a one-sided victory over Umberto Colarusso; Albert P. Everts of Ward 2 won a large majority over John Finelli, and Maxwell Gaddis of Ward 3 easily defeated Edward Martorana. John Temperley, serving his tenth year as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5 won another victory over his youthful opponent, George Cashman. Paul M. Goddard of Ward 6 was re-elected, defeating Gilbert Burns. George E. Rawson of Ward 7 defeated Paul H. Drake by a ratio of 2 to 1.

In the contests for Ward Aldermen Edward A. Fahey was re-elected in Ward 1, defeating Thomas F. Waters. A three man contest in Ward 2 was close. Richard C. Ashenden of 85 Fair Oaks ave. received 1021 first choice votes, Herbert Allen of 278 Cabot st., 806; Daniel Lombard of 424 Newtonville ave., 756. For second choice Ashenden received 118, Allen 147, Lombard 98. Ashenden thus won by 194 on both choices.

The free-for-all fight for Ward Alderman in Ward 3 with six candidates running resulted in a victory for Kenneth C. Tiffin. He received a total of 1458 first, second and third choice votes. Former Alderman Alfred Guzzi was second in this contest, receiving a total of 1107 votes. In Ward 4 Alderman George Bacon was re-elected by a large majority over Melbourne Hemeon. In Wards 5 and 6 Aldermen Walker and Jamieson were re-elected without opposition. In Ward 7 Theodore Lockwood defeated Thomas Sutcliffe, receiving 979 votes to his opponent's 320.

In the only contest for School Committee, for member from Ward 3, Ralph F. Taber defeated former Alderman Barnard J. Farrell in a fairly close fight, 6973 to 5729. Clark Bristol and Joseph Wogan were unopposed as members from Wards 6 and 7.

The referendum for biennial elections resulted in a sweeping victory for the change. 8311 voting "Yes" and 1705 "No." More voters favored 2 year terms for School Committee members than favored four year terms. The vote was 5533 for the shorter term, and 4044 for the longer. There will be no municipal election in Newton in 1938 and the present Aldermen-at-Large whose terms would have expired on December 31st of next year, will continue to hold office until December 31, 1939. So will the members of the School Committee whose terms would have expired on December 31, 1938.

In striking contrast to the elections in 1933 and 1935 comparatively few workers were in evidence around polling places, and the same held true regarding automobiles. An exception was at the Davis School, West Newton where considerable activity was observed because of the many candidates for Ward Alderman in Ward 3, and precincts 1 and 3 the battle ground.

Fair Oaks ave. received 1021 first choice votes, Herbert Allen of 278 Cabot st., 806; Daniel Lombard of 424 Newtonville ave., 756. For second choice Ashenden received 118, Allen 147, Lombard 98. Ashenden thus won by 194 on both choices.

The free-for-all fight for Ward Alderman in Ward 3 with six candidates running resulted in a victory for Kenneth C. Tiffin. He received a total of 1458 first, second and third choice votes. Former Alderman Alfred Guzzi was second in this contest, receiving a total of 1107 votes. In Ward 4 Alderman George Bacon was re-elected by a large majority over Melbourne Hemeon. PROVEN POPULARITY

Once again the popularity of Mayor Childs as a candidate for mayor has been demonstrated by a better than two to one ratio of votes over Alderman Clarence Colby. Mr. Childs will enter upon his tenth term as chief executive next January and in all probability will continue to render that type of administration which has characterized his long service and which has been repeatedly endorsed by Newton voters. Waging practically a single-handed campaign Alderman Clarence C. Colby attracted the votes of thirty per cent of those who cast their ballots. These votes constitute a minority who believe there should be a change in the city's administration. Alderman Colby has lost nothing by his defeat. Whether or not he becomes a candidate two years from now is purely a matter of conjecture. Meanwhile he will continue to serve as an alderman-at-large in his usual conscientious, co-operative and constructive way.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP

The adoption of a biennial election system in Newton is a progressive step forward. Almost without question the days of as small a percentage of voters as from ten to twenty five per cent going to the polls on election day are gone. In the future with twenty-nine offices to be contested for appearing on the ballot it is reasonably certain to believe that over forty per cent, and where there may be close contests, as high as ninety per cent will ballot. Although we favored the four year term for school committee members we believe that whatever disadvantage there might be in a two year term for these positions is more than offset by the elimination of the off-year election. With no political campaigns locally for two full years the attention of office holders can be entirely directed to the problems at hand.

Annual Christmas Party Of Canoeists Club

The Annual Christmas Party for worthy children of Waltham and Newton given by the Canoeists' Recreation Club of Auburndale, will be held Sunday afternoon in the clubrooms. The club plans to entertain 100 children with games, refreshments, Santa Claus, toys, a huge Christmas tree, and a special stage show.

In the evening, a party for the members and their guests will be held in the ballroom where gifts will be exchanged. The program will include Christmas music, entertainment and a collation.

The Christmas Party Committee is headed by Mary Reilly of Roslindale who will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bemis of West Roxbury, the Misses Anna and Marjorie Murphy of Allston, Isabelle Bagloe of Brighton, Marie Veader of Roslindale, Joseph Geary of Dedham, Douglas Ober and Anne Kenefick of Auburndale, and Joseph Gibson and James Holman of Allston. Mae Harten and Mary Clarke of Newton comprise the Hostess Committee. John Reilly and Arthur Andrews of Roslindale are in charge of transporting the children.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R. of Newton Lower Falls, finished another milestone in its history on Monday, December 13th, at the Chapter House. The chapter was organized on December 9th, 1896, and December 1937, makes it forty-one years old, the fifth largest chapter in the state.

The day held much of importance. First a Christmas sale of fancy goods, food, Christmas greens, plants and cut flowers.

You are given a cordial invitation to worship with us.

NORTH CONGREGATIONAL

Sunday, Dec. 19

Special Christmas services will be held Sunday morning in the North Congregational Church. The service will begin with a prelude of Christmas Carols by the Choir, and following this the regular service, touched with the spirit of Christmas, will proceed. The sermon by Mr. Gledhill, How Silently, "How Silently, How Silently." Two anthems will be offered by the choir, "Behold, I Bring You Good Tidings," Churchill; "The Wonderful Story," Matthews. You are cordially invited to attend any of the Christmas services at North Church.

Sunday evening at 7 p. m. an interesting program will be presented. The much loved story of "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke will be presented with tableaux and carols. The story will bring a new and rich message as it is presented, and the service will end with the lighting of candles. Those attending are urged to arrive on time, as the beauty of the service appears only as a whole.

A Christmas Party and a short play, "The Christmas Blessing," will be presented on Thursday night, Dec. 23rd, for the Sunday School. All the children and their parents are invited to attend. The usual Christmas tree will be held and Santa is scheduled to make his appearance.

Tubercular Camp at Sharon

During the past ten years 378 children have been sent to health camps in Massachusetts through the use of funds raised by the sale of Christmas Seals. In the summer of 1937, seventeen children were sent to camps and enjoyed such out door activities as are shown by the above photograph. Most children who go to the health camps are sent for a full eight weeks so that they may benefit not only by the out-door life, good food and adequate rest, but may also learn many desirable health habits which they carry over into their lives after returning home.

The children are carefully selected by the public health nurses of Newton and must be recommended by the Middlesex Sanatorium as potential cases of tuberculosis or intimate contacts of cases of tuberculosis before they can be sent to camp. Most Newton children are sent to the Southern Middlesex Camp at Sharon which is considered by authorities to be one of the best in the Commonwealth and it is the feeling of those in charge of the program, that children who go are very greatly benefitted as far as their general good health is concerned.

The expenditure of Seal Sale funds is closely supervised by the executive director of the Welfare Bureau and by the Health Committee of the Welfare Bureau who are charged with the responsibility of spending the funds raised by the Christmas Seal Sale. A dollar spent for Christmas Seals is a dollar contributed towards the health of some child who might at a later date suffer from tuberculosis if not given the protection offered by the health program of the Seal Sale committee.

A recent survey by Dr. Philip Jacobs of the National Tuberculosis Association, of the tuberculosis situation in Newton reveals a very serious health problem in the control of this single infection. Much money is needed to protect Newton's children against the ravages of tuberculosis and although the tuberculosis control program is generously supported by the tax payers of this City there are a good many activities needed to be carried on which cannot be charged against tax funds and which must be carried by the money raised by the Seal Sale.

Any Christmas Seals before Christmas and help the Town Crier ring the bell of good health for Newton children.

Oberlin College Glee Club in Newton Dec. 26

The public is invited to what is regarded as a rare treat, musically, on Sunday evening, the 26th, when the Oberlin College Glee Club will give a program in the Eliot Congregational Church, corner of Church and Centre sts., Newton.

Proceeding this feature Mr. Earl R. Weidner, notable organist at W.N.A.C., and organist and choir director at Eliot Church, will render from 7:30 to 8 a program of music on the Frank A. Day Memorial organ.

The Sunday evening occasion has been planned by the Boston Chapter of Oberlin Alumni in conjunction with the Glee Club's Christmas concert tour of New England and New York state cities. These annual tours, the first in these parts since 1930, are rewards to the young men, 35 this year, for worthwhile achievement in music, and serve also to bring the College with its wide range of educational facilities in all fields to the attention of the public.

No tickets will be sold, no admission charged, a collection will, however, be taken to cover local guarantees.

Girl Scouts

This past week the Scout Troop captained by Mrs. Sterling Loveland has been busy trimming a Christmas tree for a party which the Newton Community Club gave on Dec. 16 for 50 underprivileged children of Newton. Mrs. Fred Hawkins' troop wrapped 25 dolls and 25 trucks in attractive Christmas wrappings and put candy in pretty cellophane bags. On Thursday both the troops were there to help play Santa Claus to the children and see that they all had a jolly time. Among the scouts who helped bring Christmas cheer to these children were Ann Paterson, Jane Finell, Barbara Dunmore, Ann Dunmore, Bessie Bacon, Ruth Seord, Ruth Gilmore, Nancy Loveland, Grace Fisher, Joanne Reiman, Joan Miller, Carolyn Meredith, Betsy Arwood, Mary Bradshaw, Constance Fanning, Patty Jenks, Mildred Rich, Nancy Fair and Jane Mansfield.

For the past several years the Newton Rotary Club has had as one of the guest speakers of the Christmas season, John J. Cronan, story teller of the Boston and Newton Public Libraries. Last Monday Mr. Cronan told a Christmas story of a little boy named "Pip" with his usual skill and ability. There should be a great run on the Newton Library for the book "Great Expectations" which completes the adventures of "Pip" so dramatically begun by Mr. Cronan.

Frank A. Lombard, for twenty-five years a teacher in Deshisha University in Japan, and lecturer at the Imperial Japanese University will speak on the Sino-Japanese struggle. Mr. Lombard is now director of oriental work of the Bureau of University Travel in Newton.

The annual Christmas party of the club will be held on December 27th at the regular luncheon time. Each member is expected to bring sons and daughters or children borrowed for the occasion.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

John J. Costello of 31 Adams st., Newtonville was fined $50 in the Newton court on last Friday by Judge Allen for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $25 for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file. Costello was arrested on November 27 by Serg. Bainon and Patrolmen Dowling and Hannon after the car he was driving had been in a collision near Bridge st., Nonantum.

—The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its annual Christmas party in the Ladies' Parlors Wednesday afternoon. The room presented a truly Yuletide appearance with holly tied with red at each window and red candles which Mrs. Howell E. Du Puy lighted as she has done for the past ten years. A nativity scene added further to the reality of the picture. Following a short business meeting Mrs. Carl Foss, the President, turned the program over to Miss Alice M. Nelson who had arranged for the reading of two short stories which she followed with the telling of a story, "A Candle in the Window," in her own charming manner. Music was furnished by Mrs. Albert M. Kreider, violin, and Mrs. Henry W. Webster, piano. Mrs. William T. Rich and Mrs. Sophronia Rich were the hostesses.

EDWARD D. CONANT

The late Edward D. Conant was born in Worcester, 91 years ago and for nearly fifty years was a resident of Newton. He was actively engaged in the real estate business which he established in Boston until his death two weeks ago. Last October Mr. and Mrs. Conant observed their 65th wedding anniversary with their family in their home at 34 Park st., Newton.

Recent Weddings

COLLIER-WHITNEY

Miss Eleanor Whitney, daughter of Mrs. Walter C. Whitney of 17 Willard st., Newton and the late Walter C. Whitney, was married to Abram Thurlow Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest F. Collier of Billerica, Mass., at four-thirty on Saturday afternoon, December 11 in the Eliot Church, Newton. Rev. Ray A. Eusden performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Wilmot Whitney of Weston. She wore her mother's wedding gown of princess lace with a Juliet cap and veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and white sweet peas. Mrs. Lawrence Chase Hobart of Detroit, Michigan, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of dusty rose gros de Londres and carried a bouquet of wine colored chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Marco Walker of Southbridge, Miss Priscilla Thomas of Upper Montclair, New Jersey, Miss Mabel Tompkins of Winchester and Miss Anne H. Strayer of Stratford, Conn., all classmates of the bride, wore wine colored gros de Londres gowns with matching veiled hats and carried bouquets of wine colored chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. William Earl Beggs, 6 Madison ave., Winchester. The bride's mother wore sapphire blue velvet with a matching hat and corsage of orchids. Mrs. Collier wore wine colored velvet with a black hat and a corsage of tulle roses.

On their return from a wedding trip to Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Collier will reside on Dana st., Cambridge.

Philip Neri Church in Waban by the pastor, the Rev. E. A. Twomey, assisted by Fr. Buckley, deacon, and Fr. O'Connor, subdeacon. Seated within the sanctuary was Fr. Driscoll of Forest Hills.

At the grave the pastor, the Rev. Fr. E. A. Twomey, said the committal prayers and was assisted by the Rev. Fr. Driscoll, and the Rev. Fr. O'Connor.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Community Sing And Creche Exhibit

The Community Sing to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Sunday afternoon, December 19th, from 3 to 4 o'clock, will be led by the chorus which appeared in the opera, "The Gondoliers" as presented last week by the Club. Mrs. Edward A. Estaver and Mrs. Gustav W. Ulmer will accompany on the violin and trumpet. An exhibition of creche will be shown throughout the holidays and form a background for the Community Sing. Everyone is welcome to attend this Christmas event.

Newton Foundation Sponsors Drive

Sponsored by the Newton Federation of Women's Club, a drive for clothing and bedding will be made in the Newtons during the first ten days of the new year. All members of the Federation, friends, and neighbors are asked to co-operate in this drive.

Bags have been bought by the Mayor's Welfare Bureau and will be distributed among Federation members in each neighborhood. To obtain bags those who wish them should contact their local chairman or call Newton North 6513 or Newton North 6721. These bags will be collected at the donor's convenience when they are filled and the same numbers given above may be called for collection. All bags have these telephone numbers attached.

The general chairman of the drive is Mrs. Anton A. Wild, of Newtonville, with Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, of Auburndale, as co-chairman.

A great need for clothing for men, women, and children, as well as a need for bedding and towels, exists in our community. The garments which have outgrown and which are being replaced with new ones at Christmas, will fit some other children and keep them in school this winter.

The chairmen for the different villages are as follows: Mrs. George F. Howland and Mrs. William T. Howland; Mrs. Perez B. Howard, Newtonville; Mrs. John E. Denham, Newtonville; Mrs. Frank Schofield and Mrs. Waban; Mrs. Ernest Dockstadter and Mrs. Benjamin Rae, West Newton; Mrs. Fred G. Sanford, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Thomas W. Cumner, Newton Centre; and Miss Nellie Osborne, Newton Upper Falls.

Christmas Plans And Programs

West Newton Junior Club

Box lunches were exchanged by the girls of the West Newton Educational Junior Club at their regular meeting held in the Library on December 7th. Coffee was served by Mary Cameron and her committee. Arrangements have been completed for the dance which will be held in Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Wednesday, December 29th. Mildred Billings is chairman and reservations should be made by calling Mrs. Raymond Perkins, West Newton 1774-J, a truck will call Wednesday for such contributions.

Auburndale Woman's Club Business and Professional Group

The regular Christmas Party of the Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club was held Tuesday evening, December 21st, at 7:30 o'clock in the Library.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Santa Claus herewith broadcasts his last invitation to attend the Children's Christmas Party to be held on Tuesday, December 21st, at 2:30 p. m., at the Newtonville Woman's Club. Santa will be there himself to give the children their presents from the big, shining Christmas Tree, and he very much wants the grown-ups to see what a wonderful day it is for the little ones. For grown-ups will realize, even more than the children, what is inside those big boxes given out with each doll or toy, and know

POTPOURRI

By CAROLINE F. AUSTIN

You must not come again,
Because you were away from here too long;
And what you seek is drowned in the quiet pools
And flown with the bird's song.
—Catherine Kirsopp.

We noticed especially a gold slipper-satin housecoat and its styling . . . though blouse, lingerie, sweaters are suggested to us in surprising variety for the fashion gift. These are special values at $1 and $1.95, figures usually associated only with the most casual remembrance. The BARBARA STONE shop (465 Moody St., Waltham) is achieving its owner's determination to make this a fashion-Christmas. For holiday plans, too, she brought the latest New York interpretations of odd weaves, becoming new colors, the 1938 prints in dresses that can be an "extra" or budget wardrobe foundation for social, business or homemakers' activities.

this work. She also told about the State Federation to broadcast over Station WORL, which is a daily feature, and said that the chairman, Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus, would be glad to receive constructive criticisms and letters, and that any such suggestions should be sent to Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie, 835 Watertown St., who would see that they reached Mrs. Kraus.

Mrs. Pitt W. Danforth, American Citizenship chairman, urged the women to go to the polls and vote, it being a duty that a small percentage of the citizens fulfilled.

In the absence of the Program chairman, Mrs. Herbert C. Myer, the president introduced Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Cundance of the well-known Haydn Duo who gave a very fine program. Mrs. Emma D. Bradley, a well-known dramatic reader, entertained with a Christmas reading and a monologue.

A Food Sale was held before and after the meeting by the Ways and Means committee. Mrs. Henry F. Keating being in charge. The committee assisting Mrs. Keating included Mrs. Raving, Mrs. Walter Frost, Mrs. James Messenger, Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie, Mrs. Francis P. Tighe, and Mrs. Harry F. Wells.

Fifteen bags were distributed among the members to be filled with used clothing for the needy of Newton.

that these children, at least, are going to be warm and cozy with the new woolen clothes inside, that Club members have helped to provide.

And as Christmas is a time for thinking of everyone, wreaths and prepared cones will be on sale that will make the home gay and festive.

Santa Claus has, as a very good assistant, the well-known magician, Harrison Hoyt, who is sure to delight both children and Club members with amusing tricks, and help to make this 16th Christmas Party in the Newtonville Woman's Club a memorable one.

Evergreens, alder berries, bayberries, and kumquats were the colorful Christmas tools used in an informal talk sponsored by the American Home committee on "Get Ready for Christmas with Evergreens," at the home of Mrs. Warren K. Brimblecom, 5 Fairfield St., on Wednesday, December 8th, at 2:30 p. m.

The speaker for the program decorated Mrs. Brimblecom's home in three attractive ways with the Christmas greens, first by an arrangement for a white mantelpiece with four different kinds of evergreens, and red berries and bayberries; second with a very interesting centerpiece for the dinner-table, of evergreens and kumquats with a place in the center for a candle; and third, a beautiful wreath was made and generously given to the lucky member in the audience who drew it by lot.

The tea that followed carried out the cheery Christmas season in the color scheme of the tea-table.

Suggestions for Christmas Gifts

The Newton Hospital Aid Association, which is one of the associate organizations of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, receives very material assistance from the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop which is located at 786 Washington St., in Newtonville. Recently they held a "Treasure Sale" at a vacant shop on Langley rd., Newton Centre, which was generously lent through the courtesy of the owner and of the Real Estate company. In the very attractive little booths, Mrs. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant, co-chairmen, arranged the many treasures which had been contributed, not only by members of the Association, but also by Newton florists, and a generous gift of china from a local man.

Not all of these many treasures were sold in the two days on which the shop was open, and the rest are now being displayed at the Newtonville shop, and the window, which is being decorated during the month of December by Mrs. Raymond Perkins of Auburndale, offers many suggestions for the Christmas shopper, while many more things are to be found inside.

A new feature to be introduced this week by the manager, Mrs. Francis Williams, is the "Grab Basket" where five and ten cent articles are to be found. Many of these were donated for this occasion by some of the local stores.

The shop is open on Monday afternoons from 2:30 to 4 o'clock, and on Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10 to 12. The management does not wish to interfere with the closing drive which is now going on, but will be glad to receive household articles. By calling Mrs. Raymond Perkins, West Newton 1774-J, a truck will call Wednesday for such contributions.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

HOCKEY SEXTET OPENS AGAINST BELMONT

The Greater Boston Interscholastic hockey league opens its season tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden with a set of four games. Newton will meet Belmont in the last game of the day with the defending champions Stoneham meeting Arlington in the opener, Cambridge Latin against Rindge in the second set-to and Melrose versus Medford in the remaining battle.

This year's championship race is very much of a question with Stoneham losing much of its strength by graduation and age ineligibility of several 1936 stars. At present the two Cambridge sextets look like the class of the league but other teams in the circuit are developing rapidly and may upset any early predictions.

Coach Evan Johnson's Newton six is one of the questionable teams. The Newton mentor has been working with a large squad and has six forward lines available. In all probability not more than three of these lines will see action against Belmont. A forward line of juniors is the most promising with a senior trio pressing them closely in practice sessions thus far. This week the ice at Bullough's Pond has been good and the squad has had some valuable practice periods. Scrimmages were held with both Stoneham and Cambridge Latin. In addition the orange and black skaters have had a couple of sessions on the ice at the Garden to familiarize themselves with conditions for tomorrow's opening battle.

The Newton starting line-up will probably have Carder at centre, Holter and Everts on the wings, Captain Ben Mason and Haggerty on the defense and McLellan in the nets. The reserve line-up will be Manchester at centre, flanked by Barry and Styles with Liming and Skene at the points and Smith at goal. Hurley and Dugan are two of a promising group of sophomores who may see some action.

—Members of the Union Church School are asked to bring toys and games that can be used as gifts for children in Newton. It is requested that these gifts be brought to the church school Sunday morning, Dec. 19th, at 9:45 o'clock.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Knless Phillips of Upland rd. will present their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Annette Phillips, at a luncheon at the Ritz Carlton on Tuesday next. Miss Phillips, who graduated from the May School in June, is a freshman at Vassar College.

LARGE SQUAD OUT FOR SCHOOL TRACK TEAM

Over one hundred and fifty candidates, for the Newton High track team reported to Coach Don Enoch and his assistants, Lamorne Boyle and Charlie Considine ten days ago to start preparation for the 1938 board campaign. With several veterans from last year's team on hand as nucleus point winners in interscholastic meets are almost certain. The biggest question is the development of reserves who are capable of capturing the all-important second and third place points.

Co-captains Bud Hines and Jerry Allen should take care of the sprints 300, and 600 yard runs although Hines may concentrate on the 300 and Allen on the 600. Ashley and Hurley are possibilities in the dash. Arthur Hughes, football end, is a hopeful prospect in the 600 to support Allen. Basil Babcock should be an outstanding performer in the 1000 on the basis of his performances last year.

Pescosolido, unless lost by ineligibility, and Don McKinnon are better than average hurdlers. Pesky is a potential state champion in the high jump and he will have assistance in point scoring from Mark Messier and John Callahan. Stuart MacNeil leads the broad jumpers although both Hines and Allen are possibilities in this event. As for some years past Newton will probably be weak in the shot put unless some of the unknowns discover abilities in this event.

High School Alumni Reunion

The Newton High School Alumni Association will hold a Reunion Party on Tuesday evening, December 28th. A well known popular orchestra will furnish music that assures an enjoyable evening of dancing. A variety show being arranged by a group of talented alumni will add to the festivities. The party is to be held in the Newton High School Gymnasium, Walnut st., Newtonville. Tables will be reserved for the various class groups.

The committee in charge of the arrangements includes: Doane Arnold, President; C. Raymond Cabot, Treasurer; Miss Daisy Pillman, Secretary; Edward H. Leonard, John E. Wakefield, Charles Butler, Raymond D. Hunting and Paul E. Ellicker, Headmaster of the High School.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Leonard Colwell of 13 Bartlett ave., Lexington, was fined $50 in Newton Court on Thursday by Judge Mayberry for driving a car while under the influence of liquor and $10 for drunkenness. He appealed. Colwell was arrested on Nov. 30 after his car had struck a curbing at Lincoln and Woodward sts., Newton Highlands, and had run onto a nearby lawn.

HARRIETT E. TOBIN

Mrs. Harriett E. Tobin of 85 Pine Ridge rd., Waban, wife of William C. Tobin, died on December 12. She was born at Trenton, New York, 65 years ago and had lived in this city for 20 years. She is survived by her husband, and a son, Emory Tobin. Mrs. Tobin's funeral service was held at her late home on Monday afternoon, Rev. Stanley W. Ellis of the Church of the Good Shepherd officiated.

HUGH F. DREW

Hugh F. Drew of 116 Adams st., Nonantum, died on Dec. 14 at the Newton Hospital. He was born in Watertown 82 years ago and had resided in this city for 75 years. He was a stone mason by occupation. Mr. Drew is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary (Farrell) Drew; four sons, and four daughters. His funeral service was held at Our Lady's Church on Friday morning and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

The Directors of the Stearns School Centre held their regular monthly business meeting on Monday, December 13, at the home of Miss Lucy E. Cobb, 244 Franklin st., Newton. Following the business meeting, the directors entertained as their guests, the volunteer workers at the Centre. Under the supervision of Miss Helen Sandstrom, these volunteer workers who come from the Garland School, Miss Wheelocks, Wellesley College, Boston Trade School, Newton High School and other institutions of learning, give invaluable service and carry on a well organized schedule of work and play for leisure hours at the Stearns School Centre. These young ladies who are in training at the various schools in and around Boston, find a practical application for their talents at the Centre.

Among the volunteer workers who were able to attend were: Janet Hale Walker who teaches art; Mrs. Eva Reiner who assists with a young girl's supper club; Jean Coleman, Social Dancing; Lillian De Rubelas and Rhoda White who have charge of the Magpies Club, a group of young children; Marjorie Wheldon who conducts a cooking club; Ruth Pierce, head of a group of Brownies; Philomena Schipani who teaches sewing and Marion Hicks who leads the "As You Like It Club."

After a social afternoon, in which Directors and Volunteer workers shared their mutual interests which had brought them together, Miss Cobb who is chairman of the Relationship Committee, served tea.

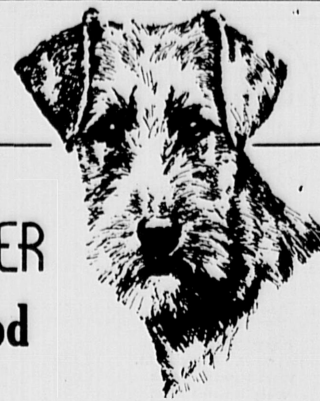

Curious Habit of Napoleon

The great Napoleon had a curious habit, when in a difficulty, of adding up the number of his soldiers, making the total bigger than it really was; talk of what he would do with divisions that he knew did not exist, and, if any one called his attention to the fact that he knew he did not have such divisions, Napoleon would retort, "Would you rob me of my sense of mind?"

City To Improve Lagrange Street

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night authorized the expenditure from funds already appropriated of $12,000 to resurface and widen LaGrange st. A corner of Newton juts in between Brookline and West Roxbury territory, and LaGrange st. runs across this corner for about a half mile within Newton territory. Some years ago Brookline widened and improved that part of LaGrange st. within its bounds, and two years ago Boston made extensive improvements on its part of the street. The Newton section has been in sorry contrast. Much traffic goes over LaGrange st., including many funerals from this city, Brighton and Brookline to St. Joseph's and Mount Benedict Cemeteries.

The street will be widened from 16 to 50 feet for a distance of 2200 feet and the cost will be $40,000. The section to be done now will cost $24,000. Of this amount the State will contribute $8000 and the county $4000; these sums remaining from contributions made toward the resurfacing of Beacon st.

School Budget for 1938, $1,567,000

The Newton School Committee at its meeting on Monday night announced the budget for 1938 would total $1,567,483.89, an increase of $29,477.90 over the 1937 budget. The increase is mostly caused by the automatic raises in teachers' salaries. This would have caused a larger addition to the budget but for the fact that there has been a slight decrease in the number of pupils in the elementary grades.

The School Committee voted to have the new school at Oak Hill officially named "Oak Hill School." This is the first public school in Newton to be given the name of a locality rather than that of some former prominent citizen, or school teacher. A group of Newton public school teachers had suggested that the school be named after the late Ulysses G. Wheeler, who had served as superintendent of schools in this city.

Early Morning Fire In Newton Home

A fire which was discovered at 5 a. m. Sunday in the home of Edmund Poutas, 16 Lyden rd., Newton, caused damage estimated at about $500. Poutas was awakened by smoke and he and his wife and three young children had to make a hasty exit from their apartment. The blaze started in an upholstered chair in the living room and was confined to that room.

At 1:55 p. m., Monday a still alarm brought Engine 1 to 38 Wiltshire rd., Newton, where a slight fire started in the cellar in some oily rags. The house is occupied by Richard Fennelley and John Herring.

Aldermen Praise Water Department

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Chairman Hutchinson of the Public Works Committee praised Water Commissioner Murray and his assistants for completing the laying of the 12 inch water main from Jackson rd. and Washington st., Newton to Auburndale sq. at a savings of $18,676.55 from the estimated cost of $182,847. The section from River and Elm sts., West Newton to Auburndale was laid at a cost of $32,671, although the estimate had been $43,500. Mr. Hutchinson said the work was done 100% by employees of the Water Department. Equipment used was 40 per cent owned by the city and 60 per cent hired.

In referring to the renewal of annual licenses to deal in second-hand automobiles Chairman Colby of the Licenses Committee reported that six petitions be granted on condition that cars be kept inside buildings because permits for outside sales had not been applied for. The firms included in the list are Dunham Chevrolet, 431 Washington st.; Frost Motors, 339 Washington st.; W. Furbush, 50 Davis ave.; Heffron Motor Company, 966 Watertown st.; Joseph Jurad, 11 Court st.; Newton Buick Company, 371 Washington st.

Petitions of Earle Johnson to install an additional pump and tank at 1153 Walnut st., to erect a 3 car service station at 14 Elliot st., and a 1 car garage at that locus, were granted. A petition from Johnson for an additional pump and tank at 14 Elliot st. was refused.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included—contribution to Federal Music Project, $378; Health Department, care of communicable diseases, $5000; Welfare Dept., $16,000; Soldiers Aid, $1000; Old Age Assistance, $2500; collection of ashes, $5000; damage caused by water main breaking in Blake st., $1700; Water Department, extension of mains, $5620; maintenance of water department automobiles, $850; construction of sewers—Webster st., $2000; Fairway Drive, $1500; drain in Waban Hill rd., $900.

Waban Youth Fined $15.00

Robert McCutcheon, 17, of 518 Chestnut st., Waban, was fined $15 in the Newton court last Friday by Judge Weston for speeding and driving without a license. Judge Weston also said he would recommend to Registrar Goodwin that the youth be not granted a driving license for sometime. McCutcheon and a 15 year old Waban boy were observed by Patrolmen Keating and Stevens operating an automobile at Newton Highlands. The youths attempted to flee from the policemen by operating the car they were in over the narrow Cochituate aqueduct at a high speed. The younger boy was fined $5 for driving without a license.

Continue Work For Library in Newtonville

An interesting reminder of early Colonial times in Newtonville has recently been offered to the City of Newton, through the Newtonville Library Association, by Mr. Enoch Smith of Bradford, Vermont, formerly a resident of Newtonville. This is a section of mortised hardwood plank, taken, as far as can be ascertained, from the old Joseph Fuller house which was built in 1680 by the son of John Fuller, a pioneer settler of Newton. This old house, standing originally on the hill south of and overlooking what is now Clifton Field, was enlarged by Judge Abraham Fuller in 1766; and in 1814 was greatly added to by General William Hull (husband of Sarah Hull for whom the local D. A. R. chapter is named), being then known as the Hull Mansion. After being moved to the corner of Austin and Walnut sts. in 1846 and used as the residence of Mr. Roberts until 1886, it then became the first home of the Newton Club. It was torn down in 1892, the section of plank in question being saved from the older part of the structure.

Mr. Smith presented this historic piece to be placed in the new fireproof Newtonville Branch Library when same is ready for occupancy. It has been suggested that this may be the modest beginning there of a permanent collection of historical objects relating to the early history of Newtonville, to which temporary exhibits may be added from time to time.

The work of the Library Campaign Committee has progressed steadily this year; among recent contributions have been those from the Newtonville Women's Club, the Central Congregational Church Women's Association, the Newtonville Methodist Church Women's Association, the American Legion, the Every Saturday Club and the Newton High School Faculty, and from many individuals.

The Committee has heard with much regret of the recent death of Miss Carrie E. Silloway of Newtonville, who has been one of its most generous and enthusiastic supporters.

It is planned to place in the completed library, as a permanent record, a list, without amount, of the names of those persons, who by their subscriptions made this library possible.

Improved Postal Service In Newton

Scores of temporary postal employees have been assisting the clerks and letter carriers in the various post-offices in Newton to despatch and deliver the enormous amount of Christmas mail. While it is inevitable that there is delay in the receipt of mail from outside postoffices, it is being delivered with promptness as soon as it is received. On Tuesday Postmaster Peter Tague visited every post-office in Newton. Mr. Tague has visited all of the numerous postoffices in the big Boston postal district the past few days, keeping in close touch with the efforts to handle the Christmas mail avalanche.

Supt. Joseph O'Gorman of the Newton postoffice has received many commendations from patrons of that office because of the innovation he instituted of placing a temporary clerk in the lobby to sell stamps, and also opening an additional window to assist in speedy handling of parcel-post packages for despatch. This action resulted in rapid service and eliminated the lines of persons which have been in evidence in the postoffice in past Christmas seasons.

Broken Water Main Causes Big Flood

Last Friday morning at 11:15 the big 48 inch water main of the Metropolitan Water supply on Blake st., Newton, was cracked when the bucket of a power shovel owned by the City of Newton dropped on it. A geyser of water 50 feet high shot into the air for a few minutes until the break in the big iron main widened. Then, for two hours a huge volume of water gushed from the main, washing out Blake st. and Parkway ave., and forming a lake over Cabot Park near the Security Mills. The cellar at the home of David Fecteau, 218 Cabot st., was completely flooded, and several inches of water covered the floor in the cellar of the Security Mills. It is estimated that about 10,000,000 gallons of water surged from the broken main before gates were shut by Metropolitan District employees at Waverley ave., Newton, and at the corner of Cabot and Elm sts. at the corner of West Newton. A nearer gate on Bulloah park, Newtonville, could not be closed tight.

About 100 employees of the Newton Street Department were sent to the scene, with a number of trucks, and large quantities of sand were used in an effort to dam the big stream of water and divert it from nearby buildings. Engine 1 pumped water from off Cabot, into a nearby manhole over covered Laundry Brook and thus cleared the big pool threatening to seep into the cellar of Security Mills. Engine 4 pumped out the cellar of Fecteau's residence. Fecteau's home is built adjoining the former course of Edmonds Brook, and its cellar was flooded a few years ago when the dam at Edmonds Park broke. The Street Department has been repairing the damage to Blake st. and Parkway ave.

The Street Department has been placing a 15 inch drain in Blake st. to replace a 10 inch drain formerly there. The development of the former Cabot woods into residential areas at Morse, Upland and Kirkstall rds., has so increased surface flowage that the 10 inch drain was too small, and cellars along Blake st. have been flooded.

In past years Edmonds Brook took care of surface water, but this brook was covered over some years past. The accident occurred when the nut on the clevis pin on the boom of the big power-shovel broke, causing the bucket to drop onto the big water main. The main was broken where it turns from Blake st. into Colby st., and at this point the digging had been by hand. The broken pipe was being eased along Blake st. when the boom fell. The 48 inch water main runs from Commonwealth ave. under Bulloah pk., Mill, Blake, Colby, Centre, Sargent and Kenrick sts. to the Boston line.

Refuse Zone Change On Comm. Avenue

The petition of Christian Riedel of Brighton to have a lot of land between 535 and 543 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, changed from private residence to business zone was refused by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Alderman Rawson of the Claims and Rules Committee stated that the petition be not granted, that it would be spot zoning, inasmuch as only one lot of land is involved, and that owners of abutting properties and residents of the neighborhood had objected. Alderman Colby asked if the locus is contiguous to business property. Rawson replied that it is near business property, but the property has been used for business in the past. The non-conforming clause of the zoning ordinance, and was so used before the ordinance was established in 1922. Rawson stated that outside of a small area near Lake st., business along Commonwealth ave. is under non-conforming use, and it has been the practice of various Boards of Aldermen to keep the avenue free from business.

A public hearing on the petition was held on Dec. 15th at City Hall. Among those who protested were Jacob Brison of Nottingham st., John Crowley of 534 Commonwealth ave., Mrs. Wilma Kavis of 535 Commonwealth ave., and Richard Stimpson of 470 Commonwealth ave. The latter stated (Continued on page 4)

Aldermen Vote For Parking Space at Newton Corner

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to appropriate $2500 for the grading and surfacing of 28,000 square feet of land at Newton Corner which has been offered by the R. C. Taylor Trust as a parking space for automobiles at that business section. The land is located adjacent to Pearl court and is between Washington and Pearl sts. at the rear of the Stevens and Taylor buildings. A couple of months ago tenants of six old dwellings in the area had to vacate and the buildings will be razed in the immediate future.

For many months Phillips Byfield, agent of the Taylor estate in Newton has been endeavoring to effect a contract between the Taylor Trust and the City of Newton so that the parking space would become a reality. The City leases the land from the Taylor Trust at a yearly rental of $189, which offsets what the Taylor Trust pays for taxes on the land. The parking space, therefore, costs the city nothing other than the loss of the taxes. For the past 25 years there has been need of parking facilities at Newton Corner, and the recedence of this district as Newton's leading shopping centre can be attributed in large degree to this condition. Despite the fact that Newton Corner has unusual advantages for business because it is a transportation centre, there are now fourteen vacant stores there.

The obstacle to the acceptance of the offer from the Taylor estate was the cost of grading and surfacing the proposed parking area, and the cost of policing it. At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night Chairman Hutchinson of the Public Works Committee explained that the Paramount Theatre management will pay the wages of an attendant who will police the parking space from 1 to 11 p. m. Mr. Hutchinson also said that the city will receive a 5 year lease on the property, with the option of a 5 year renewal, and the city can cancel the lease at anytime on 30 days' notice, but the lessor has not this right. A plan drawn by City Engineer Harvey showed that there will be space for 91 cars in the parking area.

In discussing the appropriation of the $2500 for grading the parking space, Alderman Colby said it will tend to stop decline of real estate values at Newton Corner, and Alderman Cronin who favored the project, predicted that in future years the city will have to provide municipal parking spaces. Alderman Temperley said he would vote for the appropriation, but was not keen about doing so, as similar calls would come from merchants in other parts of the city. He predicted that some day the city might have to buy the Newton Corner parking space at a high figure.

Boys Must Pay For Stolen Lead

Eight boys residing on Mechanic, Elliot and Cottage sts., Upper Falls, and whose ages range from 13 to 16 were given a hearing at the Newton court house last Saturday on charges of having stripped 213 feet of lead flashing from the buildings of the former Saco-Lowell shops at Upper Falls. The lead weighed 533 pounds and was valued at $199.63. The boys melted the lead flashings in fires in their yards and sold the metal. Inspector Hammell, who investigated the theft, recovered some of the stolen flashing. An agreement was reached between the police and Probation Officer Hickey whereby the latter will collect $14.95 from each of the boys' parents; otherwise larceny complaints will be issued against them. One of the boys involved served a term at the Lyman School.

Floyd Again Heads Aldermen

A caucus of the members of the 1938 Board of Aldermen was held at City Hall on Monday night prior to the meeting of the Aldermen. In addition to the members of the 1937 Board who will again serve next year, Aldermen-Elect Ashenden of Ward 2 and Hughes of Ward 4 were present. Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Ward 4 received the unanimous nomination for President. He served in this office the past year. Mr. Floyd has served as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4 since January 1, 1929. Clifford H. Walker, Ward Alderman from Ward 5, was unanimously nominated as Vice President of the Board. Mr. Walker has served since January 1, 1934.

Four Appointed Reserve Police

Four vacancies in the reserve force of the Newton police department were filled on Monday when Chief Hughes appointed Augustus White, Oak ave., West Newton; William Howley, 419 Parker st., Newton Centre; George O'Neill, Cherry pl., West Newton, and Stephen Madden, Washburn ave., Auburndale. John Hehir of Gardner st., Newton, was appointed on Wednesday. White was first on the eligible list. Howley second, Hehir third, O'Neill sixth, and Madden seventh. Francis Turner of Bridge st., fourth on the list, is a member of the Newton Fire Department. John Doherty of Bridge st. is fifth on the list.

William Sherman of 157 Cherry st., West Newton, who has been a member of the reserve force, was appointed a regular patrolman to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Patrolman Joseph O'Connor.

Jury Finds Larkin Guilty in Dog Case

Henry J. Larkin of 926 Dedham st., Oak Hill, was found guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge last Thursday on the charge of failing to restrain two large St. Bernard dogs after he had been notified to do so by Chief of Police Hughes. Larkin had been found guilty in the Newton court and took an appeal when he was fined $10. Judge Swift in the Superior Court gave Larkin a 30 days' jail sentence, and then suspended it, placing Larkin on probation for three months.

Among those who testified against Larkin were Dr. Sumner Roberts, whose small son had been severely bitten by one of the big dogs; Mrs. Henry S. Cummings of Oak Hill, who was also bitten by one of the dogs; and Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe of the Newton police. The officers had notified Larkin several times to restrain the dogs and Larkin had ignored their orders. Larkin endeavored to escape the finding of guilty by stating that he did not own the dogs. He said Newton Hospital. Marusa reported to one is owned by his cousin and the other he had sold to his father on September 20.

Aldermen Cold on Gift of Cold Spring Swamp Area

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to refer to the 1938 Board the recommendation of Mayor Childs that the city accept a gift of about 24 acres of swamp in the Cold Spring Swamp area between Newton Highlands and Waban. The swamp comprises most of a large area registered in the name of Miss Alice L. Frost of 181 Waltham st., West Newton. It is very boggy, the muddy soil having an average depth of about 30 feet, with an extreme depth of 54 feet of bog. Some of the big area registered in the name of Miss Frost is solid land, and this would be retained by the owner. As conditions of the acceptance of the swamp, the city would have to waive $795.24 in back taxes, and pay $1203.42 for land damages. Many of the Aldermen did not approve of the acceptance of the proposed gift, because the area is so low, wet and boggy, that it would be very difficult to develop it for park purposes. Several years ago the city acquired about 30 acres of land at Cold Spring Swamp, adjoining the area now offered. Huge sums of money have been received from the Federal government under ERA and WPA grants for the development of the land into a playground, and the City of Newton has also expended large sums on this project.

The area offered by Miss Frost might be used for dumping purposes in years to come, and eventually filled so that it could be converted into a wooded park. It would be quite difficult to drain it.

Fall Fatal To Elderly Woman

Mrs. Bridget (O'Halloran) King, 79, of 219 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, died at the Newton Hospital on Dec. 18, as a result of head injuries received on Dec. 8, when she stumbled while walking opposite 66 Commonwealth ave. and fell against a tree. Mrs. King, the widow of Joseph A. King, was for many years a resident of West Newton. She was a native of County Limerick, Ireland, and had lived in this city for over 50 years. Her funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's Church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery. Mrs. King is survived by two sons, Joseph and Henry King, and a daughter, Elizabeth.

80 Year Old Man Hit By Auto

Thomas Rice, 80, of 119 Norwood ave., Newtonville, was hit while crossing Newtonville sq. at 7:30 Saturday night by an automobile driven by Anthony Marusa of 14 Hale st., Upper Falls. Mr. Rice was injured on his head and left leg and was taken to Newton Hospital. Marusa reported to one is owned by his cousin and the other he had sold to his father on September 20.

ZONTA CLUB

The annual Christmas party of the Newton Zonta Club was held on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman of Mount Vernon st., West Newton. The entire membership of the club was present at a turkey dinner served by Miss Freeman.

Miss Cora McKenzie of Cambridge Zonta Club was the guest of the evening. With Miss Olivia Cate at the piano the club enjoyed singing the Christmas carols, and an original poem was read by Miss Elizabeth Fyfe, expressing her gratitude to the members of the club for their many courtesies to her during her long illness. Following the dinner, Santa Claus appeared and distributed gifts to all. Special gifts were given to Miss Freeman, Miss Lovell and Miss Fuller in recognition of their activities in connection with the social side of the various meetings. The Christmas stories were read by Mrs. Sloan, head of the Children's Department of the Newton Public Library. They were new and entertaining and were read in a vivacious and absorbing manner.

The President, Miss Sturgis, gave notice of an invitation extended by the Waltham Zonta Club to meet with them at Cedar Hill on January 3, 1938, at which time Mrs. Whiting of Weston will be the guest speaker. Also an invitation was received from the Framingham Zonta to attend their birthday party to be held on Jan. 12, at Framingham.

Miss Mabel Bragg of Newton Zonta and a member of the staff of the Boston University School of Education is spending the Christmas vacation in Florida.

Miss Annis Sturgis, President of the Newton Zonta, and Newton school psychologist, will spend her vacation with her parents in Centerville.

On Sunday, Jan. 9th, the local Zontans are planning to entertain the Hon. Agnes McPhail, M. P., of the Canadian Government at Ottawa. Miss McPhail, a Canadian Zontian, is to be the speaker at the Newton Forum on that date.

Fined $35 For Drunken Driving

John D. Nichols, 53, of South ave., Weston was fined $35 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file. Nichols was arrested at 1 a. m. on December 3rd by Patrolmen Jenkins and Stevens after the car he was driving had hit a post and a traffic sign at Watertown and Chapel sts., Nonan-

Not Guilty of Reckless Driving

John L. Fay, 21, of Chelsea was found not guilty of driving so as to endanger the safety of the public by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday. For driving without a license he was fined $5. Fay was arrested by Patrolmen Taffe and Jenkins on the Worcester turnpike a couple of weeks ago after the car he was driving had hit another automobile. He then told the police that the car was owned by his brother, and he had taken it without authority. Fay told Judge Mayberry that the brakes on the car failed to work and that he chose to run into the other automobile in order to avoid hitting some children who he claimed were on a nearby sidewalk, when by swerving the car he could have avoided the collision.

st. Watertown, along California st., about three-quarters of a mile to a point opposite Colonial ave., Newtonville. There he pulled the girl into a field and when she resisted his advances he broke her nose, blackened her eyes, and she received a cut on her head when he knocked her to the ground.

The girl went to a friend's home nearby and the case was reported to Newton police. Patrolman Whelan investigated the case, and as Tocci answered the description given by the girl of her assailant, Whelan took the girl to identify him, after she had looked at other suspects. She identified Tocci, and he attempted to establish an alibi. Peter Borre, his attorney, asked for a suspended sentence. Judge Swift refused, saying the assault was quite brutal, and he had no doubt of Tocci being the girl's assailant.

Tocci Gets 18 Months In Prison

Angelo Tocci, 20, of Linwood ave., Newtonville, was sentenced to serve 18 months in Middlesex County prison by Judge Swift in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Monday. Tocci was found guilty on Nov. 19 by Judge Swift of having committed a brutal assault on Esther Hanscom, 23, of 544 Grove st., Newton Lower Falls. According to the girl's testimony, Tocci followed her from the bridge at Galen

30 Days In Jail For Begging

Michael Moran, 24, and without a home, was arrested in Chestnut Hill on Sunday by Patrolmen Taffe and Barry after he had begged something to eat at residences in that prosperous community. Moran told the police that he had come from Detroit on a truck to look for work, and had not eaten for 24 hours. In court on Monday he was sentenced by Judge Mayberry to serve 30 days in jail on a charge of vagrancy.

Break Auto Laws, Get Leniency

A number of autoists were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday for various violations of traffic laws. Patrolman John Mullen was the complainant in most of the cases. Frederick Pike of 96 Larchmont ave., Waban, was found guilty of speeding for the second time within a year and in accordance with the law Judge Mayberry imposed the mandatory fine of $25 on Pike, but he then suspended the fine. Robert Lepmonds of 75 Crofton rd., Waban, convicted of speeding, had to pay a $5 fine. Francis Fisher of Centre st., Dover, was also convicted of speeding and fined $3. A charge of failing to slow down while approaching a pedestrian was also made against Fisher, and this charge was filed.

Three autoists were charged with failing to stop at a traffic signal when the red light was against them, and their cases were filed by Judge Mayberry. The offenders were May Dawson, 51 of Fage rd., Needham; Harold Bond, 19, of Brantwood rd., Arlington; George Sutton, North st., Medford. Another case filed was that of Edwin Wainwright of Lewis st., Needham, found guilty of driving without proper lights.

Oldest Native Newtonian Is Aub. Woman

The oldest native born Newtonian now living here is Miss Eliza Ellen Bourne of Auburndale. This announcement was made at the Carley Realty office on Tuesday of this week at 4:30 p. m. when the contest known as "The One Who Has Known Newton Longest," conducted by the Carley office, ended. Miss Bourne was nominated for the honor by Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins. She was born on March 16, 1847 and is now 90 years, 9 months and 8 days old.

At the Christmas gathering to be held at the Centenary M. E. Church in Auburndale on Wednesday and a Christmas check from Miss Carley will be presented by Rev. Mason W. Sharp, pastor of the church. Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins will also be presented with a check for nominating Miss Bourne under the rules of the contest.

Notable among many other nominations made in the contest were William B. Wood, with four nominators, born May 10, 1847 (less than two months younger than the winner); Adolph L. Hahn, Jan. 17, 1857; Mrs. Adeline H. Burgess, May 16, 1853; Miss Helen A. Bacon, Nov. 4, 1853; Charles F. Bacon, 1857; J. Henry Bacon, 1858; and Warren S. Kilburn, 1865.

The popularity and interest in the contest completed this week leads Carley Realty to inaugurate a new contest to determine the youngest grandmother of a grandson in the city of Newton. A $500 prize will be awarded to the grandmother so reported and to the person sending in the name. The contest will close at 4:30 p. m. on Tuesday, Feb. 15, 1938.

Report On Milk By Health Dept.

The Newton Health Department last Friday issued a report relative to its inspections of the milk supply of this city for the past year. There are 59 dealers supplying milk to residents of this city. The daily quantity delivered approximates 32,000 quarts of milk and 4000 quarts of cream. Of this amount of milk 75 per cent comes from farms in Northern New England, in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Quebec; these farms selling to the big milk companies of Greater Boston. Fifteen per cent of the milk sold in Newton is produced within 25 miles of this city and is delivered mostly by the farmers who produce it. The remaining 10 per cent comes from northwestern Massachusetts.

Many samples of milk have been tested by the Newton Health Department in its laboratory under a microscope. If a sample is not satisfactory, then a farm inspection is made. Once each month samples are taken from delivery wagons and trucks and tested; 2100 such tests were made during the first 10 months of this year; four times as many as last year. Starting January the Newton Health Department will publish at regular intervals bacteria counts of the milk delivered by various dealers.

Radio Conference To Be A Broadcast Program

Simulating a program of a broadcasting station, the second Annual Conference of the State Federation division of Radio will be held on Monday, January 10th, at the Hotel Statler, Boston. It will open at 10 o'clock with the "Morning Salute" given in the Ball room by Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus, State chairman of the division, and then district radio directors will be introduced.

Weather reports, news, shopping hints, food-tips music, politics, interior decoration, even horoscopes, will be featured, each being given by favorite commentators, allotted the regulation 15 minutes. Luncheon will be served at 12:15, for which reservations should be made by January 6th, with Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, 189 Washington st., Newton.

The Program chairman for the conference will be Mrs. Dwight R. Clement, and members of the division assisting Mrs. Kraus will be: Registration chairman, Mrs. Harold C. Daniels; assistant, Mrs. C. F. Query; secretary, Mrs. Arthur E. Jenner; treasurer, Mrs. Carl H. Whitney; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Elliott G. Wellington; Hospitality, Mrs. Blanche Robinson; assistant, Mrs. Harry S. Broadbent; Luncheon, Mrs. Parkman A. Collins; assistant, Marcia Graves Loring; Ushers, Roberta Green; and House chairman, Mrs. Robert S. Bushnell.

Other members of the division who will act as ushers are: Mrs. George W. Davis, Jr., Mrs. William L. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Harry D. Hamilton, Miss Regina Kirkpatrick, Mrs. William W. Kurth, Mrs. Harry S. MacNish, Mrs. Howard S. Shepard, Mrs. William R. Taylor, and Mrs. Earl R. Weidner. Radio Directors include: Marcia Graves Loring and Mrs. A. Parkman Collins, WORL; Roberta Green, WCOP; Mrs. Carl H. Whitney and Mrs. Homer P. Little, WTAG; Mrs. Harvey Hewitt and Mrs. Percy Noel Osborne, WMAS; and Mrs. Blanche Robinson, WNBH.

Tour Announced For Triennial

Clubwomen who are considering going to the General Federation Triennial Meeting to be held in Kansas City, Mo., in May, 1938, will welcome the announcement as to places to be visited and opportunities offered in the itinerary planned. Many times clubwomen are persuaded to attend these meetings not only for the value of the Convention in itself, but because the tours arranged will give opportunity to combine visits to relatives and friends, or to go to some place of interest that they have always wanted to see. So that this early news may be of real value.

Mrs. D. Henry Childs, of Canton, chairman of Transportation, has announced tentative plans for the trip to Kansas City, Mo., for the Triennial

Garden Club Elects Officers

At their December meeting the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club elected the following new officers to serve for the coming year: President, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco; treasurer, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne; secretary, Mrs. James Tully; and counsellor, Mrs. Walter D. Pratt.

The meeting was held in the Woman's Club Rooms of the Emerson School, and the members brought most attractive exhibitions of Christmas decorations, for which prizes were awarded during the evening. Among the members who exhibited were Miss Nellie Osborne, who later presented her entry, a lovely Christmas corgie bouquet, to the president, Mrs. Capobianco. Mrs. Mary Wiczorek exhibited a Winter Scene for centre of table, made of princess pine and moss, with a small deer gazing in a pond. This entry was awarded first prize.

Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh won second prize, for a Christmas Bowl of food. Other exhibits included: Birds' Christmas Tree, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne; Centrepiece of Christmas greens, with red candle, Miss Florence Osborne; Christmas Basket, Mrs. Albert Proctor; a Winter Bouquet, Mrs. Frank Mordy, and Christmas Table Favors, Mrs. James Tully, and Mrs. Joseph Valente; a Silver table-centerpiece, Mrs. Harold T. Sprague; Miniature Winter Scene in tiny glass bowl, Miss Grace Hunt; and a large Christmas Wreath, by the president, Mrs. Capobianco, which wreath was later placed upon the War Memorial which is in front of the School at Upper Falls.

In Game Contests, that of Flower Bouquets was won by Miss Grace Hunt; and the Vegetable Game was won by Mrs. Walter Pratt.

Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott led Carol Singing by the members, with Mrs. Albert Proctor at the piano. Mrs. Sharrott also gave a lovely soprano solo of "Oh, Holy Night."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sharrott and Mrs. Joseph Valente.

Christmas Programs

Newton Community Club

Fifty children from the Stearns and Underwood Schools were entertained in Underwood School Hall on Thursday, December 16th, by the Newton Community Club.

Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, the president, in giving them a hearty welcome wished them a very merry Christmas, and asked them if they would like to sing Christmas Carols and their response was very enthusiastic.

Mrs. James Melcher, chairman of the day, led the singing, which was followed by an interesting entertainment given by Mr. Frank Madden, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William M. Gunter.

His make-up, as a colored man, amused the children greatly, and when he invited them to whistle and sing, he received hearty cooperation. A small boy from the group, who wore a vest, was asked to step to the platform. Mr. Madden strapped his hands together behind him, then turned his vest inside out, much to the amazement of the little guests.

Each little girl was presented a doll, dressed by a club member, and each of the boys received a truck. Oranges and a bag of candy also were given to each child.

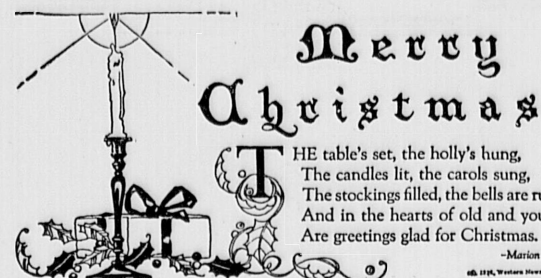

Ice-cream and cookies were served by the Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. Sterling Loveland, concluding a merry and happy afternoon.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School for their Annual Christmas Party on Monday evening, December 13th. Miss Nellie M. Osborne, president, presided at a short business meeting, during which donations were received for the Disabled War Veterans; among them being practical long-sleeved knitted shoulder-wraps for the veterans, also a cash donation, as well as other worthwhile gifts.

For the program following, Miss Edith Winifred Fisher in a talk entitled "Christmas Eve on Beacon Hill and Creche in Modern Art" told of Christmas Eve as kept on Beacon Hill in Boston, and gave an inspiring story of the Christmas Spirit as celebrated in Louisburg sq., Boston, transporting her audience to an "open house" as kept there on Christmas eve.

In her talk upon "Creche in Modern Art," Miss Fisher exhibited a col-

NEWTON OPENS HOCKEY SEASON WITH 4 TO 2 WIN

In its opening Greater Boston Inter-scholastic Hockey League game last Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden the Newton High sextet topped Belmont High, 4 to 2. Captain Ben Mason, husky defence player of the orange and black team, started the team on the winning path with a solo goal after two and a quarter minutes of play.

Twenty seconds later George Holger took a pass from Jack Carder and beat Belmont goalie Sharkey with a sizzler to put Newton two up. The second period was not quite two minutes old when Carder went down the ice with the puck and scored goal number three. About a minute later Dick Henry and Carl Westlund teamed up to keep the Belmont aggregation in the game with Westlund taking a neat pass.

The final session was more than two-thirds over when Rizzo tallied Belmont's second counter on a pass from Murphy to put Belmont in the game again. Newton's reserve strength began to tell on Belmont and as the latter team tired the locals turned on the heat. With three men down ice a Holter to Mason to Everts play brought Newton's final tally with less than half a minute left to play with Everts sinking the clinching goal.

In other games Rindge and Cambridge Latin tied at 2 goals each; Arlington took Stoneham's measure, 2 to 1, and Medford got sweet revenge for last fall's Melrose gridiron victory, by blanking the Ell Ponders, 2 to 0.

The opening games saw Ben Mason, George Holter and Jack Carder taking the lead in the individual scoring rankings, each with 2 points, made up in each instance by one goal and one assist.

Hoyt, the magician, who delighted the children with his many tricks of vanishing handkerchiefs, card-tricks and rope-tying stunts. A live and very tame guinea pig appeared by magic during one of the tricks and was greeted by the children with exclamations of joy. In two of the tricks, Mr. Hoyt asked two small boys to assist him, which pleased his young audience greatly.

After this thrilling entertainment the children marched down to the dining-room where two long tables, decorated with little Christmas trees and gay tablecloths, held the appetizing refreshments of sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and cake, which were served by members of the social committee.

Then once more the children went up into the auditorium where the big tree was now lighted, and suddenly a jolly Santa Claus (Miss Marlon Bassett), and his two assistants Jack and Jill (Jack Duff and Joanne Grammer), greeted the children and handed out the presents.

Much work and much of the real Christmas Spirit have gone into this annual event of the Newtonville Woman's Club. The various committees who made possible the Children's Christmas Party included Mrs. Adam Haugh, chairman for the presents; the Social committee, Mrs. Richard MacMillan, chairman, who furnished the refreshments; the Flower committee, Mrs. Horace Orr, chairman, who decorated the big Christmas Tree; and the members of the Volunteer Service committee, Mrs. Frank Simmons, chairman, who drove the children in their automobiles to and from the Party.

Various Events And Programs

Opera Talks

Sponsored by the Music committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Lucy Simonds will give a series of three Opera Talks at the Club House, January 11th, January 25th, and February 8th. Newton and "The Hill"

An Historical Sketch of the Andover-Newton Theological School

By REV. HENRY W. PINKHAM

E pluribus unum—out of many, one—stamped on the coins in your pocket, is applicable to the city of Newton as well as to the United States. Indeed, it is often called "The Newtons," constituted as it is of numerous community centres, nearly all having each its railroad station and its post-office. Call the roll: Chestnut Hill, Newton Centre, Oak Hill, Newton Highlands, Waban, Eliot, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, Auburndale, West Newton, Newtonville, Nonantum, Newton Corner. A letter addressed simply Newton goes to the post-office at Newton Corner, and the railroad station there is named Newton. Hence Newton Corner folks sometimes arrogantly claim to live in "Newton proper." But Newton is no more "proper" there than in any other of the Newtons. We are many neighborhoods, but one city, of which we are all proud.

Whence came the name? Was it chosen to honor the great Newton on whom the apple-tree dropped its fruit? No, indeed! Sir Isaac had not been heard of three hundred years ago when the white men first came to this region, and his law of gravitation was unknown. Newton is short for Newtown, the name which the pioneers who moved westward from Boston along the Charles River gave to their new settlement. They called it Newtown because it was a new town. Soon they changed the name to Cambridge, in honor of the English university where several of their leaders had been educated. What is now Newton was a part of Cambridge until 1688, and it kept the name which Cambridge had abandoned.

A few days ago Boston newspapers stated that a recent investigation had given Newton a place among suburban cities of this country. Newton people, as they read that report, doubtless said: "Are you telling us?" We have long known that Newton is the finest city in America for residence. "The Garden City," it is fittingly called. It is the city of hills and dales, of playgrounds and ponds, of churches and schools and libraries—best of all, of beautiful and happy homes.

You are now on one of Newton's high spots, Institution Hill, affording a wonderful view in every direction. Eastward the gilded dome of the State House and the lofty tower of the Custom-house are easily discernible. In Chestnut Hill rise the Gothic towers of the Roman Catholic Boston College. And here is the seat of the Protestant "Andover-Newton Theological School," in which Congregationalists and Baptists are happily co-operating, a harbinger of that reunion of the Protestant denominations which is greatly to be desired.

How came it that Baptists and Congregationalists have joined in an enterprise so vital as that of training ministers for their respective churches? Thereby hangs a tale too long for recital here save in meagre outline.

The Andover Theological Seminary dates back to 1808. It was established to provide ministers for Congregational churches that had escaped the Unitarian heresy with which Harvard was believed to be tainted. As a safeguard of orthodoxy a rigid creed was formulated to which the Andover professors had to subscribe periodically. On Andover Hill, sufficiently far from Harvard's contagion, the Seminary functioned admirably for nearly a century, sending forth some 2000 ministers, and notably contributing, through its learned professors, to theological scholarship. But the iron creed of the founders became a grievous stumbling block. For years the Andover Seminary was a bone of contention between conservative and modernist Congregationalists. The attendance dwindled and finally it was decided to move to Cambridge and affiliate with the Harvard Divinity School, letting bygones be bygones.

For several years the two, Andover and Harvard, functioned as one school. But this was in disregard of the conditions laid down by the Andover founders, and sundry conservative Congregationalists appealed to the courts. In 1925 the Supreme Court of Massachusetts dissolved the union, and the Andover Seminary was left up in the air, so to speak. What was to become of the Andover endowment, and of the priceless Andover tradition? Years of careful investigation and consideration followed, and finally, in 1931, the Supreme Court released the Seminary from the doctrinal restrictions of the old-time creed and granted permission to affiliate with the Newton Theological Institution.

Thus Andover Hill came to Institution Hill. The merger with Harvard might be called a trial marriage. It was not happy. But Andover and Newton appear to be permanently wedded, and the prospect is bright that they will be happy ever after.

President Herrick is a Baptist. Dean Dabney is a Congregationalist. On the Faculty and in the student body are both Baptists and Congregationalists, and no ordinary matters of observation can tell which is which. But on Commencement Day the Baptist graduates receive the diploma of the Newton Theological Institution from the hand of President Herrick, and Congregationalist graduates receive the diploma of the Andover Theological Seminary from the hand of Dean Dabney.

This hill, from the foot to the top, comprising 85 acres, with, at the highest point, a large dwelling known for years as the Mansion House, was bought, to be the seat of a Baptist School of the prophets, in 1825, for a little over $4000. Truly a bargain! What a place for such a purpose—like Zion of old, beautiful for situation!

The earliest professors of the new school were Ira Chase and Henry J. Ripley. Both were Andover graduates, for there had been no Baptist ministry for them to attend. The third professor was James D. Knowles. These three names are familiar in this locality, for halfway up Institution Hill, Chase st. runs off Institution ave., and, near by Ripley st. runs off Chase st., and a little further, Knowles st. runs off Ripley st.

Farwell Hall is the oldest building now on this hill, erected as a dormitory, the Mansion House having been remodeled for academic uses. The third building was Colby Hall, containing the library—where now the chapel is—and lecture rooms. The Hills Library stands where the Mansion House was until 1876. Sturtevant Hall is a second dormitory, with a large dining room on the first floor. The president's house stands opposite. Further south are two new buildings, dedicated last June, an assembly hall and an administration building. On the western slope of the Hill is Herrick House, a row of apartments for members of the faculty and married students. The new buildings make it fitting to say of President Herrick: "If you would see his monument, look around you."

It was the horse and buggy age when in 1825 the Newton Theological Institution was founded. It was 1834 when the earliest railway trains ran through the northern section of the town, and it was not till 1852—only 18 years ago—that trains ran on the track at the foot of this hill through

Police Give Prize Money To Widow

Twenty-nine members of the Newton police department, who qualified during the past year as sharpshooters or experts in revolver practice, contributed $2 each last week from the bonus money they received for this proficiency to the widow of Patrolman Lawrence Murphy, who was fatally injured by the gangster Simpson. The city appropriated $1000 for prize money to be awarded in 1937; each policeman qualifying as an expert received $50, and each qualifying as a marksman $25. Murphy had qualified as an expert. He proved his marksmanship, when, though fatally wounded, he fired at Simpson and shot that murderer in the neck as Simpson was fleeing after having shot Murphy and Patrolman Bell.

Suspicious Fire At Newtonville

A fire in the two family house at 23 Bridges ave., Newtonville on Monday evening caused damage amounting to $500. Chief Randlett stated that the fire was of incendiary origin and reported it to the office of the State Fire Marshal. The firemen found a hole cut in the gas meter and paper stuffed behind the meter. The flames burned up through one of the first floor partitions. Box 2351 was pulled at 6:41 and Engines 1, 4 and 8, with Ladders 1 and 3 responded. The house is owned by Gladys Magaw, and occupied by the families of Donald Magaw and Herbert Sheard. Another fire occurred in the same house on March 5, 1935 and caused damage amounting to about $5000.

Car Wrecked, Driver Departs

An automobile overturned at Grove and Hancock sts., Auburndale, at 1:25 Tuesday morning and the motor burst into flames. An alarm from Box 421 at 1:28 brought several pieces of fire apparatus to the scene. The police cars also speeded to the place and found two occupants of the car with cuts on their hands. Ray Hardy and Warren Grady, both of Worcester, were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Hardy was arrested for drunkenness. The driver of the car, Charles Sturtevant of Worcester, had disappeared when the police arrived.

Man Hit By Auto Skull Fractured

Nathan Lewis, 57, of 30 Burr st., Newton Centre, was hit Monday evening about 7 o'clock while crossing Commonwealth ave., near Manomet rd., Chestnut Hill, by an automobile driven by Prescott Brown of 174 Valentine st., West Newton. Brown took Lewis to the Newton Hospital where it was found he had a skull fracture. Lewis had alighted from a bus just before he was struck.

Autos Skid And Two Get Injuries

A car driven by Freda Alexander of 33 Adams st., Waltham skidded at Washington st. and Commonwealth ave., West Newton on Tuesday about 4 p. m. and hit the traffic signal there. Miss Alexander received a cut on her head and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

A car driven by Donald Broualt of Mountain ave., Malden skidded at Walter st. and Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre on Wednesday noon and hit a tree. John Drennan of Adams st., Malden, a passenger, received injuries to his head.

Missing Newton Ctr. Girl Found

Anna Roberts, 14, of 29 Trowbridge st., Newton Centre, who was reported missing from her home on December 29, was located by Captain Goode and Lieut. Crowley of the Newton police in the theatrical district in Boston and picked up by the Boston police on December 28. She was returned to her home by her father.

Mayor Childs Says Cold Spring Swamp Needed For Dump

Mayor Childs states that the Cold Spring Swamp area of about 23 acres which he recommended the city purchase from Alice Frost of West Newton for about $2000, which includes unpaid taxes of $795, can be used to advantage in coming years as a dump. Other dumps now used by the city are being rapidly filled in, and unless extra territory for this purpose is obtained, the city in the future would not have places in which to dump rubbish.

The swamp area consists of very low land, with muck from 30 to 54 feet in depth. The City Engineer states that eventually the area might be converted into a wood land park. The Board of Aldermen at its last meeting were cool to the recommendation of the Mayor regarding the purchase of the swamp area. They contended that the city now has about 30 acres of land adjoining which for several years past has been converted into a playground under ERA and WPA grants, and city appropriations. Huge sums have been spent on the Cold Spring Playground and it is very little used. The Aldermen referred the matter to next year's Board.

Not Guilty of Drunken Driving

Morton Goldfine, 22, of 50 Woodchester dr., Chestnut Hill, was found not guilty by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday of driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and of drunkenness. Patrolman Barr testified that he stopped Goldfine's car at 2 a. m. on Christmas Day on Beacon st. and that he told the defendant to leave the car and go to his home. According to Barr's testimony, Goldfine started to comply, then returned and reentered the car. He then placed Goldfine, a law student, under arrest. Patrolman Barr said Goldfine was alone in the car, but the defendant said a man named Axelrod was in the automobile and had been doing the driving. Goldfine admitted having had a couple of drinks earlier on the night of his arrest, but stated he was not under the influence of liquor. He also admitted having been impudent to Barr. Patrolman Joseph Greeley, who was in the patrol wagon when Goldfine was taken to police headquarters after having been arrested, testified that while he could detect the odor of liquor from the defendant, that Goldfine was not drunk.

Autos Crash On Pearl St., Newton

Two automobiles collided at the intersection of Pearl st. and Jackson rd., Newton on last Friday afternoon at 3:38 p. m. Both cars were badly damaged and three of their occupants received slight injuries. The cars were driven by John Costello of 31 Adams st., Newtonville and Gordon Illsey of Quincy st., Watertown. The injured were Lloyd Illsey, 10, of Watertown, who received a cut on his head; Gordon Illsey and John Kiker, 16, of Watertown, both of whom received slight injuries when Illsey's car was tipped over. They were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Skater Breaks Leg At Ware's Cove

New Woman Says Robber Took $231

Mrs. Marion Rossi, 34, of 263 Church st., Newton, opposite the Newton Y. M. C. A., reported to the Newton police last Sunday evening about 6 o'clock that a robber had entered her home and robbed her of $231. According to the story told by the woman, she was in a bedroom at her home when the doorbell rang and she was accosted by a man about 35 years of age who asked her if her husband was home. When she replied in the negative, Mrs. Rossi told the police that the man pointed a revolver at her, forced her into the bedroom, sighted the $231 which was lying on the bed, and seizing the cash, made his escape. She then telephoned police headquarters. She said the money had been given to her by her husband who is at the Newton Hospital following an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Rossi told the police that another robbery occurred at her home last July, when she said a burglar entered and took $75.

Highland Glee Club Sings Carols

Christmas morning at 4 o'clock 42 members of the Highland Glee Club assembled at Newton Highlands and started on a tour of the city to sing Christmas carols in front of various private residences, nursing home and institutions. Accompanied by trumpeters the men made sixteen stops and covered 19 miles. At the home of William P. Underhill on Monadnock rd. a stop of 30 minutes was made while coffee was served to the carolers. The tour ended at Newton Hospital where the nurses joined in singing the carols. Among the places visited were the Peabody Home for Crippled Children and the Baptist Home at Chestnut Hill.

Arrested For Attack on Girl

Paul C. Moran, 27, of 56 Gilbert st., Watertown, was arrested by Watertown police on Monday on a warrant obtained by Serg. King of the Newton police. It is alleged that on December 27 Moran took Vivian Mills, 17, of Prescott st., Watertown for a ride in an automobile and parked the car on Charlesbank rd., Newton. The girl told her parents that Moran attempted to assault her, but she resisted his advances. He then drove her to her home and she told her parents of her alleged experience. They complained to the police, and the warrant was obtained. Moran was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday and the case continued until January 10.

Fined $35 For Drunken Driving

John L. Compton, 29, of 32 Tremont st., Dorchester, was arrested on Thursday night, December 27 by Serg. Cleary and Patrolmen Stevens and Keating after the car he was driving hit another automobile at the corner of Centre st. and Langley rd., Newton Centre. The collision occurred at 7:30 and witnesses notified the police. In the Newton court on Tuesday Judge Mayberry fined Compton $35 for driving while under the influence of liquor. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Man's Arm Injured At Lucas Saw Mill

Charles Barker, 61, of County Way, Beverly, an employee at Lucas' wood working mill in West Newton received a severe injury last Wednesday when his right arm was drawn into a circular saw feeder at the mill. His cries attracted fellow workers who shut off the power and released his arm. They applied a tourniquet to stop the blood from a gashed artery in his wrist. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Services at N'ville M. E. Church

Next Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 special prayer services will be held in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. The speaker on Wednesday evening will be Dr. Fred W. Adams, and on Thursday evening Dr. Robert W. Warringtonham. The soloist on each evening will be Mrs. D. S. Beyer, formerly with the Metropolitan Opera.

High School Alumni Reunion

About 500 graduates of Newton High School assembled at the school gymnasium on December 29th at the reunion sponsored by the Alumni Association. John E. Wakefield of the Class of 1927 was master of ceremonies at a variety entertainment given by graduates. The feature of the show was a demonstration of the "Big Apple" given by ten boys and girls under the direction of Gerrie Wisbach of the class of '37. Among those present were Mrs. Alice MacManamon of '84; Frank Partridge, Eben Ellison and Walter Barker of '85; Mayor Childs of '95; Maynard Hutchinson of '94, who brought a party of 30 dinner guests; Principal and Mrs. Paul Ellicker, Supt. of Schools Warren, former Principal Irving O. Palmer. The plans for the reunion were made by a committee headed by Doane Arnold retiring president of the alumni association. Carl Schipper of the class of 1922 was elected president for the coming year. C. Raymond Cabot was re-elected treasurer and Miss Daisy Pillman secretary.

Early Morning Fire In Waban House

A fire which started in the kitchen at the home of James Chesarone, 515 Chestnut st., Waban, about 2 o'clock last Friday morning caused damage estimated at $1000 and forced several members of the family to make a rapid exit from their home. Chesarone was awakened by smoke and going down to the kitchen found that an oil stove had ignited some clothing near it. In trying to smother the flames with a rug, Chesarone overturned the oil stove, which burst into flames. He pulled an alarm from Box 662 at 2:12 a. m. and Engines 3 and 6 with Ladder 2 responded. Chesarone's wife had fled onto the roof of the porch at the house and was taken down a ladder by firemen. The fire was confined to the kitchen.

New Year's Party Of Knights Templar

The drill corps of Gethsemane Commandery will hold a New Year's Party at Masonic Temple on Friday evening December 31. The party starts at 8 and will last until 1. The entertainment will include dancing, surprise stunts and refreshments. Prizes will be given.

Cashman Found Not Guilty by Jury

Charles Cashman of 6 Lexington st., West Newton, was found not guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge last Thursday on a charge of selling an air rifle to a boy under 15 years of age. Previously he had been found guilty in the Waltham court and fined $100. He took an appeal. A few months ago Cashman sold the air rifle to a Newtonville boy who was under 15 years of age. Cashman testified that the boy claimed he was over that age. A few days after the boy purchased the rifle, he was using it at Cabot Park Playground, Newtonville. One of the BB shots from the rifle entered the left eye of Robert Bell, 13, of 34 Walden st., Newtonville, seriously injuring the eye.

Inaugural At City Hall, January 1st

The annual inaugural exercises will be held at City Hall on Saturday, Jan. 1st, at 3 p. m. Mayor Edwin O. Childs will be inaugurated for the tenth time and will start his nineteenth year of service as chief executive of this city. The Mayor will receive the oath of office from Judge Thomas Weston and prayer will be offered by Rev. Ray Eusden of Eliot Congregational Church.

Five Aldermen will take the oath of office for the first time. They are Albert P. Everts, Kirkstall rd., Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2; Richard C. Ashenden, Fair Oaks ave., Ward Alderman from Ward 2; Kenneth C. Tiffin, 110 Prospect st., Ward Alderman from Ward 3; Charles E. Hughes, 244 Grove st., Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4; Theodore R. Lockwood, 74 Elmhurst rd., Ward Alderman from Ward 7. Two new members of the School Committee will also take oath of office for the first time. They are Ralph F. Taber, 377 Waltham st., member from Ward 3; and Clark B. Bristol, 65 Allerton rd., member from Ward 6.

The retiring members of the Aldermen are Donald M. Hill and Albert M. Lyon of Ward 2; Benjamin J. Bowen of Ward 3; Dennis M. Cronin of Ward 4; and James B. Melcher of Ward 7. Mr. Hill has been a member of the Board of Aldermen since Jan. 1, 1934, and has been vice president of the Board the past two years. Mr. Lyon has served as an Alderman the past three years. Mr. Cronin has been a member of the Aldermen for the past five years. Mr. Bowen started as a member of the Board of Aldermen on Jan. 1, 1929, and Mr. Melcher is completing his fourth year as a member of the Board. The two members of the School Committee who are retiring are George H. Fernald, Jr., who has served six years as a member from Ward 3; and Kirtley Mather who also has served six years as a member from Ward 6. Both served as chairman of the committee part of the time during their tenure of office.

Woman Victim of Hit-Run Driver

Miss Miriam Drury of 334 Franklin st., Newton, was struck on Wednesday night, December 22 at Centre and Church sts., Newton, by a hit-run driver. Miss Drury told the police that as she was crossing Centre st. the automobile came along at a high speed and the driver did not stop after he had struck her. Miss Drury was assisted to her home by two boys who came along. She was treated by Dr. E. J. Sawyer. Her injuries included a fractured nose, broken bone in her left hand, and injury to her left knee.

Small Boy Hit By Automobile

Robert Burns, 5, of 56 Washington pk., Newtonville, was hit at the corner of Adams and Watertown sts. at 5:50 p. m. Sunday by an automobile driven by Frederick Nisbet of Roslindale. The boy received injuries to his head and right elbow and was taken to the office of Dr. Lowry by Mr. Nisbet, and thence to the Newton Hospital. The driver reported that the boy had run across the street between two moving automobiles and collided with the left rear fender of his car.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Prominent Speakers At Conference

"War is a Racket" is the topic of General Smedley D. Butler, luncheon speaker of the Conference of the Radio division of the State Federation, which will be held on Monday, January 10th, at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

Hon. Joseph B. Ely, former Governor of Massachusetts, will open the afternoon session at 2:15 o'clock, speaking on "Women in Politics."

Morning speakers who are allotted the regulation fifteen-minute period, who are usually heard on Boston radio stations are as follows: E. B. Riddout, "Weather and Road Reports"; Colton Morris, "The Monitor Views the News"; Imogene B. Walcott, "Food Tips"; Caroline Cabot, "Shopping News"; Eleanor Brooks Gulick, "The Reader's Dilemma"; and Helen M. Boll, "Expression of Personality Through Speech."

Afternoon speakers will be Mary F. Colburn, "Garden Talk"; Marcia Graves Loring, "Your Home and You"; Mildred Albert, "Poise Through Curriage"; Marian Hertha Clarke, "Behind the Scenes in Broadcasting"; and Ruth Beckman, "What the Stars Hold for You."

Musical selections will be given by Franklin Field, Baritone, accompanied by Natalie Weidner; and Katharine Baxter, Pianist; Luncheon music will be by the Allison Sisters and their Gypsy Ensemble.

Further details of the Conference may be found in last week's Club News.

Reunion-Tea Celebrates Holidays

Former members, who are home for the Christmas holidays, will be the guests at the Reunion-Tea which the Auburndale Junior Woman's Club will give on Sunday afternoon, January 2nd, from 4 to 6 o'clock, in the Auburndale Club House.

The pouters will be Mrs. John F. Wheelock, the Senior advisor, and Mrs. Herman Krueger, the Junior advisor. Miss Constance Hirst, the Junior Club president, is general chairman of the affair.

On Wednesday evening, January 5th, at 7:30 o'clock, the Juniors will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Miss Sue Blackey, 54 Windermere rd., Auburndale. Plans will be made at that time for the formal dance which the group will hold in February.

Members of the Milton Woman's Club will be the honor guests at the American Home meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Monday evening, January 3rd, at 8 o'clock, in Bragdon Hall, Lasell Junior College, Auburndale.

The speaker, Miss Flora Porter, will

"Budgeting Our Lives" is the subject Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, a former president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, will discuss at the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, January 4th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the village Club House.

The two new directors, Mrs. George F. Howland and Mrs. Grace H. Fiske, will pour at the tea to be served following the meeting by Mrs. Silvanus Smith and the members of her Hospitality committee. Mrs. Howard P. Converse is chairman of the day.

A Variety of Events

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Wednesday, January 5th, at 12:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. John Shade Franklin, 45 Lexington rd., Auburndale. Assisting her as hostesses will be Mrs. Fred H. "Swiss" George, H. Jackson, and Mrs. Edward H. Cameron.

Social Science Club

A meeting of the Social Science Club will be held in Channing Church parlors at 10 a. m. on Wednesday morning, January 5th. Following the business meeting, the program will be under the direction of the Club committee. The hostesses will be Mrs. Charles T. Pierce and Mrs. Clarence K. Reiman.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Among the Spirits" is the mysterious subject of the Newtonville Woman's Club program for the first regular meeting of the New Year on Tuesday, January 5th, at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be toward Higgins, Dean of Emerson College and head of its division of "Psychology and Education." Dean Higgins will illustrate in his program the many hoaxes practiced in the name of spiritualism.

Club members will be glad to know that the Cleo Club, under the direction of Mr. William Ellis Weston, Conch-artist, and Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, chairman, will give another delightful short concert before the lecture by Dean Higgins.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give another in her series of Current Events on Thursday, January 6th, at 8:30 a. m. in the Club House.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Charles R. Brown will be hostess to the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club for their meeting of Monday evening, January 3rd, in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School building. The program will consist of an illustrated talk upon "The Home Life in Italy," by Miss Edith Scorton, of Waltham, head of the Latin department of the Waltham High School.

In Honor of New Members' Day

On January 4th, in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, the "New Members" of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands are to be guests at a dessert-luncheon served at 1:30 o'clock. Following this, at 2:30

Motion Picture Poster Contest Announced

High school students, with talent for drawing, are given opportunity to express it in originality by an invitation to enter a Poster Contest, sponsored by the Motion Picture division of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. A prize of $10 will be awarded to the student who designs the handsomest and most effective poster illustrating the theme, "The Best in Motion Pictures." A second prize of $5 will be awarded, and a third prize of $3.

Mrs. Elliott B. Williams of Milton is chairman of the State Federation division of Motion Pictures. The time limit for submitting entries is April 1, 1938. The prize winners will be announced at the State Federation Convention in Swampscott in May.

Educational, recreational, or inspirational subjects may be chosen, or a combination of all three. The posters must be 22 inches by 28 inches in size, and will be judged on three counts: Originality of sentiment expressed or thought conveyed (50 per cent.); neatness (30 per cent.); and artistic ability (20 per cent.). The poster must be entirely original—no copies of other material will receive awards.

The rules require that each local district shall have a committee of three, consisting of the local motion picture chairman or representative and two others whom she shall select. The State committee also suggests that two or three money prizes be awarded locally, the amounts to be left to the discretion of the local committee; three prizes to be awarded at an open assembly of the club or school.

The special committee which will furnish further information consists of the State chairman, Mrs. Williams, 3 Norway rd., Milton; Mrs. Franklin P. Maxwell, 17 Brackett st., East Milton; and Mrs. Fred Stephenson, 37 Magnolia ter., Springfield.

Mrs. Williams and members of her division are urging that every woman's club have a motion picture contact member, to keep informed concerning the worthwhile pictures shown in the community, and to assist in creating friendly and cooperative relationships between members of the club and the motion picture managers of the locality. It is likewise suggested that the public voice their opinions about the pictures seen; that they give enthusiastic commendation for those which they approve, and state their objections to those which they dislike for any reason.

Motion Picture Appreciation Classes, for children and adults, are also suggested as a means of increasing individual skill in selecting pictures to attend and to study community problems in regard to pictures through a Better Films committee. Classes may be conducted by well-informed adults who are interested in the subject. Sometimes a teacher of English in the schools has specialized in motion pictures and can use this as a means of adding interest in her classroom.

Parents should be careful in choosing the pictures for their young people to see, declares Mrs. Williams. Youth should be tactfully guided in selecting films. Several women's clubs or community groups have Motion Picture Councils which study the pictures that are coming to their local theaters, see previews whenever possible, and send out announcements to members of the community telling which are suitable for adults only, which are suitable for children, and which are suitable for the whole family.

Christmas Seal Sale

It will be of great assistance to the local chairman in charge of the Christmas Seal Sale for the ten divisions of Newton if those who have not already replied to their letters enclosing seals will do so as soon as possible.

Although the national sale is planned to close at Christmas, the committee will be very glad to receive further responses.

No contribution is too large or too small, and the work of the chairman in checking the accounts will be facilitated if those not able to purchase seals will return them. Coins will travel safely through the mail if wrapped and enclosed in an envelope.

The amount received to date will accomplish much good when dispensed by the Health Committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau, but the total of last year's campaign has not yet been reached.

The treasurer's report for December 27th is as follows:

Newton	$796.40
Newtonville	758.90
Newton Centre	1018.06
Newton Highlands	488.75
Waban	559.75
Auburndale	387.78
West Newton	753.07
Chestnut Hill	396.25
Upper Falls	125.95
Lower Falls	25.30
Total	$5310.21

WOMEN'S CLUBS

o'clock, Dorothy Spears of Newton Centre, will entertain with reminiscences of her sojourn in Hollywood. As a novel-writer, operatic star, and scenic writer, she has attained prominence, and now, as a lecturer, relates her experiences in motion pictures, featuring the production of her play "Prima Donna," which became Grace Moore's "One Night of Love." Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation, will be the guest of honor.

Clothing Drive

The drive for clothing, bedding, and shoes, sponsored by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, at the request of the Mayor's Relief Committee, has met with gratifying response. Mrs. Anton A. Wild, of Newtonville, co-chairman, are using for their slogan "Help Newton First."

The bags purchased by the Mayor's Relief Committee are being distributed through the community to be filled and collected at the request of the householder. The bags are plainly marked at the top "M. R. C. Call N. N. 6513, or N. N. 6721."

Any bulky articles of bedding too large for a bag will be handled carefully by the driver. Those who return a filled bag to the driver, should ask for an empty one to fill at their convenience. Anyone desiring a bag is invited to communicate with the local chairman.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Among the portraits to be shown by distinguished artists in the Art Gallery of the Newton Centre Woman's Club from January 1st to the 15th are those of Virginia Lee Hartstone, by Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, and "My Three Grandchildren," by Edmond C. Tarbell.

Mr. Takizo Matsumoto, an official of Education in Japan and Assistant Professor at Meiji University in Tokyo, will present "The Case for Japan" at the International Relations Dinner at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Monday evening, January 3rd, at 8:45 o'clock.

Mr. Matsumoto, who has been decorated for promoting International Peace through Sports, and who was sent to the Berlin Olympic Games last summer as Honorary Secretary of the Japanese Delegation, says a speaker for Japan at this particular time needs great courage. Although sympathies are generally with China in the present struggle in the Orient, this is an opportunity to hear the other side of the question. Reservations for the dinner at 75 cents a plate may be made through Mrs. Lucius Thayer, 27 Estabrook rd., Telephone, West Newton 1415.

Mrs. Roland Gage Hopkins, who has recently returned from New York, will tell about the "New Plays of the Season" in the third of the series of Literary Mornings at the Club House, on Thursday morning, January 6th, at 10 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Various characteristics, behaviors, and problems of children of all ages will be discussed at the third lecture on Child Guidance, by Dr. Linwood Chase, at the Club House on Friday morning, January 7th at 10 o'clock. Any mother is invited to present to the group for informal discussion any problem concerning her child.

A special Liszt Musicale for the Club members at the Club House has been arranged by the Music Study Group for Friday afternoon, January 7th, at 2:30 o'clock. The program to be presented by Eleanor West includes the E Flat Concerto for two pianos, with George Pratt Maxm at the second piano. Sally Beattie will sing songs by Liszt. The finale will be the Sonata Solo, with Eleanor West at the piano. A social hour and silver-offering tea will follow the program.

The Children's Entertainment for Saturday morning, January 8th, from 11 to 12 o'clock will consist of a carefully selected new movie.

Club Institute

The State Federation Club Institute held at the Y. W. C. A., Clarendon st., Boston, on Thursday, January 6th will be opened at 10:30 o'clock by Mrs. John A. Jennings, chairman, who will introduce the guest speaker, Mrs. John H. Kimball, president of the State Federation. The subject for the day will be "The Club and the Community." During the Forum, six club presidents will tell how their clubs work with their communities. They will be Mrs. D. N. Sleeper, Mother's Club of Medford Hills; Mrs. Joseph E. Moxey, Friday Club of Everett; Mrs. Clarence S. Brigham, Loomister Fortnightly Club; Mrs. Thomas B. Morse, Woman's Club of Paxton; Mrs. Clifford R. Dumble, Arlington Heights Study Club; and Mrs. William D. King, Ladies' Unity Club of Dorchester.

State chairmen who will tell what their divisions can do for the clubs will be Mrs. James C. Better of the Will be Mrs. James C. Better of the Physically Handicapped, and Mrs. William T. Hanson, of Public Health. Mrs. Max Ulin, of the department of International Relations, will give the Peace Talk, and Mrs. George E. Hutchins will present Parliamentary Procedure. There will be a thirty-minute discussion and question period, and Mrs. Kimball will return to answer any community questions that may be presented.

HOBBY SHOW

The Channing Branch of the General Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian women will hold a Hobby Show in the Channing Church, Parish House, on Friday afternoon, January 7th, from 2 until 5:30 o'clock. Tuesday, Jan. 4th, the Union Church Men's Club is holding an All-Hobbies Night. As an added attraction Paul R. Carmack, famous cartoonist will give his fascinating "Chalk Talk," and exhibit and describe his most popular cartoons.

Miss Thelma Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer F. Prouty of Nehodden rd., and Miss Marie Duplain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Duplain of Collins rd., Waban, are enjoying the Christmas recess from their studies at the Child Walker School of Design.

"Prisoner of Zenda" At New West Newton Theatre

Ronald Colman has succeeded in imparting to his dual role in David O. Selznick's "The Prisoner of Zenda," showing Sunday to Tuesday, Jan. 2-4 at the West Newton Theatre, the most distinct separation of two personalities ever portrayed on the screen by a single star. His method was unique in the annals of filmdom.

Colman, who with Madeleine Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., heads the "Zenda" cast, used mirrors to achieve the striking result. He plays the part of both King Rudolf, a reigning monarch, and Rudolph Rassendyll, an English gentleman, two persons whose personalities and traits are different, though their looks are the same.

Mirrors entered the picture in Colman's rehearsals for the most difficult parts, those in which Rudolf and Rassendyll meet, shake hands, and discuss matters both humorous and serious. To make sure that his reactions to certain lines would differ from character to character, Colman observed himself as he ran through each part. If changes in technique were needed, he made them.

The actual placing of the two characters on the screen at the same time, with their amazing exchange of greetings, is a carefully guarded technical secret. But, according to Director John Cromwell, each person is strikingly different from the other, despite the fact that Colman plays both.

The new "Zenda" which opened last week has attracted much favorable comment from those who have visited there. This latest link in the great M. & P. chain of theatres is modern and is considered the latest in theatrical architecture. The vestibule with box office flush with the sidewalk line has a marble base and dado, recessed rubber matting in modern design and coloring along with brilliant display cases and a most streamlined marquee in gold neon. The lobby with its multicolored terrazzo floor, silver leaf wall panel boxes and special attraction frames are symbolic in their brightness and make a truly attractive atmosphere. As one enters the foyer the true beauty and splendor of this ultramodern designed theatre meets the eye. The mural extends the entire length of the side walls illuminated with special lighting. Carpeted in deep blue with sweeping design. Side walls are plastered in troweled finish, columns in silver leaf with the dado in natural mahogany. Special paneled mirrors run in columns from the floor to the ceiling in tan and blue.

A creme plated fireplace centers the attention along with the silver leaf ceiling. The decorations are in pastel shades with the mirror reflecting these to advantage. Main stairways to the mezzanine foyer lead from both ends. The main foyer houses rest rooms and lavatories.

The mezzanine foyer is very beautiful with a floor of decorative tiles, side walls in tapestry with decorative panel and indirect lighting makes a most beautiful appearance.

The auditorium seating 1200 has colored cement floors with carpeted aisles and crossovers.

Side wall panels are of acoustical plaster in colors. The ceiling under the balcony in the rear of the auditorium houses the modern air-conditioning vents. The seating is by Heywood-Wakefield, using a modern streamlined upholstered seat in blue mohair backs with special spring and pad upholstery. Chrome rail outlines the backs of the seats making them visible when unoccupied. Seat cushions are of special comfort construction with vented channels.

The stage is most modern in design with a new idea in the use of decorative pits. Lighting is all indirect supplied from two light towers as a component part of the architecture along functional lines.

The balcony is entirely fireproofed built entirely of cement and steel. Color scheme and lighting is the same as the main auditorium. Seats in both sections of the balcony are the same type as used on the main floor.

The projection booth is one of the largest and most modern in New England. Entirely fireproof, large and spacious with the latest projection equipment, this booth will be the medium of what the M. & P. officials feel will be perfect projection. Powered by a battery of Motograph projectors, with such modern features as the new horizontal rear shutters, automatic fire shutters, Breakout Lamps which give extra strong light, Western Electric Ultra-Microphonic Sound Equipment just put on the market by that company. This theatre is one of the first in the entire country to use this equipment.

The new theatre comes under District Manager F. W. McMannus with Arthur W. Pinkham as Managing Director and Les Guimond, a Newton man as House Manager.

Christmas At The Newton Hospital

Christmas in the Newton Hospital is always a very festive and happy day. Those who were present feel that no Christmas has been more beautiful than the one just past. For weeks before appropriate gifts had been chosen for each patient and each employee through the generosity of the Board of Trustees of the Hospital in contributing the funds which made this possible.

The Hospital was decorated in pines and wreaths and colorful trees throughout.

Early on Christmas morning the gleeful club of the nursing school, graduate nurses, and internes visited each ward and sang carols. About eight o'clock the Highland Glee Club, heralded by trumpets, sang beautiful carols outside the Hospital entrance. They then came into the hospital and sang carols which resounded up the stairway and through the corridors until all patients in the house were made happy by them.

At ten o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in their gay red costumes visited each patient extending greetings and presenting gifts to all.

At noontime a fine turkey dinner was served; the trays being decorated with flowers and place cards which had been selected or made by the nurses.

The happy response of the patients assures the Hospital attaches that the hospital Christmas was an extremely happy one.

INCOME TAX SERVICE

Happy New Year

If the number of new accounts and the number of old accounts whose balances have increased during the year are any indication, there should be a lot of people who will be starting 1938 happier than they did 1937.

The Newton Centre Savings Bank hopes that it has contributed in some measure to their happiness and that it may be of greater service to even more people in the year ahead.

Happy New Year to All!

The U. S. Supreme Court has turned down the appeal made by the attorney for Anthony DiStasio, who, with his father, Frank DiStasio, murdered Daniel J. Crowley at Hudson two years ago last May. This was perhaps the most "old blooded murder in the history of Massachusetts. It was committed in a plot to fraudulently collect insurance carried by the older DiStasio. Crowley, a stranger to the pair of fiendish plotters, was picked up on a Boston street, carried to Hudson, slugged, and then turned in an old automobile. For over two years the execution of the two murderers has been delayed by means of technicalities resorted to by their lawyer, and reprieves granted by Gov. Hurley and the executive council. Powers are watching to see if the Governor will extend further mercy to the DiStasios.

Newton In The Past

Patrolmen Harrison and Purrelli trailed the thief toward Brighton. There they bided their time, believing the horses would be brought to the stock yards to be sold. The man appeared with the stolen horses and was arrested by the officers. He gave the name of James Oakley, and claimed he took the horses because Mrs. Collins, for whom he worked, owed him money for wages. He was also charged with the larceny of clothing from James Waldron, with whom he had roomed. On Tuesday Oakley was sentenced to serve one year in the House of Correction.

Y. M. C. A.

All friends of the Newton Y. M. C. A. are invited to attend the Annual Open House which will be held at the Association Building on the evening of January 1st. An interesting program consisting of drills, tumbling, and swimming by members of the Junior Department has been arranged, with special matches of squash racquets, handball, table tennis, and badminton by Senior Members. At nine o'clock there will be an entertainment by the Musical Merry Makers—Pietro Mordella and his daughter, and Arthur Santelli. "America's Strongest Youth." The committee in charge consists of F. Safford Bacon, chairman, Eldred M. Peterson, Arthur H. Clarke, G. Arthur Linthwaite, Newton C. Burnett, Arthur M. Jacobs, E. J. Pense, Henry C. Pierce, and Albert Rogan.

The Y. M. C. A. has been formed at the Y with William Evans as president and Arthur H. Clarke as secretary-treasurer. New equipment has been installed in the game room and the club will hold meetings on Thursday evenings. At other times the new equipment is available for members of the association.

In the turkey roll-off held just before the holidays, Albert F. Tucker and John C. Ward were the winners with a score of 2125. In second place were Arthur M. Jacobs and G. Arthur Linthwaite with a score of 2114.

Mr. Lewis C. Bills, Chairman of the Bowling Committee, is arranging for the winter tournament to begin on January 3rd.

In the fall bowling tournament just closed Team No. 2 was the winner with 25 points won and 11 lost. Team No. 3 was second with 24 won and 10 lost. The members of the winning team were Frank M. Grant, Clarence W. Moore, H. C. Harrington, Robert G. Gove, and Edward F. Tucker. Team No. 2 was composed of Carl A. Eschbach, Edward Worcester, Bruce L. Gardiner, Ralph H. Washburn, and Lewis C. Bills. Individual prizes were given to the members of the winning teams, and the High Shot trophy went to Lewis C. Bills; the High Average to John Ward; and the High 3 String to Harry Lodge.

Hinds Laundry Co. Has Christmas Party

Employees of the Hinds Laundry Company of Brookline to the number of more than 135 gathered at the Chopstick Restaurant in Boston recently for the annual Christmas party of the local concern. Following a dinner and entertainment features, the company enjoyed a floor show and dancing and a successful and enjoyable affair ended with community singing. Plenty of talent was discovered among the employees, including the O'Brien sisters, Mary and Ann dancers; Mrs. Ann Kent and Miss Regina DiCocco, vocalists, and Miss Margaret Neyhen, interpreter of "The Big Apple." In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Gladys Bottiller, Mrs. Helen Morey and Leo Finnigan.

NEWTONVILLE HOME SOLD

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that final papers have been passed conveying the property located at 101 Highland ave., Newtonville, to Dr. Theodore D. Clark. After extensive alterations have been made Dr. Clark will occupy the property as combined home and office. The house contains ten rooms and three baths, and together with 11,000 square feet of land, and two-car garage, is assessed for $11,500. Title comes through J. Everett Hicks.

If some day you notice an old blanket or hunting coat by the side of the road do not pick it up, as nine times out of ten it has been put there for a purpose. People who own hunting dogs such as Beagles, Coon dogs, or Foxhounds often lose them while hunting. If after a diligent search the dog has not been found, many hunters leave a hunting coat or an old blanket from the car on the ground where the dog was let out.

Returning the next day the master often finds the lost dog curled up asleep on the coat or blanket. I have known cases where a person has lost a dog while hunting and has returned once or twice a day to the discarded coat for a period of three or four days without finding his lost pet, but on the fifth day has found his dog waiting for him.

Some people might wonder what good a hunting dog is if he strays so far that he gets lost. Beagles, when taken out to hunt rabbits, will often run across a deer track and follow it for miles. A Coon dog might run out of hearing, or a fox might lead a Foxhound many miles away from his master. It is not uncommon for a hunting dog to be lost, and one of the best ways to recover the animal is to leave some personal article of clothing on the ground where the dog was last seen, or where he was let out of the car.

England has many very good dog laws. One of them is, that if you are found guilty of cruelty to an animal you are deprived of the right to own a dog. Members of your household are also affected by this rule, and once convicted it is extremely difficult to have the ban lifted.

While most dog owners buy hamburger for their pets, it is not the best kind of raw meat for their diets. Raw stew beef is better for a dog. Meat can only be digested by the acids of

Rock Crystal Is Hardest of the Common Minerals

True rock crystal is a very pure transparent quartz, and quartz is a common mineral compound consisting of silicon and oxygen. It is a constituent of many types of rock and is the hardest of the common minerals, observes a writer in the Detroit News. The most prevalent form is a milky white, but there are several other colors caused by impurities, which are considered semi-precious stones or ornamental material. The varieties used as gems include amethyst, which is violet; false topaz, pale yellow in tint; as well as rose and smoky quartz. Rock crystal is often cut into vases, balls, statues and beads. The Bristol or rhinestone diamond is rock crystal cut like a diamond. It is obtained mostly from Japan, Switzerland, Brazil, New York and Arkansas.

The glassware commonly called crystal or rock crystal is really glass, which consists of sand, crushed quartz or flint, lime, carbonate of soda or carbonate of potassium. Glass tableware is made from "flint glass," which contains lead that gives it a characteristic brilliancy and weight.

According to the New International Encyclopedia, a wine glass is made from a glowing bulb as large as a peach. A breath swells it into a hollow sphere the size of the bowl. The gatherer attaches a small knob of soft glass and draws it out into the stem and on the end of this presses a bell-shaped base previously hardened, which is flattened out into a stable foundation. Shears cut free the top of the bowl, and the edges are rounded by a special blowpipe or electrically heated wire. Sometimes machinery is used to cut off, round and polish the edges. The costlier kind of table glass has the stem drawn out of the original sphere and the base is blown separately like a tiny disk of crown glass and is united by its heat to the upper part.

Companies Incorporate to Limit Obligations

If you saw the words "Naanloze Vennootschap"—N. V. for short—after the name of a company, you probably would be stumped as to what it meant unless you belong to a Dutch family. In Holland, however, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, it would be simple. Naanloze Vennootschap—means "Inc.," which is the abbreviation of "incorporated."

The British and Canadian "Ltd.," which stands for "Limited," and means the same as "Inc.," is more familiar. In France it is "S. A.," for "Societe Anonyme." The Italian, Spanish, South American, and Mexican companies also have "S. A."

Germany's designation for "Incorporated" is "A. G.," of "Aktien Gesellschaft." Sweden's "A. B." is "Aktie Bolaget." Japan has "K. K.," which stands for "Kabushiki Kaisha."

The British term "Limited" is more expressive than the American "Incorporated." Companies are incorporated to limit the legal liability of their owners to the amount they have invested in stock. In unincorporated partnerships the legal liability of the partners is not thus limited.

"Who Wrote Shakespeare?"

an Ancient Controversy

The controversy over the authorship of Shakespeare's works has its origin many years ago and appears from time to time. According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, cites a writer in the Detroit News, the idea that the plays and poems ascribed to Shakespeare were really the work of Lord Bacon appears to have been first presented by Herbert Lawrence in his work, "The Life and Adventures of Common Sense," (1769). The thesis appeared again in 1843 in J. C. Hart's "The Romance of Yachting," and in the article, "Who Wrote Shakespeare?" printed in Chambers' Journal (August 5, 1852). The first definite claim for Bacon's authorship was set forth in a letter by William Henry Smith, which was printed in extended form in 1857, under the title, "Bacon and Shakespeare." The earls of Rutland, Derby and Oxford have also been declared the real authors, at various times, and Bacon's claim has been extended to include the works of practically all the Elizabethan dramatists. In the United States, Judge Nathaniel Holmes wrote the book, "The Authorship of Shakespeare," and the controversy was continued by I. Donnelly's "The Great Cryptogram," which was based on the theorem that Bacon had embedded in the plays a cipher narrative declaring his authorship.

The various writers based their claims more or less on the following points: 1. It was assumed that Shakespeare did not have the educational or cultural background to write drama, while Bacon did. 2. Similar phraseology in the works of both Bacon and Shakespeare tended to show both to be the work of the same man, but investigation showed that such phraseology was common to all Elizabethan drama. None of the investigators have been able to prove that Bacon or any of the other suggested claimants ever wrote a line of blank verse.

David Livingstone Long a Missionary, Explorer

David Livingstone was a Scotchman, born in Lanarkshire in 1817, and when a boy he worked in a cotton factory. In 1840 he landed in Port Natal, South Africa, as a medical missionary of the London Missionary society, and became an associate of Rev. Robert Moffat, whose daughter he afterward married.

For sixteen years he labored in the mission work, and during that time discovered Lake Ngami in the northwestern Bechuanaland, and crossed the continent from the Zambezi river to Loanda, a journey which occupied eighteen months.

While in England in 1857 Livingstone published "Missionary Travels and Researches in South Africa." Returning to Africa he devoted himself to exploration, and in 1865 resolved to find the sources of the Nile. During the remainder of his life, observed a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, there were frequent periods when he was not heard from for months at a time, and it was during one of these protracted absences that Henry M. Stanley began his travels to search for him and found him in great destitution at Ujiji, on Lake Tanganyika.

Dr. Livingstone died in 1873 while exploring the river system of the Zambezi in the belief that these were the headwaters of the Nile, having penetrated to the south shores of Lake Bangweulu Rhodesia. In 1874 his body was interred in Westminster abbey.

Pearls Cannot Be Given Life

Pearls are things which never die. They are either born still-born and dead, or living. Still-born pearls with their dull, dead look can never be revived, according to a pearl specialist. This doesn't mean that all pearls that look dead are really so, though it takes a real expert to know when looking at them just after they have been extracted from the oyster. In most cases, the upper layer, or layers, of an oyster are not at all pretty. Having been built by the oyster in successive layers of congealed fluid, each layer has its own characteristic. The expert pearl jeweler's job is to see what layers lie below those which are uppermost, and to decide what tint and what layer will give the greatest value to the pearl. And then to remove the less beautiful layers without damaging the lower, richer ones.

Old Method to Test Gold

The ancient test-stone, needles and acid method of determining the karat quality of gold never has been improved upon as a convenient test. Starting with the fact that pure gold is called 24 karat; that less than 24 karats indicates the relative amounts of gold and alloy in the metal (18 karat gold is 18-24ths gold and 6-24ths alloy); and that nitric acid dissolves alloy but not gold, it is seen readily why old methods are still in use.

Enamel Romantic Product

The ingredients from which the enameled surface of plumbing fixtures are made come from many different parts of the world. Tin oxide from the Malay States, kryptolite from Greenland, barium carbonate from Germany are among the 20 elements which are combined to make the glass-like surface.

Continuity of Wedding

Ring and Eternal Love

When the bridegroom places the wedding ring on his chosen one's finger and says, "With this ring I thee wed," he little realizes the history that lies behind the simple wedding band.

Long before the ring became a symbol of matrimony, it had a mystic significance with the ancients, states a writer in the Washington Star. The circular continuity of the ring was accepted as a type of eternity and hence of the stability of affection. Often the rings were inscribed with loving wishes.

Coming up to the middle ages, the ring often was used at solemn betrothal ceremonies. Frequently lovers who were about to separate for long periods of time demonstrated their lasting affection by going through the ring ceremony.

Even greater significance to the custom was given by the invention of the linked ring. Made with a double and often a triple link which turned upon a pivot, it could be turned into one solid ring. It was customary to break these rings apart at the betrothal. This solemn ceremony was done in front of a witness. The prospective bride and her bridegroom each kept a ring while the witness was given the central one of the trio. When the marriage contract was fulfilled at the altar the three parts of the ring were again united and the ring used at the ceremony.

A custom that has survived in a revised way to the modern day was the habit of engraving simple sentiments in the nuptial hoop. Rhymes to rival Ogden Nash were inscribed in many sixteenth and seventeenth century wedding rings.

"Our contract was Heaven's act," "In thee, my choice, I do rejoice," and "God Above, Encrease Our Love," express the medieval version of the couple's happy sentiments.

Infants React to Sound

More Than to the Light
Every child when born is both deaf and dumb. From such an inauspicious beginning the normal child's auditory powers begin to function, and are closely related to the development of voice and speech, observes a writer in the Washington Post.

Hearing begins from the first day, occurring when the baby's cries force air through the Eustachian tubes of the mouth to the middle ears. This filling with air of the middle ears causes them to respond to vibrations of sound against the eardrums.

Once the sense of hearing is developed, it is very acute and remains so, unless the ear is attacked by disease or is injured. For instance, infants react more definitely to sound than to light. A strong light may only cause a sleeping baby to turn in order to avoid it. But a loud noise will awaken the baby, and perhaps frighten it or throw it into convulsions. Therefore, quiet is imperative for the small child during its rest.

Practically all babies are born with normal ears and prospects of good hearing. A small number, because of hereditary weaknesses, or other prenatal cause, may be born with defective hearing and speech organs. Determination of this lies solely with the family doctor or an ear specialist.

Red River Colored by Clay

The Red river of the North (there's a Red river in Texas and Oklahoma) is often colored by the clay through which it runs. Hence the name. Rising in Minnesota, it flows 350 miles almost straight north into Lake Winnipeg. In spring the headwaters thaw while farther north it is still frozen solidly. Floods result. Before railroads came the river connected Canada with the Mississippi river. Small steamers went up it to Lake Traverse and thence down the Minnesota river to the Mississippi.

Frigid Finger Reaches Low

New Zealand breaks the rule that glaciers usually stop near the lower limits of perpetual snow, above the timber line. Some of its rivers of ice wind over wooded slopes to end only among tree ferns and other sub-tropical vegetation. Fox glacier reaches down to 670 feet above sea level. Its surface is rough with patches of rock debris and with the sharp ridges of great crevasses.

Kipling's Autographs

The late Rudyard Kipling once was asked by his grocer to pay his bills by check. Mr. Kipling did so, then noticed the checks never came back from the bank. He investigated, found the butcher was selling the checks as autographs. Since the author rarely autographed anything, his name on a check was worth more than the check itself!

First Lamp Patent in 1798

In 1798 the first lamp patent was issued to John Love, of South Carolina, for a tallow lamp. The earliest patented lamp known is the nursery lamp made by William Howe, of Boston, dated 1812. The second earliest example appeared nearly two decades later, in 1831, and the patent was issued to John W. Schulz and William Trull. Between the granting of these two patents twenty others had been issued.

Newtonville Church Women's Ass'n To Meet Wednesday

The Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Mrs. Gorham Harris, president, will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, January 5, 1938, at the church. Mrs. James Brickett is in charge of the handwork and serving period beginning at 10 a. m.

The Sewing Circle Mrs. H. M. Waybright, chairman, will serve luncheon at 12:30. In charge of the dining room will be Mrs. Robert E. Eames, and decorations Mrs. C. P. Frail.

At 1:30 p. m. the afternoon period will open with devotions led by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer. Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, secretary of the Foreign Missions Board of Congregational Churches will speak on "Youth Faces a New World." Mrs. Virginia Gardner Batchelder, soprano, will sing a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Mary Kimball Ball.

Several new members are enjoying the association this fall and more are expected to join at this meeting. A new members tea is planned in the near future by the Membership Chairman, Mrs. Arthur Spence.

The Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, due to its large membership, is divided into groups for working purposes. Each group is called a Circle and has a Leader acting as chairman. At a recent meeting of Circle Leaders at the Association President Mrs. Gorham Harris' home, many interesting activities for the coming year were planned.

Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. J. Mace Andrews are co-leaders of the Bible Study Circle which meets on the second Wednesday of each month for study and discussion. Dr. Eddy spoke at the first meeting this fall and Mrs. Eddy is speaking to the group at this month's meeting, both meetings being held at the Eddy residence.

Mrs. Wynn C. Fairfield is leader of the World Friendship Circle which meets on the third Thursday of each month at her home. At the last meeting Mrs. Fairfield gave a report of the Northfield Conference of the past summer and the Circle also enjoyed a talk by Mrs. Arthur Robinson who has very recently arrived from China. A lending library is a valuable feature of the work of this group. As a basis for a large part of the year's study, this Circle will use the two books, "The Moslem World, and Rural America."

The Home Reading and Book Review Circle, led by Mrs. George W. Auryansen, who is arranging for comprehensive reviews of selected books to be given at the various meetings of the Circle this winter. Reading lists have been distributed and much interest is manifest.

Mrs. Ernest Kuebler and Mrs. Charles Abrams are co-leaders of the Play and Players Circle. Mrs. Kuebler reports that Mr. Charles Wingate, a retired actor now living in Newtonville will tell her circle of the theater of his day. Many interesting plans have been made for the year's work of this group, among which is the writing by each member of an original one-act play. The meetings are held at the homes of members on the third Thursday mornings.

The Why and Wherefore Circle (or child study group) has as its leader Mrs. Louis Fowler. This week at their meeting Dr. J. Mace Andrews is to address the group and illustrate his lecture with slides showing the psychology of children's drawings. Meetings are held at Mrs. Fowler's home on Highland ave., usually the second Wednesday of the month.

Mrs. Howard Waybright is leader of the Sewing Circle. Newton Hospital has already benefited from the work of this group. They meet the second Wednesday, all day, and accomplish much splendid work.

The Knitting Circle has Mrs. Robert Lindquist for its leader, who claims sociability as a strong asset of her group. They meet, third Wednesday afternoons, become better acquainted over knitting needles and so are welcomed into church activity.

Miss Louise Sherman is the Touring Circle leader. For its first expedition this fall, the Governor Gore Mansion in Waltham was visited. Next week the tour will be to Perkins Institute for the Blind in Watertown.

The Hobby Circle has Mrs. Austin Decatur for its leader. Hobbies of all kinds are discussed and demonstrated. The first meeting this season featured "Reading Aloud for Fun." Meetings at Mrs. Decatur's home are held on second Wednesday mornings. Last but not least, there is a Thimble Circle led by Mrs. Donald Jewett. The name itself explains its work. Various articles are made for distribution where most needed.

At all the Circle meetings some part of the time is given over to coffee, tea and becoming better acquainted with one's neighbors.

Dormice Found in Old World

In England and other parts of the Old World, "dormice" are found. These small, squirrel-like animals eat seeds, berries and nuts. They make above-ground nests in bushes, forming them of plant material. When cold weather comes, they go into their snug nests, and help keep one another warm by resting close together.

How Animals Spend Winter

Most animals run about, or fly, during the winter, but others find a place to spend weeks or months in sleeping. Frogs take a long rest after the weather grows cold. They go to the bottoms of ponds and burrow deeply into the mud. Some frogs live to the age of ten or twelve years.
